» Oklahoma City Update

In light of Monday's devastating storms in the Oklahoma City area, we wanted to provide you with an update on our team members. We are grateful to share that all of our Oklahoma City family is safe and accounted for. However, some lost personal possessions and some extended family members have lost housing. Our Customer group has identified Agents from Dallas/Fort Worth who are willing to help out the Oklahoma City operation so these team members can focus on their families and loved ones. There are numerous ways that you can help. Find out more on classic Jetnet.

» Safety Poster Art Contest Offers Chance to Win Apple iPad Mini

June is National Safety Month, and Safety, Security & Environmental's Employee Safety Department is sponsoring its third annual Safety Poster Contest. The contest is open systemwide to children of American and American Eagle employees. Young artists ages 6-17 can enter their artwork for a chance to win an Apple iPad Mini. Employees without a child in the specified age range can sponsor one. The deadline for entries in this year's contest is Tuesday, July 2. For full contest rules and an entry form, visit the Employee Safety page.

» Let's Give a Round of Applause

This is my third opportunity to enjoy being selected as an Applause winner; and only proves that we in Premium Services truly have unique opportunities to make a difference in the customer experience," said Tracy Schaaf, Premium Services Representative ZRH, upon learning she was an Applause winner. New American Planes Give Foreign Carriers Serious Competition

For years now, profitable foreign-based airlines have offered newer, more luxurious aircraft than their U.S.-based competitors. But finally, the remaining legacy U.S. airlines are stepping up their game to compete with foreign-based carriers. You can experience this new world of air travel on American's new Boeing 777-300ER. It's a really cool ride on the 777-300ER, which currently flies, or will soon fly from, New York JFK, Dallas/Fort Worth and Los Angeles to London Heathrow, and both New York JFK and Dallas/Fort Worth to Sao Paulo. And lest you think that the goodies are confined to business and first class only, a ride on the 777-300ER will dispel that quickly. All cabins have new inflight entertainment and WiFi. But not just any entertainment or WiFi. The programming is amazingly extensive and hip, and the WiFi works domestically, as well as internationally.

Emissions Deal May Not Come Before EU Deadline

Hope is fading for a global deal to regulate the airline industry's greenhouse gas emissions ahead of a September deadline. Last November, the European Union (EU) suspended its controversial Emissions Trading Scheme (ETS) to force all airlines to buy carbon credits for any flight arriving in or departing from European airspace. The scheme pitted European states against China, India, the United States and others, who said it violated their sovereignty. The EU said it had to act, after more than a decade of inaction on the environmental impact of aviation. European officials gave the United Nations' agency that governs aviation, the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO), more time to craft a compromise in the form of a global-regulatory regime. European officials have vowed to bring the ETS back into force unless they see real progress by the ICAO assembly, which runs Sept. 24 to Oct. 4. But there is still disagreement on how to charge for emissions from flights that cross borders; how to deal fairly with developing countries; and whether airlines, states or both should be subject to regulation. All those issues have stalled efforts to reach a compromise.

Merger Q&A

Q. Will American continue investing in fleet renewal efforts, technologies and other products as the airline has in the last 18 months?

A. Absolutely. Together, American and US Airways will have even greater ability to invest in our business. We expect to continue to introduce new products and technologies to deliver a comfortable, connected travel experience for our customers.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This document includes forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements may be identified by words such as may, will, expect, intend, anticipate, believe, estimate, plan, project, should, would, continue, seek, target, guidance, outlook, forecast and other similar words. These forward-looking statements are based on and US Airways' current objectives, beliefs and expectations, and they are subject to significant risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results and financial position and timing of certain events to differ materially from the information in the forward-looking statements. The following factors, among others, could cause actual results and financial position and timing of certain events to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements: the challenges and costs of the proposed transaction, including integrating operations and achieving anticipated synergies; the price of, market for and potential market price volatility of common stock of the ultimate parent entity following the closing of the proposed transaction; significant liquidity requirements and substantial levels of indebtedness of the combined company following the closing; potential limitations on the use of certain tax attributes following the closing; failure of the proposed transaction to be completed; and other economic, business, competitive, and/or regulatory factors affecting the business of the combined company after the closing and the businesses of US Airways and AMR generally, including those set forth in the filings of US Airways and AMR with the SEC, especially in the Risk Factors and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations sections of their respective annual reports on Form 10-K and quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, their current reports on Form 8-K and other SEC filings, including the registration statement and the proxy statement/prospectus related to the proposed transaction. Any forward-looking statements speak only as of the date hereof or as of the dates indicated in the statements. Neither AMR nor US Airways assumes any obligation to publicly update or supplement any forward-looking statement to reflect actual results, changes in assumptions or changes in other factors affecting these forward-looking statements except as required by law.
