Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

In anticipation of the potential launch of our first product, RP103 for nephropathic cystinosis ("cystinosis"), if approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (the "FDA"), effective April 3, 2013, Raptor Pharmaceuticals Inc. ("Raptor"), a Delaware corporation and wholly-owned subsidiary of Raptor Pharmaceutical Corp., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), entered into a Wholesale Product Purchase Agreement (the "Wholesale Agreement") and a Pharmacy Services Agreement (the "Pharmacy Agreement" and together with the Wholesale Agreement, the "Agreements") with Accredo Health Group, Inc. ("Accredo").

Pursuant to the terms of the Wholesale Agreement, Accredo was appointed as the exclusive distributor of PROCYSBI™ (cysteamine bitartrate) delayed-release capsules for cystinosis (the FDA provisionally-approved trade name for RP103 for cystinosis) to specialty pharmacies, health care institutions and facilities in the United States.

Accredo will receive a distributor fee for warehousing and distribution of PROCYSBI. Pursuant to the terms of the Pharmacy Agreement, Accredo was appointed as the exclusive pharmacy which will dispense PROCYSBI to cystinosis patients in the United States. Accredo will also provide specialty pharmacy services to patients and physicians, such as reimbursement assistance, patient education and professional compliance counseling. The Company will pay Accredo a rebate for pharmacy services based upon customary terms.

Each Agreement has an initial term of three (3) years unless terminated earlier by Raptor or Accredo pursuant to the terms of the respective Agreement.

Apart from the Agreements, Accredo has no material relationship with the Company. The foregoing description of the Agreements does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Agreements.
