Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On November 28, 2006, Polar Air Cargo Worldwide, Inc. (the "Company"), a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of Atlas Air Worldwide Holdings, Inc. ("AAWW"), entered into a stock purchase agreement (the "Purchase Agreement") with DHL Network Operations (USA), Inc. ("DHL"), an Ohio corporation and a wholly-owned indirect subsidiary of Deutsche Post AG ("DP"), for DHL to acquire a 49% equity interest, representing a 25% voting interest, in the Company, in exchange for $150 million in cash to be paid to the Company, as further described below (the "Purchase Price").

The Purchase Agreement also contemplates the parties entering into a blocked space agreement for a 20 year term (subject to early termination at five year intervals), whereby the Company will provide guaranteed access to air cargo capacity on its scheduled service network to DHL through six Boeing 747-400 freighter aircraft (the "DHL Express Network Service"). DP will guarantee DHL's or its affiliate's obligations under various transaction agreements, including the blocked space agreement.

Under the Purchase Agreement, $75 million of the Purchase Price will be paid by DHL to the Company at closing, with the remaining $75 million being paid to the Company in two equal installments (plus interest) on January 15, 2008 and November 17, 2008, subject to acceleration based upon commencement of the DHL Express Network Service prior to October 31, 2008. In addition, DHL will make a payment to the Company of any positive net working capital balance of the Company as of closing. DP has executed a separate guarantee agreement guaranteeing certain indemnity and other payment and performance obligations of DHL under the Purchase Agreement and other related agreements. AAWW will enter into an indemnity agreement indemnifying DHL for and against certain obligations of the Company to DHL and will provide financial support for the operation of the Company until the DHL Express Network Service commences.

At the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Purchase Agreement, the Company also will enter into a number of commercial arrangements with its affiliates. Under these arrangements, it is contemplated that the Company will lease six Boeing 747-400 aircraft and the AAWW entities will provide to the Company flight services, maintenance, insurance and other related services.

The Purchase Agreement also provides DHL with the right to request that the Company accelerate commencement of the DHL Express Network Service, and the Company has agreed to take all commercially reasonable steps to facilitate such commencement. The Company will continue to operate its regular scheduled service business until such commencement, which is to occur no later than October 31, 2008.

The closing will be contingent upon receipt of regulatory and other third party approvals, including that of the U.S. Department of Transportation.
