About the Acquisition

Why are we combining Actavis and Forest?

We are creating a powerful, global specialty pharmaceuticals company with a balanced portfolio of brand and generic drugs. The combined company will have blockbuster franchises in central nervous system, gastrointestinal (GI), women's health, urology and cardiovascular therapeutic categories. We will also benefit from emerging and sustainable portfolios in the infectious disease, respiratory and dermatology therapeutic categories.

For our employees, this acquisition will mean enhanced career development opportunities; increased investment in research and development, sales and marketing; and a company that is poised for greater global market share and growth.

What needs to happen before the acquisition closes, and when will it be final?

This acquisition, which has the support of the Boards of Directors and the senior management teams of both companies, remains subject to customary closing conditions, including the approval of the shareholders of both companies and specific government and regulatory authorities. We anticipate this acquisition, if approved, may close as early as the middle of this year.

How will the two companies be combined?

The management teams of Actavis and Forest have been working in partnership to develop the integration strategies that will enable us to combine our companies as seamlessly and as rapidly as possible following the closing. These activities include identifying the appropriate resources from both organizations to serve on integration teams. However, until the acquisition closes, we must continue to operate as two separate companies, maintaining a sharp focus on the execution of our individual company goals and objectives.

What happens next?

We will continue to operate as two separate companies, focused on growing our respective businesses; delivering financial results for our shareholders, the highest quality products and the best service to our customers; and improving all that we do. In the meantime, management teams from both companies are working in partnership to plan for the first day operating as a combined company following the successful close of the acquisition.

About My Job

Will my current job responsibilities or performance expectations change during or after integration?

For many employees, we do not expect a significant change in job responsibilities; therefore, you are expected to perform your job as you normally would even after the closing.

Will jobs be eliminated as a result of the acquisition? If so, from which areas of the companies will they come?

Specifics related to potential impacts on employee jobs are being reviewed as part of the integration planning process, as can be expected. No changes will occur prior to the close of the transaction. However, you can be sure that any impacted individuals will be treated fairly and with respect, and will be provided with as much notice as possible in the event of changes in responsibilities or the elimination of positions.

When will we know if jobs will be eliminated? Will decisions related to organizational structure and job assignments be announced before the close of the acquisition?

Specifics related to potential impacts on employee jobs are being reviewed as part of the integration planning process. No changes will occur prior to the close of the transaction.

We recently announced the proposed Executive Leadership Team for the combined company, which will take effect at the close. We expect the next layer of the proposed organization structure and leadership team will be announced pre-close, but again, there will be no changes prior to close.

Following the close of the acquisition, we will begin to implement detailed integration plans, which will include further details about job assignments, as well as the length and scope of the transition in each area. These integration plans will be communicated after closing. We understand your concerns and are committed to notifying employees of their status with the new company as soon as possible after closing.

For many employees we do not expect a significant change in job responsibilities; therefore, you are expected to perform your job as you normally would even after the closing.

If my job is eliminated as a result of the acquisition, how much notice will I receive? Will I be eligible for severance?

Decisions related to organization structure, job assignments and job eliminations will be communicated as soon as possible.

If you are a U.S. employee whose job is eliminated in connection with the acquisition, we will provide notice in accordance with any applicable law and your separation agreement. This will permit us to conduct an orderly transition of activities and provide employees as much time as possible to support their transition to new employment.

If you are an employee outside the U.S. whose job is eliminated in connection with the acquisition, we will provide notice in accordance with your employment agreement, if applicable, and any local legal notice requirements.

If your job is eliminated as a result of the integration of Actavis and Forest, you will be entitled to receive severance and outplacement benefits according to the policies that apply to the legacy company for which you are employed, as defined in any applicable employment contract, or as determined by local legal requirements.

We are committed to conducting an orderly transition of activities and providing impacted employees with time to support their transition to new employment.

About My Job

Do we expect site closures?

No decisions about sites or locations have been made at this time. Decisions about sites will be communicated as they are made following the close.

Will employees from Actavis or Forest be asked to relocate? If I am offered a position that requires relocation, what relocation benefits will be available to me?

After the closing, it is a possibility that some functions will be combined and operate from one location, which could require your position to move to a different location. At this point, we have not determined specifics related to relocation benefits or eligibility.

Will the combined company be staffed with both Actavis and Forest employees?

Yes, this is the expectation as you can see from the announcement of the proposed Executive Leadership Team for the combined company. Staffing of the combined organization will be completed as soon as practical during implementation of the detailed integration plans.

About My Pay and Benefits

Will my pay change as a result of the acquisition?

Between now and the day we close, our compensation programs will remain unchanged. After the close, we expect that most employees will not experience any immediate changes to their compensation. However, consistent with our current practice, we will continue to evaluate our compensation programs in light of our business needs and the competitive market. We will communicate any changes in a timely manner.

What will happen to my Annual Incentive Plan (AIP) award?

For Forest employees: We expect to pay a prorated FY 2015 bonus at target for the period between April 1 and the close of the acquisition shortly following the close.

For Actavis employees: If you are currently eligible for a FY 2014 AIP award, you will continue to be eligible to receive this award. Additional information about the bonus plan design and payouts for 2014 will be provided shortly after close.

Decisions about the AIP design for 2015 and beyond will be made during integration planning for the combined company. Any changes to the AIP will be communicated in a timely manner.

What will happen to my outstanding equity awards?

Any outstanding equity awards at the time of the acquisition will be treated as follows:

There will be no change to outstanding Actavis equity awards (under any equity vehicle);

Outstanding, unexercised Forest stock options will be converted to Actavis stock options of substantially equivalent value;

Unvested Forest restricted stock and time-based restricted stock units (RSUs) will be converted to Actavis RSUs of substantially equivalent value; and Unvested Forest performance-based RSUs will be converted to Actavis time-based RSUs assuming achievement of the applicable performance goals at target levels.

Decisions about future equity programs for the combined company will be made during integration planning, and we will communicate those decisions in a timely manner post-close.

About My Pay and Benefits

What will happen to my benefits?

Health & Welfare Benefits (for U.S. employees): We expect your current health and welfare benefits to remain in effect for the remainder of the 2014 calendar year. Decisions about future benefit programs for the combined company will be made during integration planning. We will communicate any expected changes in a timely manner.

401(k) Benefits (for U.S. employees) and Pension Benefits (for employees outside the U.S.): Retirement benefits will continue to be a critical component of Actavis Total Rewards program. As announced on June 2, Forest employees in the U.S. will be enrolled automatically in the Actavis 401(k) Savings Plan as of the close date. This also means employees will no longer participate in the Forest Laboratories Savings & Profit Sharing Plan. However, the company matching contributions for the second quarter of 2014 and the discretionary profit sharing contributions for 2013 and the first half of 2014 will be made. Forest employees will receive information at their home addresses with additional information.

We are currently evaluating retirement benefits for the combined company outside the U.S. and we will communicate any decisions in a timely manner in accordance with local legal requirements, as applicable.

Holidays, Paid Time Off and Leaves of Absence: Until the closing of the acquisition, we will continue to operate our current leave policies and programs. The acquisition will not affect accrued, unused paid time off under these policies as of the closing. Leave programs and policies will be reviewed and decisions will be made about programs for the combined company during integration planning. Any changes will be announced following the close of the transaction.

Will I still be able to work summer hours?

The policy in effect at your current site will remain in effect through August 31, 2014. Decisions about future policies for the combined company will be made and communicated in a timely manner post-close.
