Item 7.01*Regulation FD Disclosure.

On March 18, 2008, Alexandria Real Estate Equities, Inc. (the "Company") announced that it is commencing an underwritten public offering of 10,000,000 shares of its Series D Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock having a liquidation preference of $25 per share. The shares of Series D Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock will be convertible into shares of the Company's common stock. The dividend rate, conversion rate and offering price are to be determined by negotiations between the Company and the underwriters. The Company will grant the underwriters a thirty day option to purchase up to 1,500,000 additional shares of the Company's Series D Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock to cover over-allotments, if any.

Following the pricing of the offering, the Company expects to update its guidance for FFO per share (diluted) and earnings per share (diluted). Such guidance will depend upon the final terms of the offering of Series D Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock and the final size of the offering, among other factors.

Based on our current view of existing market conditions, the expected terms and size of the offering, and certain current assumptions and estimates, we expect that our updated guidance for FFO per share (diluted) and earnings per share (diluted) will be within the following ranges:

	2008
FFO per share (diluted)	$6.03 - $6.08
Earnings per share (diluted)	$3.13 - $3.18

Generally accepted accounting principles ( GAAP ) basis accounting for real estate assets utilizes historical cost accounting and assumes real estate values diminish over time. In an effort to overcome the difference between real estate values and historical cost accounting for real estate assets, the Board of Governors of the National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts ( NAREIT ) established the measurement tool of Funds From Operations ( FFO ). Since its introduction, FFO has become a widely used non-GAAP financial measure by real estate investment trusts ( REITs ). The Company believes that FFO is helpful to investors as an additional measure of the performance of an equity REIT. The Company computes FFO in accordance with standards established by the Board of Governors of NAREIT in its April 2002 White Paper (the White Paper ) and related implementation guidance, which may differ from the methodology for calculating FFO utilized by other equity REITs, and, accordingly, may not be comparable to such other REITs. The White Paper defines FFO as net income (loss) (computed in accordance with GAAP), excluding gains (or losses) from sales, plus real estate related depreciation and amortization, and after adjustments for unconsolidated partnerships and joint ventures. While FFO is a relevant and widely used measure of operating performance for REITs, it should not be considered as an alternative to net income (determined in accordance with GAAP) as an indication of financial performance, or to cash flows from operating activities (determined in accordance with GAAP) as a measure of the Company's liquidity, nor is it indicative of funds available to fund the Company's cash needs, including its ability to make distributions.

This item contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws. The Company's actual results might differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements, which necessarily involve inherent risks and uncertainties regarding events, conditions and financial trends that may affect our future plans of operation, business strategy, results of operations and financial position. A number of important factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those included within or contemplated by such forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, those described in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K and its other periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Company does not undertake any responsibility to update any of these factors or to announce publicly any revisions to any of the forward-looking statements contained in this or any other document, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
