ALSTOM WINS COMMUTER TRAIN ORDER WORTH 380 MILLION EUROS IN SWEDEN

ALSTOM has won an order worth approx. 380 million euros to supply AB Transitio/Storstockholms Lokaltrafik (SL), the Swedish regional train operator, with 55 regional trains, along with an option for up to 50 additional trains. These trains will be used for service in the greater Stockholm area, and form a major part of the region's integration service plan.

Within the scope of this contract, ALSTOM will supply 55 x 6-car CORADIA LIREXTM trains, which will be designed according to the conditions unique to Stockholm commuter traffic. The base requirements include fast acceleration levels, as the stations are close to one another; numerous and wide doors (12 doors on each side, each measuring 130 cm) to ensure fast passenger flow; full low floor, for increased accessibility; and capacity to function in strongly variable weather conditions. Each train will have a capacity of around 390 seated and 540 standing passengers. The trains will be able to operate at speeds up to 160 km/h, vs 120 km/h for the existing trains, thereby significantly reducing travel times.

The trains will be manufactured by ALSTOM in Germany, Belgium and France. The first units are expected to be commissioned in 2005.

This contract follows the order won at the beginning of 2001 for the supply of 43 CORADIA DUPLEXTM regional trains for the state-owned operator SJ AB, for a total of 300 million euros. ALSTOM also supplied the rolling stock for the 40 km rail link between Stockholm and the Arlanda airport, which was successfully commissioned in 1999.
