SHOPSMITH, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of only normal and recurring adjustments) have been made as of January 3, 2004 and December 28, 2002 to present the financial statements fairly. However, the results of operations for the nine months then ended are not necessarily indicative of results for the full fiscal year. The financial statements and notes are presented as permitted by Form 10-Q, and do not contain certain information included in the annual financial statements. The financial statements accompanying this report should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Annual Report to Shareholders for the year ended April 5, 2003.
2. Taxable income for the three and nine months ended January 3, 2004 and for the nine months ended December 28, 2002 was offset by a net operating loss carryforward. The tax expense shown for the nine months ended January 3, 2004 relates to a provision for alternative minimum tax.
3. Basic income per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted income per share reflects per share amounts that would have resulted if dilutive stock options had been converted into common stock. The following reconciles amounts reported in the financial statements:

	Three Months Ended		Nine Months Ended
	January 3, 2004	December 28, 2002	January 3, 2004	December 28, 2002
Net income	$ 23,951	$	$ 18,381	$ 100,000
Weighted average shares	2,605,233	2,605,233	2,605,233	2,605,233
Additional dilutive shares	22,500		3,762
Total dilutive shares	2,627,733	2,605,233	2,608,995	2,605,233
Basic income per share	$ 0.01	$	$ 0.01	$ 0.04
Diluted income per share	$ 0.01	$	$ 0.01	$ 0.04

There were no additional dilutive shares included in the computation for the periods ended December 28, 2002 because the stock options were anti-dilutive.

4. During fiscal 2002, Shopsmith entered into an arrangement with John R. Folkerth, the Company's CEO, which allowed the Company to borrow up to $500,000 with interest at twelve percent. The maximum authorized borrowing was increased to $600,000 in July 2002. Substantially all personal property except for certain receivables was pledged as collateral. Interest was due monthly and the note was payable on demand. At April 5, 2003, there was $400,000 outstanding under this arrangement. Borrowings from Mr. Folkerth were subject to Mr. Folkerth's approval and were payable upon demand by Mr. Folkerth. The note payable was paid in full on July 31, 2003.
5. On December 31, 2002, Shopsmith entered into a loan agreement with Provident Bank which allows the Company to borrow up to the lesser of $750,000 or 80% of eligible receivables due from Lowes Companies, Inc., with interest charged at one and one-half percent over the bank's prime rate. On July 17, 2003, this agreement was amended to allow borrowings up to $1,400,000. The agreement requires compliance with certain net income, net worth, and miscellaneous covenants. Substantially all personal property is pledged as collateral. At January 3, 2004, there were no amounts outstanding under this agreement.
6. A major retailer represented 40% and 37% of net sales for the quarters ended January 3, 2004 and December 28, 2002, respectively. This retailer also represented 38% and 42% of trade accounts receivable at January 3, 2004 and April 5, 2003, respectively.
7. In May 2002, Shopsmith had implemented an employee salary reduction plan. Reductions under this plan continued through December 2002. As part of this plan, fiscal 2003 pre-tax income above $100,000 was used to return the amount of the reduction to the employees and if income had permitted, to pay an additional incentive equal to the amount of the reduction. Fiscal 2003 income levels permitted approximately $70,000 or 76% of the reduction to be returned. This amount was paid during the quarter ended July 5, 2003, and no further liabilities exist under the plan.
8. The Company has adopted the disclosure only provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, as amended by SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure, and, accordingly, accounts for its stock option plans using the intrinsic value method of Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees.

The following table illustrates the effect on net income and earnings per share if compensation expense was measured using the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS No. 123.

		Three Months Ended		Nine Months Ended
		December		December

9. New Accounting Pronouncements In May 2003, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 150, Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of Both Liabilities and Equity. SFAS No. 150 establishes standards for how an issuer classifies and measures certain financial instruments with characteristics of both liabilities and equity. SFAS No. 150 was effective for financial instruments entered into or modified after May 31, 2003, and otherwise was effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003. The adoption of this statement did not have an impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In January 2003, the FASB issued FIN 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities. This standard clarifies the application of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51, Consolidated Financial Statements, and addresses consolidation by business enterprises of variable interest entities. FIN 46 requires existing unconsolidated variable interest entities to be consolidated by their primary beneficiaries if the entities do not effectively disperse risk among the parties involved. FIN 46 also enhances the disclosure requirements related to variable interest entities. This statement was effective for the Company on October 4, 2003 for variable interest entities created or in which an enterprise obtains an interest after January 31, 2003. FIN 46 is effective for the Company beginning January 4, 2004 for all interest in variable interest entities acquired before February 1, 2003. The adoption of this statement did not have an impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

General

Shopsmith manufactures and sells woodworking products. Our core product, the Mark V, is sold directly to consumers through demonstration sales events and indirectly to consumers through distributors (primarily Lowe's where Shopsmith also conducts sales demonstrations), along with smaller amounts through other efforts. Mark V sales demonstrations are performed in shopping malls, at home shows, and at state fairs. Other woodworking products and accessories are sold through mail and Internet channels. Shopsmith recognizes revenue for these orders at the time of product shipment.

Critical Accounting Policies And Estimates

The financial condition and results of operations for Shopsmith presented in the Consolidated Financial Statements, accompanying notes, selected financial data appearing elsewhere within this report, and management's discussion and analysis are dependent upon the Company's accounting policies. The selection and application of these accounting policies involve judgments, estimates, and uncertainties that are susceptible to change. In management's opinion, the Company's critical accounting policies include the allowance for doubtful accounts and accrued recourse liability.

Allowance For Doubtful Accounts

The Company maintains an allowance for doubtful accounts for estimated losses resulting from the inability of our customers to make required payments. Customer accounts are stratified by type of account, original credit rating, and recent payment history. Estimated loss rates are then applied to these groups. Deterioration of our customers ability to make payments could require additions to the allowance.

Accounts repurchased under the recourse provision, discussed below, are carried in trade accounts receivable net of an allowance for doubtful accounts while the Company attempts to collect them. An allowance also exists for estimated future losses on accounts not yet repurchased as discussed below in Accrued Recourse Liability. Since these accounts are not classified as trade accounts receivable until the repurchase occurs, the allowance percentage of doubtful accounts to total receivables is unusually high compared to other receivable arrangements.

Accrued Recourse Liability

Certain retail installment contracts sold to financial institutions through the fiscal year ended March 31, 2001 included a recourse provision. Under this recourse provision, Shopsmith is obligated to purchase the installment contract if the customer defaults on his obligation to the financial institution. The Company's liability for future recourse obligations has been estimated using factors based on the value and rate of change of the value of the outstanding accounts, the rate and changes in the rate of repurchases required under the recourse provision, as well as estimates of amounts collectable after the accounts are repurchased. If these factors would deteriorate, additional accruals would be necessary and would affect future operating results.

Results of Operations

Fiscal 2004 third quarter sales decreased to $3,646,000, or 8.6% from $3,987,000 generated during the same period a year ago. Fiscal 2004 year-to-date sales decreased to $9,933,000, or 6.4% from $10,609,000 last year. The decreases in the third quarter occurred primarily in our demonstration event Mark V sales.

Gross margin rates for the fiscal 2004 third quarter increased by 1.9 percentage points compared to the same period last year due to the decreased proportion of sales through distributors. On a year-to-date basis, gross margin rates decreased by 0.3 percentage points. Operating expenses were reduced by $75,000 to $1,828,000 in the fiscal 2004 third quarter from $1,903,000 in last year's third quarter. This reduction was due to continued improvement in expense controls on Mark V sales events. On a year to date basis, administrative costs were higher than the same period for last year because of a $60,000 favorable agreement on finance participation rebates that occurred in last year's second quarter. For fiscal 2004 year-to-date, operating costs decreased by $173,000 to $4,978,000 from $5,151,000 in the prior year.

Provisions for recoverable federal income taxes are based on estimated annual effective rates, less a valuation reserve. Taxable income for the periods ended January 3, 2004 and December 28, 2002 was offset by the utilization of net operating loss carryforwards. The expense recorded for the nine months ended January 3, 2004 reflected alternative minimum tax payments.

With the reduction in operating expenses, the Company recorded net income of $24,000 or $.01 per diluted share in the quarter ended January 3, 2004 compared to net income of $0 or $.00 per diluted share for the same period of last year. For fiscal 2004 year-to-date, net income of $18,000 or $.01 per diluted share was earned, compared to net income of $100,000 or $.04 per diluted share for the same period last year.

Liquidity and Financial Position

Cash provided from operations totaled $285,000 for the nine months ended January 3, 2004, compared with $14,000 for the same period of the preceding year. Payment of $400,000 on a note payable, decreases in accounts receivable and an increase in inventories were the primary factors affecting cash for the period.

The current ratio was 1.42 to 1 at both January 3, 2004 and April 5, 2003 respectively. The debt to equity ratio decreased to 2.33 to 1 from 2.53 to 1 at April 5, 2003.

During fiscal 2002, Shopsmith entered into an arrangement with John R. Folkerth, the Company's CEO, which allowed the Company to borrow up to $500,000 with interest at twelve percent. The maximum authorized borrowing was increased to $600,000 in July 2002. Substantially all personal property except for certain receivables was pledged as collateral. Interest was due monthly and the note was payable on demand. At July 5, 2003, there was $300,000 outstanding under this arrangement all of which was paid in full on July 31, 2003. Borrowings from Mr. Folkerth were subject to Mr. Folkerth's approval and were payable upon demand by Mr. Folkerth.

On December 31, 2002, Shopsmith entered into a loan agreement with Provident Bank which allows the Company to borrow up to the lesser of $750,000 or 80% of eligible receivables due from Lowe's Companies, Inc., with interest charged at one and one-half percent over the Bank's prime rate. On July 17, 2003, this agreement was amended to allow borrowings up to $1,400,000. The agreement requires compliance with certain net income, net worth, and miscellaneous covenants. Substantially all personal property is pledged as collateral. At January 3, 2004, there were no amounts outstanding under this agreement.

With the increased borrowing allowed under the amended agreement with Provident Bank, the Company believes that adequate liquidity is available for the remainder of the current fiscal year. The Company believes that continued profitability is critical to ensuring adequate liquidity in future fiscal years.

Forward Looking Statements

The foregoing discussion and the Company's consolidated financial statements contain certain forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties, including but not limited to the following: (i) the operating cash flows together with currently available working capital may be inadequate to finance the operating needs of the Company; (ii) cancellation by Lowe's of the in-store sales program; (iii) the Company may fail to comply with the financial covenants contained in its Loan Agreement dated December 31, 2002 with Provident Bank, in which event the Bank may declare all amounts owed by the Company to the Bank to be immediately due and payable; and (iv) actual losses related to doubtful accounts and recourse liabilities (discussed under Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates) may exceed current estimates.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures.

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The Company's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, John R. Folkerth, and the Company's Chief Financial Officer, Mark A. May, have evaluated the Company's disclosure controls and procedures within 90 days of the filing of this report. Messrs. Folkerth and May have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are functioning effectively to provide reasonable assurance that the Company can meet its disclosure obligations. The reporting process is designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in the reports that it files or submits with the Commission is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Commission's rules and forms. Since Messrs. Folkerth's and May's most recent review of the Company's internal controls systems, there have been no significant changes in internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect these controls.
