E-mail Cover Note Exelon Acquires Constellation Energy (PA)

April 28, 2011

Dear [stakeholder name]:

I want to personally reach out and share the exciting merger news we announced this week.

Exelon has reached a definitive agreement to acquire Constellation Energy Group, creating the number one competitive energy provider in the nation. If you're not familiar with Constellation, they are the nation's leading supplier of competitive power and natural gas and energy products and services for home and business, with customers in 38 states, plus Washington, DC. They also have more than 12,000 megawatts of generating capacity and own Maryland's largest utility - Baltimore Gas and Electric Company (BGE).

Following the completion of the merger, the combined company will continue to have the Exelon name - and it will be poised for future growth through an unmatched combination of the nation's largest clean energy fleet with the nation's leading competitive retail/wholesale energy business.

I've attached the news release we distributed on this merger, but here are a few important details for Pennsylvania:

Though there will be moves into and out of Pennsylvania related to this merger, we expect Exelon employment in the state (approximately 6,200 jobs) to remain stable, with jobs moving to Baltimore offset by transfers to Pennsylvania from other states.

Pennsylvania will remain the headquarters of PECO; jobs at PECO and at Exelon's nuclear plants in Pennsylvania will not be affected by the merger.

Exelon's facility in Kennett Square will remain a large and vital headquarters facility. It will continue to be the headquarters of Exelon Power, and will become the headquarters of Exelon Nuclear, with the associated growth in jobs transferred from Illinois. Exelon Power Team will transition over the next 2-3 years to a new headquarters in Baltimore.

Between now and our expected closing in the first quarter of 2012, we will be reaching out to key stakeholders, including federal and state regulators, to share information about the merger and demonstrate the value it brings.

Please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions. Also, we're setting up a merger-related website, which we will update with any new developments:

Sincerely,

[NAME]

Cautionary Statements Regarding Forward-Looking Information

Except for the historical information contained herein, certain of the matters discussed in this communication constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, both as amended by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Words such as may, will, anticipate, estimate, expect, project, intend, plan, believe, target, and terms of similar substance used in connection with any discussion of future plans, actions, or events identify forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements regarding benefits of the proposed merger, integration plans and expected synergies, the expected timing of completion of the transaction, anticipated future financial and operating performance and results, including estimates for growth. These statements are based on the current expectations of management of Exelon Corporation (Exelon) and Constellation Energy Group, Inc. (Constellation), as applicable. There are a number of risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements included in this communication. For example, (1) the companies may be unable to obtain shareholder approvals required for the merger; (2) the companies may be unable to obtain regulatory approvals required for the merger, or required regulatory approvals may delay the merger or result in the imposition of conditions that could have a material adverse effect on the combined company or cause the companies to abandon the merger; (3) conditions to the closing of the merger may not be satisfied; (4) an unsolicited offer of another company to acquire assets or capital stock of Exelon or Constellation could interfere with the merger; (5) problems may arise in successfully integrating the businesses of the companies, which may result in the combined company not operating as effectively and efficiently as expected; (6) the combined company may be unable to achieve cost-cutting synergies or it may take longer than expected to achieve those synergies; (7) the merger may involve unexpected costs, unexpected liabilities or unexpected delays, or the effects of purchase accounting may be different from the companies' expectations; (8) the credit ratings of the combined company or its subsidiaries may be different from what the companies expect; (9) the businesses of the companies may suffer as a result of uncertainty surrounding the merger; (10) the companies may not realize the values expected to be obtained for properties expected or required to be divested; (11) the industry may be subject to future regulatory or legislative actions that could adversely affect the companies; and (12) the companies may be adversely affected by other economic, business, and/or competitive factors. Other unknown or unpredictable factors could also have material adverse effects on future results, performance or achievements of the combined company. Discussions of some of these other important factors and assumptions are contained in Exelon's and Constellation's respective filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), and available at the SEC's website at www.sec.gov, including: (1) Exelon's 2010 Annual Report on Form 10-K in (a) ITEM 1A. Risk Factors, (b) ITEM 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and (c) ITEM 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data: Note 18; (2) Exelon's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended March 31, 2011 in (a) Part II, Other Information, ITEM 1A. Risk Factors, (b) Part I, Financial Information, ITEM 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and (c) Part I, Financial Information, ITEM 1. Financial Statements: Note 12; and (3) Constellation's 2010 Annual Report on Form 10-K in (a) ITEM 1A. Risk Factors, (b) ITEM 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and (c) ITEM 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data: Note 12. These risks, as well as other risks associated with the proposed merger, will be more fully discussed in the joint proxy statement/prospectus that will be included in the Registration Statement on Form S-4 that Exelon will file with the SEC in connection with the proposed merger. In light of these risks, uncertainties, assumptions and factors, the forward-looking events discussed in this communication may not occur. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this communication. Neither Exelon nor Constellation undertake any obligation to publicly release any revision to its forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this communication.
