Item 5 - Other Events.

On December 19, 2001, Neose Technologies, Inc. ("Neose") announced that it entered into a research, development and license agreement with Wyeth-Ayerst Laboratories, the pharmaceutical division of American Home Products Corporation, for the use of Neose's GlycoAdvance(TM) technology to develop an improved production system for Wyeth's biopharmaceutical compound, rPSGL-Ig (P-selectin glycoprotein ligand). This is Neose's first commercial partner for GlycoAdvance. rPSGL-Ig is a P-selectin antagonist that is being developed to treat inflammation and thrombosis associated with acute coronary syndrome and reperfusion injury. It is currently being evaluated in Phase II clinical trials in patients being treated for heart attack. Wyeth is evaluating the use of GlycoAdvance in the production of rPSGL-Ig for Phase III clinical trials and commercial launch.

Edgar Filing: NEOSE TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form 8-K

Neose will develop processes for the commercial-scale manufacture of proprietary enzymes and sugar nucleotides to be used in the production of rPSGL-Ig, and will license GlycoAdvance to Wyeth for commercial production of the drug. If Wyeth receives FDA approval of the drug, during commercial production of Wyeth's current rPSGL-Ig, Neose will receive ongoing payments tied to yield improvements achieved using GlycoAdvance in the production of rPSGL-Ig. In addition, Wyeth has the option to use GlycoAdvance to develop a next generation rPSGL-Ig, in which case Neose would receive royalties on product sales.

Under the agreement, Neose will receive license, research, and milestone payments that would total up to $17 million if all milestones are met. In addition to ongoing product payments, following FDA approval of the drug, Neose and Wyeth will also enter into a supply agreement for the long-term supply of GlycoAdvance process reagents.

BACKGROUND

Neose has developed and continues to develop patented technology and related know-how, known as GlycoAdvanceTM, for the glycosylation of recombinant proteins and glycoprotein remodeling. Wyeth wishes to have Neose develop and provide reagents needed for Wyeth to integrate the GlycoAdvance^(TM) technology into Wyeth's process for producing P-selectin Glycoprotein Ligand Immunoconjugate (PSGL-Ig). Under the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Neose is willing to develop and provide such reagents, and Neose is interested in licensing to Wyeth and Wyeth wishes to obtain from Neose a license under certain patents and know-how of Neose relating to the GlycoAdvance^(TM) technology.

To the extent that Wyeth may retain any Ownership Rights in any Neose Improvements, Wyeth hereby irrevocably assigns and transfers to Neose any and all such Ownership Rights, in perpetuity or for the longest period otherwise permitted by law, without the necessity of further consideration, and Neose shall be entitled to receive and hold in its own name all such Ownership Rights. With respect to any Ownership Rights that Wyeth may assign and transfer to Neose under this Section 6.3, at the request of Neose, and at Neose's expense, either before or after termination of this Agreement, Wyeth shall assist Neose in acquiring and maintaining patent, copyright, trade secret and trademark protection upon, and confirming Neose's title in and to, any such respective Ownership Rights. Wyeth's assistance shall include, but shall not be limited to, signing all applications, and any other documents and instruments for patent, copyright and any other proprietary rights, cooperating in legal proceedings, and taking any other actions considered necessary or desirable by Neose. For the purpose of facilitating the above assignment, Wyeth agrees that any and all employees and contractors employed or engaged by Wyeth and providing any service in connection with the Project, prior to providing such service, shall have agreed in writing to covenants consistent with Wyeth's covenants set forth in this Section.

6.4 Assignment by Neose. To the extent that Neose may retain any Ownership Rights in any Wyeth Improvements, Neose hereby irrevocably assigns and transfers to Wyeth any and all such Ownership Rights, in perpetuity or for the longest period otherwise permitted by law, without the necessity of further consideration, and Wyeth shall be entitled to receive and hold in its own name all such Ownership Rights. With respect to any Ownership Rights that Neose may assign and transfer to Wyeth under this Section 6.4, at the request of Wyeth, and at Wyeth's expense, either before or after termination of this Agreement, Neose shall assist Wyeth in acquiring and maintaining patent, copyright, trade secret and trademark protection upon, and confirming Wyeth's title in and to, any such respective Ownership Rights. Neose's assistance shall include, but shall not be limited to, signing all applications, and any other documents and instruments for patent, copyright and any other proprietary rights, cooperating in legal proceedings, and taking any other actions considered necessary or desirable by Wyeth. For the purpose of facilitating the above assignment, Neose agrees that any and all employees and contractors employed or engaged by Neose and providing any service in connection with the Project, prior to providing such service, shall have agreed in writing to covenants consistent with Neose's covenants set forth in this Section.

6.5 Prosecution and Maintenance of Patent Rights. Each party shall, in its sole discretion, prepare, file, prosecute and maintain all patent applications and patents covering Improvements that the party owns pursuant to Section 6. With respect to Joint Improvements, the parties shall meet to determine whether patent protection is appropriate and, if so, in which countries, if any, patent applications claiming such joint inventions and discoveries should be filed. Wyeth shall file, prosecute, and maintain, at its expense, such patent applications. Wyeth may at any time, in its sole discretion, discontinue the preparation, prosecution or maintenance of such patent applications, in which case Wyeth will give Neose sufficient notice to enable Neose to, and Neose may, file, prosecute and maintain such applications.

6.6 Enforcement of Ownership Rights.

Edgar Filing: NEOSE TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form 8-K

protection and enforcement of the Neose Technology and all available evidence supporting said infringement, misappropriation, suspected infringement or unauthorized use or misappropriation. Neose shall reimburse Wyeth for its reasonable, documented costs of such cooperation, unless such infringement or misappropriation is by a Supplier or Sublicensee of Wyeth.

6.6.2 Right to Institute Suit. Neose shall have the sole right to initiate an infringement or other appropriate suit against any Third Party who at any time has infringed or is suspected of infringing or misappropriating, the Neose Technology. Neose shall not enter into any settlement, consent judgment or other voluntary final disposition of such suit that would adversely affect Wyeth's rights under this Agreement without Wyeth's prior written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

6.6.3 Continued Infringement. If Neose fails to either bring suit against or enter into negotiations for settlement with such Third Party within six months after receipt of notice of such infringement and Wyeth is of the opinion that the alleged infringement or misappropriation of Neose Technology is occurring in the Field then, upon Wyeth's written request, the parties shall seek the opinion of patent counsel acceptable to both parties as to whether there has been or continues to be a misappropriation or infringement of the Neose Technology in the Field by such Third Party. If such patent counsel concurs with Wyeth's opinion, Wyeth shall have the right, but not the obligation, to bring suit against such Third Party under the Neose Technology and join Neose as a party plaintiff. Neose will cooperate with Wyeth in any suit brought against a Third Party and shall have the right to consult with Wyeth and participate in and be represented by counsel in such suit at its own expense. In the event Wyeth recovers any sums in such suit by way of damages or in settlement thereof, such sums shall be used first to reimburse each of Wyeth and Neose for their documented, out-of-pocket legal expenses, with Wyeth retaining any remaining amounts.

6.7 Wyeth Trademarks. Wyeth shall select and own the trademarks for marketing PSGL-Ig and the Products in the Territory. All expenses for (i) registration of such trademarks, and (ii) bringing, maintaining and prosecuting any action to protect or defend such trademarks, shall be borne by Wyeth and Wyeth shall retain all recoveries therefrom.

7.2 Defense of Third Party Action. If claims or proceedings are brought against Wyeth by a Third Party alleging that the use of the Neose Technology to produce a Product infringes upon the Patent Rights of a Third Party, the parties shall immediately consult on how to further proceed. Subject to Section 7.4, The final decision whether or not and, as the case may be, how to defend or settle such claim or proceedings shall be with Neose; provided that Neose shall immediately notify Wyeth of such decision sufficiently in advance of any deadlines by which formal responses are due in any such proceedings to enable Wyeth to undertake its own defense. Wyeth shall have the right to join any such proceedings as a party thereto at its own expense by counsel of its own choice. Each party shall provide the other with such assistance as is reasonably necessary and shall cooperate in the defense of any such action or proceeding. Neose shall not enter into any settlement, consent judgment, or other voluntary final disposition of such suit that would adversely affect Wyeth's rights under this Agreement or which would result in Wyeth being liable for damages, without Wyeth's prior written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. In the event that Neose obtains a license under the Third Party Patent Rights that are allegedly infringed by the use of the Neose Technology, Neose shall be solely responsible for all payments required thereunder.

7.4 Third-Party Licenses.

7.4.1 Wyeth Third-Party Licenses. In the event that Wyeth is of the opinion, at any time during the Term, that a license under any Blocking Patent is necessary or advisable for purposes of enabling Wyeth to exercise its license rights under Section 5.1.1, it shall notify Neose. The parties shall then seek an opinion of patent counsel acceptable to both parties. If such patent counsel concurs with Wyeth's opinion, Wyeth and Neose shall co-operate to obtain such a license for the benefit of Wyeth and, as the case may be, also for Neose, in accordance with the following provisions:

7.4.1.1 Neose shall be primarily responsible for obtaining any such Third Party license at its own expense. The matter shall be deemed resolved if Neose is granted a license, whether royalty-free or royalty-bearing, under the relevant Blocking Patent that would make the continued exercise of the rights granted to Wyeth by Neose hereunder non-infringing with respect to such Blocking Patent. Neose shall be solely responsible for all payments required under such license.

7.4.1.2 However, in the event that Neose is unable to resolve the matter in accordance with Section 7.4.1.1 within 120 days from receipt of notice from Wyeth upon terms that are commercially reasonable to Neose at Neose's discretion, then Wyeth shall be entitled to negotiate a license in favor of Wyeth under such Blocking Patents; provided that to the extent that Wyeth must pay a royalty under such license, Wyeth may decrease the amount of payments owed under Sections 4.1 and 4.2 up to a maximum of % in the aggregate for all such royalties.

7.4.1.3 In relation to the negotiation and contracting of any such Blocking Patent license, the provisions of this Section 7.4 shall prevail over the provisions of Section 7.2 to Section 7.3.

Pricing for Reagents will be based on Neose's actual manufacturing costs plus and an agreed-upon markup, but will not exceed $ per kilogram of sugar nucleotides or $ per kilogram of Product for enzymes unless a higher price is mutually agreed to. If Neose is unwilling or unable to meet its supply obligations for Reagents contained in the Supply Agreement, Neose will become a nonexclusive supplier and Wyeth may either manufacture the Reagents, or, consistent with Section 5.1.3, contract with a Supplier.

9. CONFIDENTIALITY.

9.1 Confidential Information. With respect to any and all Confidential Information disclosed by one party to this Agreement (the "Disclosing Party") to the other party (the "Recipient") at any time and from time to time prior to the Effective Date or during the Term, the Recipient for a period of five years from the expiration or earlier termination of this Agreement: (a) shall maintain the secrecy of, and hold in strict confidence, such Confidential Information; (b) shall not use such Confidential Information for any other purpose other than in furtherance of this Agreement; and (c) shall not, without express written authorization from the Disclosing Party, use, disclose or grant the use of such Confidential Information to other Persons except to the Recipient's directors, officers, employees, and advisors to the extent that such disclosure is reasonably necessary in furtherance of this Agreement; provided that such Persons are otherwise bound to Recipient by contract or legal or fiduciary obligation at the time of such disclosure to maintain the secrecy of, and hold in confidence, such Confidential Information. In addition, provided that Neose maintains the confidentiality of Wyeth's name and the identity of PSGL-Ig, with the prior approval of Wyeth, Neose will have the right to use data about PSGL-Ig generated in the conduct of the Project Plan (i) to support a patent application by Neose, or (ii) for marketing purposes.

Party will have available, in addition to any other right or remedy available, the right to obtain an injunction from a court of competent jurisdiction restraining such breach or threatened breach and to specific performance of any such provision of this Agreement. Both parties further agrees that no bond or other security shall be required in obtaining such equitable relief and each party hereby consents to the issuance of such injunction and to the ordering of specific performance.
