Table of ContentsVital Images, Inc.*Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*1. Basis of presentation

The accompanying unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of Vital Images, Inc. (the Company) have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and notes required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. In the opinion of management, all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, for a fair statement have been included. Operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2010 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for any subsequent quarter or for the year ending December 31, 2010. The December 31, 2009 condensed consolidated balance sheet information was derived from audited financial statements but does not include all disclosures required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009.

The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. The Company views its operations and manages its business as one reportable segment - the development and marketing of software and related products and services for advanced visualization and analysis solutions for use by medical professionals in clinical analysis and therapy planning. Factors used to identify the Company's single operating segment include the financial information available for evaluation by the chief operating decision maker in making decisions about how to allocate resources and assess performance. The Company markets its products and services through a direct sales force, resellers and independent distributors in the United States and international markets.

Certain reclassifications have been made to prior period operating expense amounts in order to conform to the current period presentation. Specifically, expenses related to certain product development related activities were reclassified from general and administrative expense and sales and marketing expense to research and development expense and therefore had no effect on previously reported stockholder's equity, net loss, or net cash flows.

Operating expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2009 as reported and as reclassified were as follows:

	For the Three Months Ended March 31, 2009
	As Previously Reported	As Reclassified
Operating expenses:

3. Research and development

In January 2009, the Company and Toshiba entered into a development agreement under which Toshiba provides funding in support of the Company's research and development efforts, and the parties work collaboratively to develop and deliver innovative technology advancements for Toshiba's medical equipment and the Company's advanced visualization software solutions. Software developed under the agreement is owned by the Company, and intellectual property in either party's possession that may be useful in the development efforts or that is produced during the development activities is subject to cross-licenses. For payments received under the agreement, the Company's policy is to offset research and development expense in the period in which the related costs are incurred. The agreement does not provide for recourse of payments previously offset against incurred expenses. The Company received payments of $481,000 during the three months ended March 31, 2010, and recognized credits of $241,000 during the three months ended March 31, 2010, to its research and development expense for reimbursement from Toshiba to offset the development costs the Company incurred during the period under the agreement. The remaining unrecognized balance of $240,000 was included in other current liabilities as of March 31, 2010 and will be recognized as an offset to research and development expense in future periods as the development costs are incurred.

4. Equity-based compensation

During the three months ended March 31, 2010, the Company initiated a cash tender offer for certain employee stock options in an effort to reduce its stock option overhang. The tender offer expired on March 19, 2010. Pursuant to the tender offer, employees tendered for purchase 360,000 options, and the Company accepted for purchase all such options. As a result, the Company paid an aggregate of $194,000 to the participating employees and incurred a equity-based compensation expense of $692,000 related to the remaining unamortized equity-based compensation expense associated with the options tendered in the offer. The tender offer applied to outstanding stock options held by employees with an exercise price equal to or greater than $25.00 per share. The price offered for each eligible stock option was at a discount to its Black-Scholes fair value.

Edgar Filing: VITAL IMAGES INC - Form 10-Q

Table of Contents

The following table illustrates how equity-based compensation relating to the tender offer was allocated to the condensed consolidated statements of operations (in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended March 31, 2010
Cost of revenue	$	61
Sales and marketing		247
Research and development		180
General and administrative		204
Equity-based compensation expense relating to the tender offer	$	692

The following table illustrates how equity-based compensation, including the expense related to the tender offer, was allocated to the condensed consolidated statements of operations (in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended March 31,
	2010		2009
Cost of revenue	$	137	$	80

As of March 31, 2010, approximately $5.1 million of unrecognized compensation expense related to stock options was expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.8 years. As of March 31, 2010, approximately $276,000 of unrecognized compensation expense related to restricted stock awards was expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.9 years.

The fair value of each option award is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option valuation model. The Black-Scholes option valuation model requires the development of assumptions that are input into the model. These assumptions include the expected stock volatility, the risk-free interest rate, the option's expected life and the dividend yield on the underlying stock.

For purposes of calculating the fair value of options under applicable accounting standards, the weighted-average fair value of options granted was $5.84 for the three months ended March 31, 2010 and $3.34 for the three months ended March 31, 2009. The weighted-average fair values for the options were based on the fair values on the dates of grant. The fair values for the options were calculated using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model, with the following weighted-average assumptions and expense adjusted using the following expected forfeiture rate assumptions:

	For the Three Months Ended March 31,
	2010	2009
Expected option life	3.73 years	3.75 years

Edgar Filing: VITAL IMAGES INC - Form 10-Q

5. Per share data

Basic net loss per share is computed using net loss and the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted net loss per share reflects the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding plus any potentially dilutive shares outstanding during the period. Potentially dilutive shares consist of shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options, as well as unvested restricted stock.

For the three months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, common share equivalents are not included in the diluted net loss per share calculations because they were antidilutive due to the Company having a net loss for each of the periods. Shares subject to antidilutive stock options and restricted stock awards excluded from net loss per share totaled 2.4 million and 2.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

6. Comprehensive income (loss)

Edgar Filing: VITAL IMAGES INC - Form 10-Q

Comprehensive income (loss) includes net income (loss) and items defined as other comprehensive income. Accounting standards require that items defined as other comprehensive income (loss), such as unrealized gains and losses on certain marketable securities, be separately classified in the financial statements. Such items are reported in the consolidated statements of stockholders' equity as comprehensive income (loss).

The components of comprehensive loss were as follows (in thousands):

	2010		2009

10. Income taxes

As of March 31, 2010 and December 31, 2009, the Company had a full valuation allowance against its $16.8 million of deferred tax assets based on the Company's assessment of cumulative pretax results in recent years and projections of cumulative pretax results in future periods. During the three months ended March 31, 2010, the Company recognized a $24,000 provision for income taxes relating entirely to foreign income taxes. For the three months ended March 31, 2009, the Company's $272,000 benefit for income taxes consisted of federal, state and foreign income taxes. The Company's consolidated effective income tax rate for the three months ended March 31, 2009 was 52.0%, which was a composite rate of the applicable rates in the various jurisdictions and included the relative impact of research and development credits on pretax results for the three months ended March 31, 2009.

11. Commitments and contingencies

Edgar Filing: VITAL IMAGES INC - Form 10-Q

Under general contract terms, the Company often includes provisions in its software license agreements under which the Company agrees to indemnify its customers against liability and damages arising from claims of patent, copyright, trademark or trade secret infringement by the Company's software. The Company has not incurred any material costs as a result of this type of indemnification clause, and the Company does not maintain a product warranty liability related to such indemnification clauses.

The Company has entered into various employment agreements with certain executives of the Company, which include provisions for severance payments subject to certain conditions and events.

The Company is involved in various claims and legal actions in the normal course of business. The outcome of such legal actions, even if unfavorable, will not have a significant adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

12. Share repurchase program

As of the March 31, 2010, the Company had a share repurchase program in place, under which there remained 588,000 shares authorized for repurchase on the open market. No shares were repurchased during the three months ended March 31, 2010. At the time of repurchase, shares are returned to the status of authorized and unissued shares.

Table of Contents

The Company has accounted for repurchases as constructively retired and recorded such repurchases as a reduction of common stock and additional paid-in capital.

13. Recent accounting pronouncements

In October 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2009-13, Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force, that provides amendments to the criteria for separating consideration in multiple-deliverable arrangements. The ASU does not apply to arrangements for which industry specific allocation and measurement guidance exists, such as long-term construction contracts and software transactions. The Company will adopt ASU No. 2009-13 on January 1, 2011. The Company may elect to adopt the provisions prospectively for new or materially modified arrangements beginning on the effective date or retrospectively for all periods presented. The Company does not expect that the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In October 2009, the FASB issued ASU No. 2009-14, Certain Revenue Arrangements That Include Software Elements a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force, that reduces the types of transactions that fall within the current scope of software revenue recognition guidance. Existing software revenue recognition guidance requires that its provisions be applied to an entire arrangement when the sale of any products or services containing or utilizing software when the software is considered more than incidental to the product or service. The ASU also provides guidance on how to allocate transaction consideration when an arrangement contains both deliverables within the scope of software revenue guidance (software deliverables) and deliverables not within the scope of that guidance (non-software deliverables, such as hardware). The Company will adopt ASU No. 2009-14 on January 1, 2011. The Company may elect to adopt the provisions prospectively for new or materially modified arrangements beginning on the effective date or retrospectively for all periods presented. However, the Company must elect the same transition method for this guidance as that chosen for ASU No. 2009-13. The Company does not expect that the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Executive summary

The financial results for Vital Images, Inc. (also referred to as we, us and our) have continued to be affected by the general decline in the U.S. economy, evidenced by contracted capital spending by U.S. hospitals and lower interest rates on our cash and investments. Additionally, we have been impacted by weaknesses in the markets for high-end computed tomography, or CT, equipment and picture archiving and communication systems, or PACS. We mitigated these negative factors through significant cost-control measures, while continuing to make strategic investments.

Vital Images, Inc. summary results for the three months ended March 31, 2010, were as follows:

- Revenue for the 2010 first quarter remained flat at $14.8 million, compared to the first quarter of 2009.

Critical accounting policies and estimates

Our discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations are based upon our Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We have adopted various accounting policies to prepare the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The most significant accounting policies are disclosed in Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009. The preparation of these financial statements requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates. We continually evaluate our critical accounting policies and estimates. We discuss our critical accounting estimates in Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2009. We did not have any significant changes in our critical accounting policies or estimates since December 31, 2009.

The increase in maintenance and support revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, was due to an increase in the number of customers on maintenance contracts from new license sales. Maintenance and support revenue also included Toshiba billing adjustments relating to historic periods of $438,000 and $552,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. The decrease in customer education revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, was due to the general timing of training sessions and the effect of decreased U.S. license sales for full year 2009 compared to full year 2008. Professional services revenue increased for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, due to the timing of services provided.

Hardware revenue

Hardware revenue increased 86% to $434,000 during the first quarter of 2010, compared to $233,000 during the first quarter of 2009. We offer to sell hardware to our customers in conjunction with license sales, and fluctuations are driven by individual customer purchasing preferences. Sales of hardware systems are not core to our strategy, although many customers purchasing our software on an enterprise basis are choosing to also purchase the hardware for their enterprise from us. We expect hardware sales to fluctuate from period to period depending upon the needs and preferences of our customers.

A comparison of gross profit and gross margin by revenue category is as follows (dollars in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended
	2010		March 31, 2009		Change

Edgar Filing: VITAL IMAGES INC - Form 10-Q

License fee gross margins for the three months ended March 31, 2010 decreased slightly compared to the same period in 2009. The decrease in gross margin was primarily due to an increase in third party software sales in the first quarter of 2010 as well as the revenue mix between distribution channels.

Table of Contents

Maintenance and services gross margins increased for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, as revenue increased due to an increase in the number of customers on maintenance contracts from new license sales.

Hardware gross margins decreased for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, due to variability in pricing during the periods. Hardware margin was negative for the three months ended March 31, 2010, due primarily to certain bundled sales transactions for which the revenue allocated to hardware was lower than the cost of the hardware.

Operating expenses

The following is a comparison of operating expenses as a percent of revenue, as well as the percent change in total expense:

Total	$	5,479	$	5,440	$	39	1%

Sales and marketing expense increased slightly for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009. Equity-based compensation increased due to the tender offer in March 2010, described in the Tender offer section below. Depreciation expense decreased as assets became fully depreciated. We had 66 and 68 sales and marketing personnel as of March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

We will continue to manage sales and marketing expenses based on market conditions and business opportunities.

Table of ContentsResearch and development

Research and development expenses were as follows (dollars in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended March 31,
	2010		2009		Change
Salaries, benefits and bonuses	$	2,720	$	2,955	$	(235) (8)%

Total	$	4,030	$	4,002	$	28 1%

The increase in research and development expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, resulted from increased equity-based compensation due to the tender offer in March 2010, described in the Tender offer section below, which was partially offset by cost control measures. Additionally, increased outside services and consulting expenses related to test and product development services were partially offset by decreased salaries and benefits expense resulting from the termination of 20 employees in our Beijing office in August 2009 in conjunction with our decision to discontinue test and product development activities there. We had 87 and 114 research and development personnel as of March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

We will continue to devote resources to develop applications and solutions to improve the cost, quality and accessibility of health care.

General and administrative

General and administrative expenses were as follows (dollars in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended March 31,
	2010		2009		Change
Salaries, benefits and bonuses	$	1,127	$	1,178	$	(51) (4)%

Consulting		146		121		25 21%
Total	$	2,722	$	2,743	$	(21) (1)%

The decrease in general and administrative expenses during the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, resulted from lower headcount and other cost control measures, offset in part by an increase in equity-based compensation due to the tender offer in March 2010, described in the Tender offer section below. We had 38 and 41 general and administrative personnel as of March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

We will continue to manage general and administrative expenses relative to changes in the business.

Table of ContentsTender offer

During the three months ended March 31, 2010, we initiated a cash tender offer for certain employee stock options in an effort to reduce our stock option overhang. The tender offer expired on March 19, 2010. Pursuant to the tender offer, employees tendered for purchase 360,000 options, and we accepted for purchase all such options. As a result, we paid an aggregate of $194,000 to the participating employees and incurred a equity-based compensation expense of $692,000 related to the remaining unamortized equity-based compensation expense associated with the options tendered in the offer. The tender offer applied to outstanding stock options held by employees with an exercise price equal to or greater than $25.00 per share. The price offered for each eligible stock option was less than its fair value.

The following table illustrates how equity-based compensation relating to the tender offer was allocated to our condensed consolidated statements of operations (in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended March 31, 2010
Cost of revenue	$	61
Sales and marketing		247
Research and development		180
General and administrative		204
Equity-based compensation expense relating to the tender offer	$	692

Interest income

We generated $108,000 of interest income in the first quarter of 2010, compared to $430,000 in the first quarter of 2009. The decrease for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, was due to a decline in interest rates and decreased investment in higher yielding U.S. government obligations which matured in fiscal 2009.

Income taxes

During the three months ended June 30, 2009, we established a full valuation allowance against our deferred tax assets based on our assessment of cumulative pretax results in recent years and projections of cumulative pretax results in future periods. During the three months ended March 31, 2010, we recognized a $24,000 tax provision relating entirely to our foreign operations. During the three months ended March 31, 2009, we recognized a $272,000 tax benefit, resulting in an effective income tax rate of 52.0%, which included the relative impact of research and development credits on pretax results in first quarter of 2009.

Liquidity and capital resources

Debt	$	$

Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities as of March 31, 2010 did not change significantly compared to December 31, 2009.

Table of Contents

We believe our existing cash and investments will satisfy our foreseeable working capital requirements for at least the next 12 months. Additionally, we believe our liquidity and strong balance sheet enable us to execute our repurchases of common stock under our existing share repurchase program while still investing in our enterprise solution and marketing strategy and remaining well positioned to pursue strategic acquisition opportunities if and when they emerge.

Summary of Cash Flows

A summary of cash flows is as follows (in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended
	March 31,
	2010	2009
Cash provided by (used in):
Operating activities	$ (104)	$ 1,549
Investing activities	(230)	(10,533)
Financing activities	1,138	(2,678)
Net change in cash and cash equivalents	$ 804	$ (11,662)

Operating activities

Net cash used in operating activities was $104,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2010, compared to net cash provided by operating activities of $1.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2009. The decrease in cash from operating activities was primarily due to the reduced profitability and to the timing of receipts and payments in the ordinary course of business.

Investing activities

Cash used in investing activities was $230,000 for the first three months of 2010, compared to cash used in investing activities of $10.5 million for the same period in 2009.

We used $11.9 million to purchase investments in marketable securities and realized $2.1 million of proceeds from maturities of marketable securities during the first three months of 2009. We did not purchase any investments or realize proceeds from maturities of marketable securities during the first three months of 2010. As of March 31, 2010, our marketable securities consist of U.S. government obligations and corporate commercial obligations.

Edgar Filing: VITAL IMAGES INC - Form 10-Q

We used $230,000 and $720,000 million for purchases of property and equipment in the three months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. The purchases for both periods were principally to upgrade computer equipment. We anticipate that we will continue to purchase property and equipment in the normal course of business. The amount and timing of these purchases and the related cash outflows in future periods are difficult to predict and depend on a number of factors, including the hiring of employees and the rate of change of computer hardware.

Financing activities

Cash provided by financing activities totaled $1.1 million for the first three months of 2010, compared to cash used in financing activities of $2.7 million for the same period in 2009. The primary source of cash in 2010 was $1.2 million in proceeds from the exercise of stock options granted under our stock plans. The primary use of cash in 2009 was $3.2 million for repurchases of common stock under our stock repurchase programs.

We have never paid or declared any dividends and do not intend to pay dividends in the foreseeable future.

Table of Contents

Off-balance-sheet arrangements

We did not have any off-balance sheet arrangements as of March 31, 2010 or December 31, 2009.

Other purchase commitments

We had no significant outstanding purchase commitments as of March 31, 2010. We have entered into a number of technology licensing agreements that provide for the payment of royalties when we sell our software products; we are not obligated for any minimum payments under such agreements.

Foreign currency transactions

Our export sales are primarily negotiated, invoiced and paid in U.S. dollars, with a portion of sales transactions denominated in foreign currencies. As we expand our direct business internationally, we expect to enter into a higher percentage of sales transactions in foreign currencies and could be subject to greater gains or losses based on exchange rate fluctuations.

affecting our operating results. New factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for us to predict all of these factors, nor can we assess the impact each factor or combination of factors may have on our business.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

For information regarding our exposure to certain market risks, see Item 7A. Limitations on the effectiveness of controls

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting. Our internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with established policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Changes in internal control over financial reporting

There were no changes in internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended March 31, 2010 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
