Item 3.01 Notice of Delisting or Failure to Satisfy a Continued Listing Rule or Standard; Transfer of Listing

On April 26, 2010, Colony Bankcorp, Inc. (the “Company”) received a letter of reprimand from the Nasdaq Listing Qualification Department (the “Listing Department”) indicating the Listing Department had determined the Company failed to comply with Listing Rule 5635(c) (the “Rule”) in connection with the Company’s private placement sale of common stock. The Rule requires prior shareholder approval if shares are sold to the officers and directors in a private placement offering at a discount to the market value, which is considered to be a form of equity compensation. The Listing Department interprets “market value” to be the closing bid price immediately preceding the entering into a binding agreement to issue the securities. The Listing Department determined the Company sold the shares to six officers and directors who participated in the offering at a discount to the market value. All other sales in the offering are unaffected. The shares were sold in the offering at $4.11 per share, which was the twenty day average closing price preceding the offering date. The Listing Department determined that the applicable closing bid price for the six officers and directors on the date binding agreements were executed were $4.25 and $4.50.

Immediately upon notification of the Listing Department’s interpretation of the Company’s failure to comply with the Rule, the Company entered into six amended subscription agreements increasing the price per share paid by the officers and directors to the revised per share price as specified by the Listing Department. Accordingly, the Listing Department has determined the Company regained compliance with the Rule, and upon this disclosure, deems the matter closed.
