On July 13, 2014, Whiting Petroleum Corporation (the Company or Whiting) entered into a definitive agreement among a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (Whiting Canadian Sub) and Kodiak Oil & Gas Corp. (Kodiak) under which Whiting Canadian Sub would acquire all of the outstanding common shares of Kodiak as part of a plan of arrangement (the arrangement). In connection with the arrangement, the Company anticipates filing with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission a Consent Solicitation Statement / Prospectus Supplement (the Prospectus Supplement), which will supplement the base prospectus dated July 11, 2014 (together with the Prospectus Supplement, the Prospectus) contained in the Company's Registration Statement on Form S-3 (Reg. No. 333-183729), to solicit the consent of the holders of senior notes issued by Kodiak (the Kodiak Notes) to proposed amendments to the indentures under which the Kodiak Notes were issued and to offer a guarantee from Whiting of the Kodiak Notes and a cash payment in respect of consents delivered in the Consent Solicitations (the Consent Solicitations and Offers to Guarantee). The terms and conditions of the Consent Solicitations and Offers to Guarantee will be set forth in the Prospectus and related letter of consent, a copy of which is filed as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report and incorporated by reference herein.

Update on Litigation Relating to the Arrangement

In connection with the arrangement, six purported class action lawsuits were filed on behalf of Kodiak shareholders in the United States District Court for the District of Colorado: Quigley and Koelling v. Whiting Petroleum Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-02023, filed July 22, 2014 (the plaintiffs voluntarily dismissed this lawsuit on September 24, 2014; Fioravanti v. Krysiak, et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-02037, filed July 23, 2014 (the Fioravanti Case); Wilkinson v. Whiting Petroleum Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-2074, filed July 25, 2014; Goldsmith v. Krysiak, et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-2098, filed July 29, 2014; Rogowski v. Whiting Petroleum Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-2136, filed July 31, 2014 (the Rogowski Case); and Reiter v. Peterson, et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-02176, filed August 6, 2014, and one purported class action lawsuit was filed on behalf of Kodiak shareholders in Denver District Court, State of Colorado: The Booth Family Trust v. Kodiak Oil & Gas Corp., et al., Case No. 14-cv-32947, filed July 25, 2014 (the Booth Case). This last case was removed to the United States District Court for the District of Colorado on September 4, 2014 and is pending in that court now as Case No. 1:14-cv-2457. On October 2, 2014, the defendants filed a motion in the Fioravanti Case to consolidate all the pending actions before a single judge. It is possible that other related suits could subsequently be filed. The allegations in the six remaining lawsuits are similar. They purport to be brought as class actions on behalf of all shareholders of Kodiak. The complaints name as defendants the individual members of the Kodiak board of directors, Whiting and Whiting Canadian Sub and list Kodiak as a nominal party or a defendant. Additionally, one complaint lists James Henderson, Kodiak's Chief Financial Officer, as a defendant. The complaints allege that the Kodiak board of directors breached its fiduciary duties to Kodiak shareholders by, among other things, failing to engage in a fair sale process before approving the arrangement and to maximize shareholder value in connection with the arrangement. Specifically, the complaints allege that the Kodiak board of directors undervalued Kodiak in connection with the arrangement and that the Kodiak board of directors agreed to certain deal protection mechanisms that precluded Kodiak from obtaining competing offers. The complaints also allege that Whiting and Whiting Canadian Sub aided and abetted the Kodiak board of directors' alleged breaches of fiduciary duties. The complaints seek, among other things, injunctive relief preventing the closing of the arrangement, rescission of the arrangement or an award of rescissory damages to the purported class in the event that the arrangement is consummated, and damages, including counsel fees and expenses. Whiting and Kodiak believe each lawsuit is without merit. The defendants filed motions to dismiss with prejudice the Fioravanti Case, the Booth Case and the Rogowski Case on September 26, 2014, October 2, 2014 and October 3, 2014, respectively, and expect to file motions to dismiss with prejudice for the remaining cases in the near future if the lawsuits are not first consolidated before a single judge.

One of the conditions to the closing of the arrangement is that no law, order, injunction or judgment has been enacted or issued by any government entity that has the effect of prohibiting the consummation of the arrangement. Consequently, if any lawsuit is successful in obtaining an injunction prohibiting Whiting or Kodiak from consummating the arrangement on the agreed upon terms, the injunction may prevent the arrangement from being completed within the expected timeframe, or at all. Furthermore, if the arrangement is prevented or delayed, the lawsuits could result in substantial costs, including any costs associated with the indemnification of directors. The defense or settlement of any lawsuit or claim that remains unresolved at the time the arrangement is completed may adversely affect the combined company's business, financial condition or results of operations.
