This Proxy Statement is being furnished to holders of common stock, $0.01 par value per share ("Common Stock"), of First Defiance Financial Corp., Defiance, Ohio ("First Defiance"). Proxies are being solicited on behalf of the Board of Directors of First Defiance to be used at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders ("Annual Meeting") to be held at the home office of First Federal Bank of the Midwest ("First Federal") located at 601 Clinton Street, Defiance, Ohio 43512, on Tuesday April 22, 2003 at 1:00 p.m., Eastern Time, and at any adjournment thereof for the purposes set forth in the Notice of Annual Meeting of Shareholders. This Proxy Statement is first being mailed to shareholders on or about March 19, 2003.

The proxy solicited hereby, if properly submitted to First Defiance and not revoked prior to its use, will be voted in accordance with the instructions contained therein. If no contrary instructions are given, each proxy received will be voted for the nominees for director described herein and, upon the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting, in accordance with the best judgment of the persons appointed as proxies. Any shareholder giving a proxy has the power to revoke it at any time before it is exercised by (i) filing with the Secretary of First Defiance written notice thereof (John W. Boesling, Secretary, First Defiance Financial Corp., 601 Clinton Street, Defiance, Ohio 43512); (ii) submitting a valid proxy bearing a later date; or (iii) appearing at the Annual Meeting and giving notice of revocation to the Secretary. Proxies solicited hereby may be exercised only at the Annual Meeting and any adjournment thereof and will not be used for any other meeting.

VOTING RIGHTS

Only shareholders of record at the close of business on March 7, 2003 ("Voting Record Date") will be entitled to notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting. On the Voting Record Date, there were 6,357,759 shares of Common Stock issued and outstanding and First Defiance had no other class of equity securities outstanding. Each share of Common Stock is entitled to one vote at the Annual Meeting on all matters properly presented at the meeting.

Directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast with a quorum present. Abstentions are considered in determining the presence of a quorum and will not affect the plurality vote required for the election of directors. The proposal for election of directors is considered a "discretionary" item upon which brokerage firms may vote in their discretion on behalf of their clients if such clients have not furnished voting instructions.

INFORMATION REGARDING DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

Election of Directors

First Defiance's Board of Directors is composed of nine members, divided into three classes. The members of each class are elected for a term of three years and until their successors are elected and qualified. One class of directors is elected annually.

The nominees, Mr. Van Brackel, Dr. Burgei and Mr. Monnin, currently serve as directors of First Defiance.

Unless otherwise directed, each valid proxy submitted by a shareholder will be voted for the election of the nominees for director listed below. If any person named as nominee should be unwilling to stand for election at the time of the Annual Meeting, the proxies will vote for any replacement nominee or nominees recommended by the Board of Directors. At this time, the Board of Directors knows of no reason why any of the nominees listed below may not be able to serve as a director if elected.

Report of Compensation Committee

In order to provide compensation levels comparable to its peers and to provide incentives for achieving improved performance, the Compensation Committee recommended and the Board of Directors adopted an incentive-based executive salary program which will provide the Chief Executive Officer with a base salary targeted at approximately 70% of total cash compensation with the remaining 30% consisting of an incentive bonus. Other members of senior management participate under a similar program, with base targets ranging from 70% to 80% of total compensation and incentive bonus targets ranging from 20% to 30%. Under the program, senior management would attain targeted levels of compensation only upon realizing prescribed levels of performance established by the Board.

The Committee evaluates the base salary of the Chief Executive Officer of First Defiance annually and the Chief Executive Officer evaluates the base salaries of the rest of the executive officers. An executive officer's base salary is determined based upon longevity with First Defiance, the effectiveness of such individual in performing his duties, peer averages at the position in question and First Defiance's overall performance. No particular weight is assigned to these variables. The base salary component alone, while designed to be competitive with peer group averages, is not designed to produce top levels of compensation for the executive officers of First Defiance and its subsidiaries when compared to its peer group. The incentive component, as described below, which requires First Defiance to achieve specific goals before additional compensation is paid, is the element which is designed to make total compensation for each of the executive officers comparable with executive compensation for executive officers in First Defiance's peer group.

For 2002, the Board of Directors prescribed that certain target measurements be met in order to fund the executive compensation pool. The components measured included diluted earnings per share, growth in combined net interest income and non-interest income, and the efficiency ratio. The Plan provides for threshold, target and maximum payout levels with achievement of targets resulting in 100% payouts. The formula provides for payouts in excess of 100% of the bonus pools if target levels are exceeded. Based on 2002 financial results, 45% of the targeted executive bonus pool was funded.

Employment Agreements

First Defiance has entered into employment agreements with Messrs. Small, Rohrs, and Wahl and Allen (the "Executives"). The form of employment agreement for each of the Executives is substantially the same and provides each officer with a three-year term of employment commencing on the date of the agreement. Each year, the Board of Directors of First Defiance considers and reviews the extension of the terms of each agreement and extends the term unless either party gives notice of non-renewal to the other party.

The employment agreements are terminable with or without cause by First Defiance. However, in the event that (i) the Company terminates an Executive's employment for a reason other than cause, (ii) an Executive terminates his employment because of failure of First Defiance to comply with any material provision of the employment agreement or (iii) the employment agreement is terminated by an Executive for Good Reason, as defined, an Executive would be entitled to 2.99 times the average annual compensation paid to him by First Defiance during the five most recent taxable years ending during the calendar year in which the notice of termination occurs or such portion of such period in which the Executive served as senior officer of First Defiance as well as continued participation in employee benefit plans of First Defiance (other than retirement plans and stock compensation plans) until the expiration of the remaining term of employment. "Good Reason" is generally defined in the employment agreements to include the assignment by First Defiance to the Executive of any duties which, in the Executive's good faith determination, are materially inconsistent with the Executive's positions, duties, responsibilities and status with First Defiance prior to such assignment or prior to a change in control of First Defiance.

The employment agreements provide that in the event that any of the payments to be made there under or otherwise upon termination of employment are deemed to constitute "excess parachute payments" within the meaning of Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, then such payments and benefits received thereunder would be reduced, in the manner determined by First Defiance, by the amount, if any, which is the minimum necessary to result in no portion of the payments and benefits being nondeductible by First Defiance for federal income tax purposes.

REPORT OF THE AUDIT COMMITTEE

The Audit Committee is comprised of four directors, all of whom are considered "independent" under rule 4200(a)(15) of the National Association of Securities Dealers' listing standards.

The Audit Committee oversees First Defiance's financial reporting process on behalf of the Board of Directors. Management has the primary responsibility for the financial statements and the reporting process including the systems of internal control. In fulfilling its oversight responsibilities, the Committee reviewed with management the audited financial statements in the Annual Report on Form 10-K, including a discussion of the quality, not just the acceptability, of the accounting principles, the reasonableness of significant judgments, and the clarity of disclosures in the financial statements.

The Committee reviewed with the independent auditor, which is responsible for expressing an opinion on the conformity of those audited financial statements with generally accepted accounting principles, its judgment as to the quality, not just the acceptability, of the Company's accounting principles and such other matters as are required to be discussed under generally accepted auditing standards. In addition, the Committee has discussed with the independent auditor the auditor's independence from management and the Company, including the matters in the written disclosures required by the Independence Standards Board, and considered the compatibility of non-audit services with the auditors' independence.

The Committee discussed with the Company's internal and independent auditors the overall scope and plans for their respective audits. The Committee meets with the internal and independent auditors, with and without management present, to discuss the results of their examinations, their evaluations of the Company's internal controls, and the overall quality of the Company's financial reporting. The Committee held five meetings during 2002.

In reliance on the reviews and discussions referred to above, the Committee recommended to the Board of Directors (and the Board has approved) that the audited financial statements be included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2002 for filing with the SEC. The Committee and the Board have also approved the selection of Ernst & Young LLP as the Company's independent auditors for the year ended December 31, 2003.

However, if any other matters should properly come before the Annual Meeting, it is intended that the proxies solicited hereby will be voted with respect to those other matters in accordance with the judgment of the persons voting the proxies.

The cost of solicitation of proxies will be borne by First Defiance. First Defiance will reimburse brokerage firms and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for reasonable expenses incurred by them in sending proxy materials to the beneficial owners of the Common Stock. In addition to solicitations by mail, directors, officers and employees of First Defiance may solicit proxies personally or by telephone without additional compensation.

It is urged that any such proposals be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested. In addition, if a shareholder intends to present a proposal at the 2004 annual meeting of shareholders of First Defiance without including the proposal in the proxy solicitation materials relating to that meeting, and if the proposal is not received by February 2, 2004, then the proxies designated by the Board of Directors of First Defiance for the 2004 annual meeting may vote proxies in their discretion on any such proposal without mention of such matter in the proxy solicitation materials or on the proxy card for such meeting.

Charter

Committee Role

The role of the audit committee of the board of directors of First Defiance Financial Corp. ("The Company") is to act on behalf of the board of directors and oversee all material aspects of the Company's reporting, control, and audit functions, except those specifically related to the responsibilities of another standing committee of the board. The audit committee's role includes a particular focus on the qualitative aspects of financial reporting to shareholders and on company processes for the management of business/financial risk and for compliance with significant applicable legal, ethical, and regulatory requirements.

The role also includes coordination with other board committees and maintenance of strong, positive working relationships with management, external and internal auditors, counsel, and other committee advisors.

Organization

The audit committee shall be comprised of three or more independent, nonexecutive directors as determined by the Board. Members of the audit committee shall be considered independent if they have no relationship to the Company that may interfere with the exercise of their independence from management and the Company. All audit committee members shall have (1) knowledge of the financial services industry; (2) the ability to read and understand fundamental financial statements, including a balance sheet, income statement, statement of cash flows, and key performance indicators; and (3) the ability to understand key business and financial risks and related controls and control processes. The committee shall have access to its own counsel and other advisors at the committee's sole discretion.

One member, preferably the chairperson, should be literate in business and financial reporting and control, including basic knowledge of the regulatory requirements. Preferably this person should have experience in finance or accounting, experience in supervising a finance or accounting function or other comparable experience or background. Committee appointments shall be approved annually by the full board and the committee chairperson shall be selected and approved by the full board.

Statement of Policy

The audit committee shall provide assistance to the directors in fulfilling their responsibility to the shareholders, potential shareholders, and investment community relating to corporate accounting, reporting practices of the Company, and the quality and integrity of financial reports of the Company. In so doing, it is the responsibility of the audit committee to maintain free and open communication between the directors, the external auditors, the internal auditors, and the financial management of the Company.

Meetings

The committee shall meet at least four times annually, or more frequently as circumstances dictate. As part of its job to foster open communication, the committee should meet at least semi-annually with management, the internal auditors, and the external auditors in separate executive sessions to discuss any matters the committee or each of these groups believe should be discussed separately. The committee may ask members of management or others to attend meetings and provide pertinent information as necessary.

Operating Principles

The committee shall fulfill its responsibilities within the context of the following overriding principles:

Communications - The chairperson or others on the committee shall, to the extent appropriate, have contact throughout the year with senior management, other committee chairpersons, and other key committee advisors, external and internal auditors, etc. to strengthen the committee's knowledge of relevant current and prospective business issues.

Committee Education/Orientation - The committee, with management, shall develop and participate in a process for review of important financial and operating topics that present potential significant risk to the company. Additionally, individual committee members are encouraged to participate in relevant and appropriate self-study education to assure understanding of the business environment in which the company operates.

Annual Plan - The committee, with input from management and other key committee advisors, shall develop an annual plan responsive to the "primary committee responsibilities" detailed herein. The annual plan shall be reviewed and approved by the full board.

Meeting Agenda - Committee meeting agendas shall be the responsibility of the committee chairperson, with input from committee members. It is expected that the chairperson would also ask management and key committee advisors to participate in this process.

Committee Expectations and Information Needs - The committee shall communicate committee expectations and nature, timing, and extent of committee information needs to management, internal audit and external audit and other external parties. Written materials, including key performance indicators and measures related to key business and financial risks, shall be received from management, auditors and others at least four days in advance of meeting dates committee. In addition, minutes of the audit committee meetings shall be available to each board member upon request.

Committee Self Assessment - The committee shall review, discuss and assess its own performance as well as the committee role and responsibilities, seeking input from senior management, the full board, and others. Changes in role and/or responsibilities, if any, shall be recommended to the full board for approval.

Relationship with External and Internal Auditors

The external auditors, in their capacity as independent public accountants, shall be responsible to the board of directors and the audit committee as representatives of shareholders.

As the external auditors review financial reports, they will be reporting to the audit committee. They shall report all relevant issues to the committee responsive to agreed-on committee expectations. In executing its oversight role, the committee should review the work of external auditors.

Annually, the audit committee should direct the external auditors to attend the full board of directors meeting to assist in reporting the results of the annual audit or to answer other directors' questions.

The committee shall annually review the performance (effectiveness, objectivity, and independence) of the external and internal auditors. The committee shall ensure receipt of a formal written statement from the external auditors consistent with standards set by the Independence Standards Board. Additionally, the committee shall discuss with the auditor relationships or services that may affect auditor objectivity or independence. If the committee is not satisfied with the auditors' assurances of independence, it shall take or recommend to the full board appropriate action to assure the independence of the external auditor.

The internal audit function shall be responsible to the board of directors through the committee.

If either the internal or the external auditors identify significant issues relative to the overall board responsibility that have been communicated to management but, in their judgment, have not been adequately addressed, they should communicate these issues to the committee chairperson.

Changes in outsourced internal audit firms, or directors of internal audit should the committee decide to establish the function in-house, shall be subject to committee approval. Changes in the compliance officer shall also be subject to committee approval.

Responsibilities

In carrying out its responsibilities, the audit committee believes its policies and procedures should remain flexible, in order to best react to changing conditions and to ensure to the directors and shareholders that the corporate accounting and reporting practices of the Company are in accordance with all requirements and are of the highest quality.
