July 19, 2012

Dear Supplier,

We are pleased to inform you that Georgia Gulf has entered into a definitive agreement with PPG under which PPG will spin-off and then merge its chlor-alkali and derivatives business with Georgia Gulf.

The merger will create a Fortune 500 chemicals and building products company poised to capitalize on the combined entity's:

- broad portfolio of downstream products
- cost-advantaged position due to access to domestic natural gas
- size and strength to facilitate new manufacturing opportunities

PPG and Georgia Gulf have a relationship that extends many years. We believe that this merger is a natural strategic fit for Georgia Gulf that provides tremendous value for all of our stakeholders, including customers, employees, stockholders and the communities where we operate. We are excited to combine forces with the talented employees of PPG's chlor-alkali and derivatives business to execute on the significant opportunities we believe are inherent in this merger.

We expect the merger to close by the end of 2012 or early 2013, subject to the receipt of customary regulatory approvals and the approval of our shareholders.

Edgar Filing: GEORGIA GULF CORP /DE/ - Form 425

In the near term, we will continue to operate our business as usual and we expect you will be able to continue the relationship with your current Georgia Gulf contact.

We appreciate that suppliers of both Georgia Gulf and PPG may be concerned about overlapping processes and contacts. Although no decisions will be made until after the merger is closed, we expect to maintain and reinforce current supplier and partner relationships. Our intention is to update you as appropriate. We are excited about this opportunity and thank you in advance for your understanding and continued support.

The press release announcing our merger and further information about Georgia Gulf is available on our website at www.ggc.com.

Thank you again for your support.

Sincerely,
