Electronic Voting on Proxy Statement

The Proxy Statement is one of Aetna's most important corporate public documents. It includes information on Aetna's Board of Directors and describes the proposals to be voted on at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders, which will be held on Friday, April 28, 2006, at the Disney Boardwalk Conference Center in Lake Buena Vista, Florida. This week, Computershare Trust Co. N.A., the distribution agent for the trustee of Aetna's 401(k) Plan, will e-mail voting instructions to active employees who hold Aetna stock through this plan. All employees who held Aetna stock through the Aetna 401(k) Plan at the close of business on February 24, 2006, have the opportunity to vote on these proposals electronically—either over the Internet or by telephone. Employees' individual voting instructions are strictly confidential and are not disclosed to Aetna. Employee shareholders who wish to attend the annual meeting will be asked to provide photo identification (Aetna ID badge) before being admitted.

2005 Aetna Annual Report

The 2005 Aetna Annual Report, Dimensions of Leadership, continues the theme of the award-winning series that we started in 2000:

- Ø 2000 What Leaders Must Do,
- Ø 2001 The Course of Leadership,
- Ø 2002 The Responsibility of Leaders,
- Ø 2003 Leading the Way, and
- Ø 2004 The Challenge of Leadership.

Aetna's 2005 Annual Report highlights our financial accomplishments and the many ways we are differentiating Aetna as a leader in the industry. The Annual Report describes how we are creating customer preference through listening and understanding, innovation and by challenging the future. Spotlighted: Aetna's response during Hurricanes Katrina and Rita, preventive care enhancements to Aetna HealthFund, our depression management program and pricing transparency pilot initiative in Cincinnati, how ActiveHealth is helping to improve outcomes, making the mouth/body connection, Aetna's advocacy for an individual health coverage mandate and our commitment to social responsibility. In place of essays from outside experts, Aetna Executive Chairman Jack Rowe discusses an important trend in health care: paying for performance. The Annual Report concludes with information on Aetna's acquisitions and expansions in 2005, as well as some of the awards the company received.

The 2005 Annual Report is available online at www.aetna.com/investor/annualrept.htm. I encourage you to take the time to review the information to be well-informed about the company as we shape our future.
