In the first quarter of the year, Luxottica delivered outstanding results providing the foundation for another year of strong growth in sales and profitability. The organic performance of the business was very solid, with foreign exchange rates providing a material tailwind and leading to record sales and operating income, the best ever achieved in the history of the Group.

Luxottica's new leadership has started to implement organizational changes in key businesses and geographies with the goal of further integrating the Group's operations and making the growth strategy even more effective.

Strategic priorities at the top of the Group's agenda include growing share in emerging markets, developing and expanding the brand portfolio and strengthening retail and e-commerce channels.

Emerging markets: emerging markets represent a great opportunity and is a top priority for the Group. Following on the successful strategy implemented in Brazil, a new leadership structure based on a country General Manager has been put in place in China which is aimed at achieving fast growth and generating synergies among all the business areas.

Oakley integration: integration of Oakley has begun with a focus on production systems and sales channels along with the reorganization of the business in order to provide the Oakley brand with the same organizational structure and operating efficiency implemented throughout the rest of the Luxottica Group. This is expected to generate significant synergies in the range of Euro 100 million once fully deployed. The Oakley Retail and Apparel business is also changing with new leadership and the goal of doubling both revenues and the number of O stores over the next three years.

Retail: the excellent performance of Sunglass Hut, coupled with the recent significant improvements of LensCrafters in North America, have accelerated the plan to invest approximately Euro 200 million per year for the next five years (totalling approximately Euro 1 billion) to open or remodel stores. Before year-end, a new LensCrafters format will be launched in North America, with the plan of progressively rolling it out in 2016.

E-commerce: the Group remains focused on the expansion of new distribution channels, particularly e-commerce. The excellent results of Ray-Ban.com, Oakley.com and SunglassHut.com have inspired a reflection on what is the best strategic and organizational formula to transform e-commerce into a structural growth driver with the ambition of becoming a relevant part of the Group's revenues in the mid-term.

We have just closed an exceptional quarter, our first as a team, reaching some important financial and organizational milestones, - commented Massimo Vian and Adil Khan, Chief Executive Officers of Luxottica.

From an organizational standpoint, we implemented several changes, which we believe will accelerate growth and profitability. We initiated the integration of Oakley's salesforce into Luxottica's organization, creating a single market-facing team that will give the brand more firepower in strategic markets such as North America and Europe. And we introduced a new country leadership in China, responsible for the performance of the Wholesale, Retail and e-commerce businesses, allowing the Group to pursue accelerated expansion with a more holistic approach in the important Chinese market.

Our Wholesale Division performed well across brands and in all geographies, particularly in North America and emerging markets, boosted by the Group's first Michael Kors collection, which made an impressive debut around the world. In addition, the positive mix effect and efficiency gains have resulted in significant higher margins.

The Retail Division also had a solid performance for the quarter, especially in North America where LensCrafters reinforced its recent sales improvements and Sunglass Hut continued double-digit growth worldwide.

New creative and groundbreaking collections introduced by the Group have drawn interest and sparked enthusiasm among clients, which, combined with the highest levels of service, provides a distinct competitive advantage.

We're pleased with our results for the first four months of the year and a solid order book bodes well for expected growth over the next few quarters.

Group performance for the first quarter of 2015¹

Group adjusted sales^{3,5} rose by 22%, or +7.2% at constant exchange rates², to Euro 2.2 billion, a record level for a single quarter. This performance was driven by acceleration in both divisions from 2014 as evidenced by net sales increasing by 16.8% in Wholesale and, on an adjusted basis^{3,5}, by 26.4% in Retail.

Group operating income soared by 33% to Euro 358 million, with an operating margin now at 15.9%^{3,5}, expanding 120bps^{3,5} versus the first quarter of last year. Operating margin grew by 100bps to 25.1% in Wholesale and 110bps^{3,5}, on an adjusted basis, to 13.1%^{3,5} in Retail.

Net income reached Euro 210 million, recording 34% growth over the prior period. This generated EPS of 0.44 Euro (US$0.50 at the exchange rate of /US$ 1.1261).

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

Free cash flow generation³ was equal to Euro 38 million (after an extraordinary tax payment of Euro 29 million) for the three months ended March 31, 2015, compared with Euro 60 million in the same quarter of the previous year. This was mainly due to the continuous improvements in profitability and working capital management. Net debt³ at the end of the quarter was Euro 1,005 million (Euro 1,013 million at December 31, 2014), with a net debt/adjusted EBITDA^{3,5} ratio remaining stable at 0.6x.

North America

North America remains a sweet spot for the Group, recording +29%^{3,5} growth in sales at current exchange rates, with both divisions driving this strong growth. Wholesale results were also boosted by the launch of Michael Kors, which outperformed the Group's expectations. Retail comparable store sales⁴ grew across key retail chains, with LensCrafters at +5.9%, confirming the improvement seen in the second half of 2014, and Sunglass Hut accelerating at +7.4% compared to the second half of last year.

Europe

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

Sales in Europe accelerated, growing by 8.5% at current exchange rates. The performance of the Wholesale division was mainly fueled by Italy, France, Spain, UK and Turkey. Within Retail, Sunglass Hut confirmed its growth trend by posting double digit comparable store sales⁴ in Continental Europe.

Asia-Pacific

Growth in the Asia-Pacific region (+19% at current exchange rates) was driven by China, India and Southeast Asia, where revenues grew by over 30%. Meanwhile, LensCrafters sales in China continue to grow double digits. In Australia where a reorganization process has started, including a change in OPSM leadership to better compete in this increasingly challenging environment, comparable store sales⁴ grew 1.4%, with a mixed performance between Sunglass Hut (growing double digits) and OPSM (marginally negative). The Group continues to pursue its wholesale expansion strategy with the upcoming opening of a new commercial subsidiary in Indonesia.

Latin America

Latin America grew by 22% at current exchange rates, with both Wholesale and Retail driving this excellent performance. Brazil, one of largest wholesale markets for Luxottica, recorded +18% growth despite prolonged macroeconomic difficulties. In Mexico, synergies between Wholesale and Retail have supported revenue growth of over 38%, an exceptional result, especially in light of the Group's 20th anniversary in the country. The Group continues its wholesale expansion strategy in the region with the opening of new subsidiaries in Colombia and Chile before year-end.

Non-IFRS Measures: Adjusted measures

In order to provide a supplemental comparison of current period results of operations to prior periods, we have adjusted for certain transactions or events.

We have made such adjustments to the following measures: EBITDA, EBITDA margin, net sales, cost of sales, operating income, operating margin, net income and earnings per share.

For comparative purposes, the foregoing measures have been adjusted to include sales of the EyeMed division in 2015. Following the modification of an EyeMed reinsurance agreement with an existing underwriter, the Group assumes less reinsurance revenues and less claims expense. The impact of the new contract for the three month period ended March 31, 2015 was Euro 42.0 million (the EyeMed Adjustment).

In addition, management has made adjustments to fiscal year 2014 measures as described in the footnotes to the tables that contain such fiscal year 2014 data.

The Company believes that these adjusted measures are useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance compared with that of other companies in its industry because they exclude the impact of certain items that are not relevant to the Company's operating performance.

The adjusted measures referenced above are not measures of performance in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS). We include these adjusted measures in this presentation in order to provide a supplemental view of operations that excludes items that are unusual, infrequent or unrelated to our ongoing core operations.

These adjusted measures are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. Rather, these non-IFRS measures should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company. The Company cautions that these adjusted measures are not defined terms under IFRS and their definitions should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors. Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculating these adjusted measures may differ from methods used by other companies.

The Company recognizes that there are limitations in the usefulness of adjusted measures due to the subjective nature of items excluded by management in calculating adjusted comparisons. We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using these adjusted measures as a comparative tool, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance.

See the tables on the following pages for a reconciliation of the adjusted measures discussed above to their most directly comparable IFRS financial measures or, in the case of adjusted EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA margin, to EBITDA and EBITDA margin, respectively, which are also non-IFRS measures. For a discussion of EBITDA and EBITDA margin and a reconciliation of EBITDA and EBITDA margin to their most directly comparable IFRS financial measures, see the tables on the pages immediately following the reconciliation of the adjusted measures.

Non-IFRS Measure: EBITDA and EBITDA margin

EBITDA represents net income before non-controlling interest, taxes, other income/expense, depreciation and amortization. EBITDA margin means EBITDA divided by net sales.

The Company believes that EBITDA is useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance compared with that of other companies in its industry. Our calculation of EBITDA allows us to compare our operating results with those of other companies without giving effect to financing, income taxes and the accounting effects of capital spending, which items may vary for different companies for reasons unrelated to the overall operating performance of a company's business.

EBITDA and EBITDA margin are not measures of performance under International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS). We include them in this presentation in order to:

- * improve transparency for investors;
- * assist investors in their assessment of the Company's operating performance and its ability to refinance its debt as it matures and incur additional indebtedness to invest in new business opportunities;
- * assist investors in their assessment of the Company's cost of debt;
- * ensure that these measures are fully understood in light of how the Company evaluates its operating results and leverage;
- * properly define the metrics used and confirm their calculation; and
- * share these measures with all investors at the same time.

EBITDA and EBITDA margin are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. Rather, these non-IFRS measures should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company.

The Company cautions that these measures are not defined terms under IFRS and their definitions should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors. Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculating EBITDA may differ from methods used by other companies. The Company recognizes that the usefulness of EBITDA has certain limitations, including:

- * EBITDA does not include interest expense. Because we have borrowed money in order to finance our operations, interest expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate profits and cash flows. Therefore, any measure that excludes interest expense may have material limitations;
- * EBITDA does not include depreciation and amortization expense. Because we use capital assets, depreciation and amortization expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate profits. Therefore, any measure that excludes depreciation and expense may have material limitations;
- * EBITDA does not include provision for income taxes. Because the payment of income taxes is a necessary element of our costs, any measure that excludes tax expense may have material limitations;
- * EBITDA does not reflect cash expenditures or future requirements for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

- * EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, working capital needs; and
- * EBITDA does not allow us to analyze the effect of certain recurring and non-recurring items that materially affect our net income or loss.

We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using EBITDA as a comparative tool, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance and leverage.

See the table on the following page for a reconciliation of EBITDA to net income, which is the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure, as well as the calculation of EBITDA margin.

The impact of the new contract was Euro 42.0 million and 46.6 million for the three-month period ended March 31 2015 and in the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2014 , respectively.

2 Exclude costs for the tax audit relating to Luxottica S.r.l. (2008-2011 tax years) of approximately Euro 30 million in 2014.

3 Exclude non-recurring costs related to the departure of the former Group CEOs of approximately Euro 20 million resulting in a Euro 20 million impact on operating income and a Euro 14.5 million impact on net income in FY 2014.

Non-IFRS Measure: Net Debt to EBITDA ratio

Net debt to EBITDA ratio: Net debt means the sum of bank overdrafts, current portion of long-term debt and long-term debt, less cash. EBITDA represents net income before non-controlling interests, taxes, other income/expense, depreciation and amortization.

The Company believes that EBITDA is useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance compared with that of other companies in its industry.

Our calculation of EBITDA allows us to compare our operating results with those of other companies without giving effect to financing, income taxes and the accounting effects of capital spending, which items may vary for different companies for reasons unrelated to the overall operating performance of a company's business. The ratio of net debt to EBITDA is a measure used by management to assess the Company's level of leverage, which affects our ability to refinance our debt as it matures and incur additional indebtedness to invest in new business opportunities.

The ratio also allows management to assess the cost of existing debt since it affects the interest rates charged by the Company's lenders.

EBITDA and ratio of net debt to EBITDA are not measures of performance under International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS).

We include them in this presentation in order to:

- * improve transparency for investors;
- * assist investors in their assessment of the Company's operating performance and its ability to refinance its debt as it matures and incur additional indebtedness to invest in new business opportunities;
- * assist investors in their assessment of the Company's cost of debt;
- * ensure that these measures are fully understood in light of how the Company evaluates its operating results and leverage;
- * properly define the metrics used and confirm their calculation; and
- * share these measures with all investors at the same time.

EBITDA and ratio of net debt to EBITDA are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS.

Rather, these non-IFRS measures should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company.

The Company cautions that these measures are not defined terms under IFRS and their definitions should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors.

Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculating EBITDA and the ratio of net debt to EBITDA may differ from methods used by other companies.

The Company recognizes that the usefulness of EBITDA and the ratio of net debt to EBITDA as evaluative tools may have certain limitations, including:

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

* EBITDA does not include interest expense. Because we have borrowed money in order to finance our operations, interest expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate profits and cash flows.

Therefore, any measure that excludes interest expense may have material limitations;

* EBITDA does not include depreciation and amortization expense. Because we use capital assets, depreciation and amortization expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate profits.

Therefore, any measure that excludes depreciation and expense may have material limitations;

* EBITDA does not include provision for income taxes. Because the payment of income taxes is a necessary element of our costs, any measure that excludes tax expense may have material limitations;

* EBITDA does not reflect cash expenditures or future requirements for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;

* EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, working capital needs;

* EBITDA does not allow us to analyze the effect of certain recurring and non-recurring items that materially affect our net income or loss; and

* The ratio of net debt to EBITDA is net of cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash and short-term investments, thereby reducing our debt position.

Because we may not be able to use our cash to reduce our debt on a dollar-for-dollar basis, this measure may have material limitations.

We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using EBITDA and the ratio of net debt to EBITDA as two of several comparative tools, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance and leverage.

See the table on the following page for a reconciliation of net debt to long-term debt, which is the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure, as well as the calculation of the ratio of net debt to EBITDA.

Non-IFRS Measures: Free Cash Flow

Free cash flow represents net income before non-controlling interests, taxes, other income/expense, depreciation and amortization (i.e. EBITDA – see table on the earlier page) plus or minus the decrease/(increase) in working capital over the prior period, less capital expenditures, plus or minus interest income/(expense) and extraordinary items, minus taxes paid. The Company believes that free cash flow is useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance compared with other companies in its industry. In particular, our calculation of free cash flow provides a clearer picture of the Company's ability to generate net cash from operations, which is used for mandatory debt service requirements, for funding discretionary investments, for paying dividends or pursuing other strategic opportunities.

Free cash flow is not a measure of performance under International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS).

We include it in this presentation in order to:

- * Improve transparency for investors;
- * Assist investors in their assessment of the Company's operating performance and its ability to generate cash from operations in excess of its cash expenses;
- * Ensure that this measure is fully understood in light of how the Company evaluates its operating results;
- * Properly define the metrics used and confirm their calculation; and
- * Share this measure with all investors at the same time.

Free cash flow is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS.

Rather, this non-IFRS measure should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company.

The Company cautions that this measure is not a defined term under IFRS and its definition should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors.

Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculation of free cash flow may differ from methods used by other companies.

The Company recognizes that the usefulness of free cash flow as an evaluative tool may have certain limitations, including:

- The manner in which the Company calculates free cash flow may differ from that of other companies, which limits its usefulness as a comparative measure;

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

- Free cash flow does not represent the total increase or decrease in the net debt balance for the period since it excludes, among other things, cash used for funding discretionary investments and to pursue strategic opportunities during the period and any impact of the exchange rate changes; and
- Free cash flow can be subject to adjustment at the Company's discretion if the Company takes steps or adopts policies that increase or diminish its current liabilities and/or changes to working capital.

We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using free cash flow as one of several comparative tools, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance.

See the table on the following page for a reconciliation of free cash flow to EBITDA and the table on the earlier page for a reconciliation of EBITDA to net income, which is the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure.
