Chairman's message

Dear Shareholder,

Welcome to our combined Annual Review and Notice of Meeting. I very much hope that you will be able to join us at the AGM at The Sage Gateshead on Thursday 19 July 2007. If you do not plan to attend please complete and return a proxy form so that you will be able to vote at the Meeting. You will find enclosed a copy of Forward, our shareholder magazine which will bring you up to speed with some of the exciting things happening in your company. In line with our commitment to operating in an environmentally responsible way, this year's AGM shareholder information has been produced in A5 format to save paper and reduce postage costs.

Results

The 2007 financial year was a very good one for your company – our results once again were excellent. Revenue grew by 4% and earnings per share before specific items grew by 16% to 22.7 pence. We continued to invest in technologies, networks and systems that will, we believe, transform our customers' lives and businesses, along with their experience of dealing with BT.

I am delighted to report that our proposed full year dividend is 15.1 pence per share, 27% higher than last year, moving to a two-thirds pay out ratio a year earlier than we had previously announced. We expect to increase the dividend, taking into account our earnings growth, cash generation and our ongoing investment needs. In addition, because of the financial strength of the company we are introducing a new £2.5 billion share buy back programme which we expect to be completed by 31 March 2009.

Business progress

We continued to implement our strategy for profitable growth. New wave revenue now accounts for 36% of our total business. We are a major player in the global networked IT services market, meeting the needs of our customers around the world. In the UK, we have around 11 million broadband lines over which we are able to offer all our customers – consumer, SME, corporate and wholesale – a more accessible, faster and richer broadband experience.

Our wider responsibilities

I am extremely proud of the fact that, for the sixth consecutive year, BT was the highest placed telecommunications company in the Dow Jones Sustainability Index. We are committed to operating in an ethical, sustainable and socially responsible way, and to having a positive impact on all those communities whose lives we touch.

As the corporate social responsibility agenda evolves, so does our strategy. We are, for example, increasingly emphasising three new priorities:

- tackling climate change. We are committed to cutting our CO₂ emissions by 80% from 1996 levels by 2016 and to helping customers and suppliers cut theirs through the more effective use of communications technology. The fact that our Chief Executive, Ben Verwaayen, is chairing the CBI's climate change task force indicates how seriously we take this issue.

Table of Contents

- enabling sustainable economic growth. We are increasingly integrating sustainability in all our business processes.
- helping to build a more inclusive society. We are looking at the ways in which communications technology can help to build a fairer, more inclusive society.

Pensions

Investment performance on assets in the BT Pension Scheme (BTPS) was very good, with year end value at a record £38 billion. During the year, BT and the trustees of BTPS agreed the triennial funding of the scheme. Under a new and more conservative actuarial methodology, the deficit at 31 December 2005 was calculated as £3.4 billion.

BT has agreed to make deficit payments equivalent to £280 million a year for ten years, with the first three years' instalments paid up front - £840 million was paid into the scheme by 30 April 2007. I believe this is a fair and prudent deal for pensioners and shareholders, and demonstrates that your company stands fully behind its pension obligations.

Your Board

I will be stepping down as Chairman in the autumn after more than six challenging and fascinating years with BT. Sir Mike Rake will take over as your next Chairman in September. Mike is currently chairman of KPMG International; he has demonstrated outstanding leadership of this major global organisation during a time of turbulence and change. He will bring extensive international experience to BT as it continues to position itself as a truly global company.

A number of changes to the Board have occurred since I last wrote to you. Sir Anthony Greener stepped down as Deputy Chairman and from the Board on 30 September 2006 after six years and I would like to thank him for his very significant contribution to the development of our strategy. His successor is Maarten van den Bergh, who has been a non-executive director since September 2000. Maarten, who prior to his retirement was president of the Royal Dutch Petroleum Company, also chairs the Remuneration Committee and is our senior independent director. And I'd like to welcome two new directors, Deborah Lathen and François Barrault. Deborah, who is president of Washington-based Lathen Consulting, joined the Board as a non-executive director in February 2007. She brings strong US business and policy experience to BT, including as a previous chief of the Cable Services Bureau at the US Federal Communications Commission. François joined the Board on 24 April 2007 as Chief Executive BT Global Services (in which role he succeeds Andy Green who became CEO of Group Strategy and Operations). As President of BT International, François established a record of exceptional growth in BT's operations outside the UK.

Delivering our plan

I would like to thank shareholders and customers for their confidence in our strategy and the loyalty they have shown in the past six years.

I'd also like to thank our Chief Executive, Ben Verwaayen, the other members of the Board - both executive and non-executive - and all BT people for their efforts and unwavering support. If I cannot entirely resist the temptation to look back over the past six years, it is because that is the best way of acknowledging what they have achieved.

Table of Contents

Back in 2001 your company's net debt had risen to nearly £30 billion. In response, in May 2001, your Board put in place an action plan to reduce debt, manage costs and enhance our abilities to serve our customers even more effectively. That plan has been delivered.

Debt was brought under control by a combination of the largest ever rights issue in UK corporate history and the disposal of a number of businesses including Yell (our international directories and e-commerce business) and our interests in Japan and Spain. 02 (previously Cellnet) was demerged and Concert (our international joint venture with AT&T) was unwound. These structural changes have provided commercial and financial flexibility for the group and our debt in recent years has reduced to sustainable levels.

We have rigorously managed our costs, taking a disciplined approach to eliminating waste and duplication, wherever possible using our own technology to become more cost effective.

During that period, new technologies have given customers access to a range of services – high-speed broadband, fixed-mobile convergence and next-generation TV – that have transformed their idea of what is possible. Our efforts in UK broadband and in global networked IT services have been very successful.

Looking forward

Looking ahead, your company is positioned for success. With a new Chairman and an experienced CEO at the helm, and a workforce experienced in the business of transformation, the signs are very positive. It has been a privilege to be involved with BT's journey to this point; I shall, of course, continue to follow its future progress with great interest and pleasure.

Notice of meeting

To give as many shareholders as possible the opportunity to attend the AGM, we hold the meeting in a different region of the UK each year. We also broadcast my speech and the presentation by our Chief Executive, Ben Verwaayen, live over the internet (see page 27).

Of the directors proposed for re-election this year, one is an independent non-executive director, John Nelson. I am pleased to confirm to shareholders that, following formal performance evaluation, we continue to regard John as an effective non-executive director. He makes a valuable contribution to the Board and has demonstrated a high level of commitment to the role. Deborah Lathen and François Barrault, who have recently joined the Board, are also retiring automatically and are proposed for election. The Board recommend Deborah and François for election.

Even if you are not able to come to the meeting in person, your vote is still important. I would urge you, regardless of the number of shares you own, to vote.

You may vote by completing and returning the enclosed Proxy Card. Alternatively, you may cast your vote online or by telephone or fax.

I look forward to seeing you at The Sage Gateshead.

Separate identification of these items is consistent with the way that financial performance is measured by management and assists in providing a meaningful analysis of the trading results of the group. The principal specific item in the 2007 financial year related to the settlement of substantially all open UK tax matters relating to tax years up to and including 2004/05 with HM Revenue & Customs. The total impact of this settlement was a net credit of £1,067 million comprising a tax credit of £938 million representing those elements of the tax charges previously recognised which were in excess of the final agreed liability, interest income of £139 million on the repayment and operating costs of £10 million representing the costs associated with reaching this agreement. Specific items in the 2006 financial year amounted to a net cost of £96 million, mainly comprising property rationalisation costs and a provision for the costs of establishing Openreach as a separate line of business.

Forward-looking statements – caution advised

Certain statements in this summary financial statement are forward-looking and are made in reliance on the safe harbour provisions of the US Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements include, without limitation, those concerning: expectations regarding progressive dividend policy and dividend payout ratio; the proposed share buy back programme; cutting CO₂ emissions; deficit payments to the pension scheme and being positioned for success.

Although BT believes that the expectations reflected in these forward-looking statements are reasonable, it can give no assurance that these expectations will prove to have been correct. Because these statements involve risks and uncertainties, actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements.

Factors that could cause differences between actual results and those implied by the forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to: material adverse changes in economic conditions in the markets served by BT; future regulatory actions and conditions in BT's operating areas, including competition from others; selection by BT of the appropriate trading and marketing models for its products and services; technological innovations, including the cost of developing new products, networks and solutions and the need to increase expenditures for improving the quality of service; prolonged adverse weather conditions resulting in a material increase in overtime, staff or other costs; timing of entry and profitability of BT in certain communications markets; developments in the convergence of technologies; the anticipated benefits and advantages of new technologies, products and services, including broadband and other new wave initiatives, not being realised; significant changes in market shares for BT and its principal products and services; fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates; and general financial market conditions affecting BT's performance. Certain of these factors are discussed in more detail in the Annual Report including, without limitation, in Group risk factors. BT undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Summary report on Directors' remuneration

Introduction

This is a summary of the full Report on directors' remuneration in the Annual Report, a copy of which is available on request or at www.bt.com/annualreport. The full report will be voted on at the 2007 Annual General Meeting.

Remuneration Committee

The Remuneration Committee sets the remuneration policy and individual packages for the Chairman, executive directors and other senior executives reporting to the Chief Executive. It also approves changes in the company's long-term incentive plans, recommends to the Board those plans which require shareholder approval and oversees their operation.

Remuneration policy for executives

BT's executive remuneration policy is to reward employees competitively, taking into account individual, line of business and company performance, market comparisons and the competitive pressures in the information and communications technology industry.

The policy for executive pay, in general terms, is for base salaries to be positioned within a range, consistent with prevailing market rates, with total direct compensation (basic salary, annual bonus and the value of any long-term incentives) to be at the upper quartile for sustained and excellent performance.

Main components of remuneration

Executive benefits packages comprise a mix of basic salary and performance-related remuneration, as follows:

Basic salary

This is reviewed annually.

Performance-related remuneration

- Annual bonus – the annual bonus plan is designed to reward the achievement of results against set objectives. Targets in respect of corporate performance, set at the beginning of the financial year 2006/07 for each objective, were based on earnings per share, free cash flow and customer satisfaction. In addition, the Chief Executive is entitled to an award of deferred shares equal to two times his cash bonus. Executive directors are entitled to a bonus in the form of deferred shares with a value of 75% of the cash bonus. The shares vest after three years and act both as an incentive and a retention measure.
- Long-term incentives – the BT Equity Incentive Portfolio, comprising share options, incentive shares and retention shares, is designed to ensure that equity participation is an important part of overall remuneration and aligned with shareholders' interests. For the financial year 2006/07, the Committee granted incentive shares to executive directors, senior executives, key managers and professionals:
 - Awards vest only if a predetermined performance target has been achieved.
 - The performance measure is total shareholder return (TSR) calculated on a common currency basis and compared with a basket of companies in the European Telecom Sector.
 - BT's TSR at the end of the three-year measurement period must be in the upper quartile for all of the awards to vest. At median, 25% of shares under award would vest. Below that point none of the share awards would vest.

Retention shares are granted in special circumstances to help recruit or retain individuals with critical skills and to provide additional incentives. In the financial year 2006/07, seven awards were granted for recruitment and retention purposes.

Andy Green, formerly Chief Executive BT Global Services, will be granted an award of retention shares, linked to the financial performance of that line of business, with a value of £217,000, in June 2007 (2006: £750,000). In recognition of the leading role which Andy Green will take in delivering the further transformation of the company, announced in April 2007, a retention share award with a value of £535,000 will be granted to him; the award will vest in two years' time and will not be subject to performance conditions.

Financial year 2007/08 policy

The Remuneration Committee carried out a review of executive remuneration and, as a result, resolved to place a greater emphasis on long-term reward. Incentive share awards with an initial value in the range of 100% to 200% of salary will be awarded. Salaries have been increased to bring them more into line with the market. Ben Verwaayen's salary will be increased to £800,000, Andy Green's salary to £520,000, Hanif Lalani's salary to £520,000, Ian Livingston's salary to £560,000 and Paul Reynolds' salary to £475,000.

François Barrault receives an annual salary of £750,000 (approximately £500,000).

The bonus targets for the Chief Executive and for the executive directors will continue unchanged.

Pension arrangements

Pensions are based on salary alone – bonuses, other benefits and long-term incentives are excluded.

Those directors and other employees, who joined the company prior to 1 April 2001, are members of the BT Pension Scheme, which is a defined benefits scheme. Andy Green is a member of the BT Pension Scheme. Hanif Lalani and Paul Reynolds are members of the Scheme but have opted out of future pensionable service accrual.

The executive directors, who opted out of future pensionable service accrual following the pensions simplification legislation which came into force on 6 April 2006, receive, as an alternative, a cash allowance annually. This is broadly cash neutral for the company.

Other benefits

Other benefits include some or all of: company car, fuel or driver, personal telecommunications facilities and home security, medical and dental cover, special life cover, professional subscriptions, and tax planning and financial counselling.

Service agreements

The policy is for the Chairman and executive directors to have service agreements providing for one year's notice by the company. If BT terminates Sir Christopher Bland's contract before it expires on 30 September 2007, he is entitled to payment of salary and the value of any benefits until that date. Ben Verwaayen is entitled to £700,000 on termination by BT. François Barrault, Andy Green, Hanif Lalani, Ian Livingston and Paul Reynolds are entitled to salary and benefits until the earlier of 12 months from notice of BT's termination of the contract or the director obtaining full-time employment. Sir Mike Rake has a service agreement as a director and Chairman with effect from 26 September 2007.

See the tables on the next pages for details of directors' emoluments and interests in shares.

Retirement benefits are accruing to three directors under defined contribution arrangements and to three directors and one former director under defined benefit arrangements.

Pensions

Sir Christopher Bland is not a member of any of the company's pension schemes but in 2006/07 the company paid him £15,186 as a retirement allowance. B Verwaayen and I Livingston are not members of any of the company's pension schemes but the company has agreed to pay an amount equal to 30% of salary towards pension provision. The aggregate value of contributions paid, or treated as paid, to defined contribution schemes in the 2007 financial year was £88,245. A Green is a member of the BT Pension Scheme. Additional days of pensionable service are being purchased for A Green to bring his pensionable service at age 60 up to 40 years. H Lalani and P Reynolds are members of the BT Pension Scheme but have opted out of future pensionable service accrual and they each receive an annual cash amount equal to 30% of their salary towards pension provision.

Executive directors are also able to participate in BT's all-employee share plans.

Notes^aBeneficial shareholdings include shares held in the director's own name or by close family members.^bOptions granted under the Global Share Option Plan are normally exercisable in full after the third anniversary of their date of grant only if a corporate performance target has been met. Option prices range between 187p and 318p. Options granted in 2002/03 lapsed on 31 March 2007 because the TSR target was not met. The TSR target for options granted in 2004/05 was met in part. As a result, 58% of each option will become exercisable in June 2007; the remaining 42% of each option lapsed.

^cRetention shares are used as a recruitment and retention tool. They normally vest after three years and are transferred to participants, if they are still employed by the company. The TSR target for awards of incentive shares granted in 2004/05 was met in part. As a result, 55% of each award of incentive shares will vest in May 2007; the remaining 45% of each award lapsed on 31 March 2007.

^dAwards of shares are directly linked to the value of annual bonuses. The shares vest after three years and are transferred to participants, if they are still employed by the company. Details of deferred bonus awards in respect of the financial year 2006/07 are given in the notes to the table on page 16. Awards in respect of the deferred bonuses will be granted in June 2007.

^eF Barrault was appointed as a director on 24 April 2007.

Summary Directors' report

Principal activities

BT is one of the world's leading providers of communications solutions and services operating in 170 countries. A review of BT is given on pages 6-9.

Dividends

An interim dividend of 5.1 pence per share (2006: 4.3 pence) was paid on 12 February 2007. The directors recommend a final dividend of 10 pence per share (2006: 7.6 pence) to be paid on 17 September 2007 to shareholders on the register at the close of business on 24 August 2007. This makes a total dividend for the year of 15.1 pence per share (2006: 11.9 pence), an increase of 27%.

Directors

Details of the current members of the Board are shown on pages 20-21. All served throughout the financial year, with the exception of Deborah Lathen and François Barrault, who were appointed on 1 February 2007 and 24 April 2007 respectively.

Sir Anthony Greener served as a director and Deputy Chairman until 30 September 2006. He was succeeded as Deputy Chairman and senior independent director by Maarten vanden Bergh.

Sir Christopher Bland, Andy Green, Ian Livingston and John Nelson retire from the Board by rotation at the Annual General Meeting and being eligible, offer themselves for re-election. Deborah Lathen and François Barrault, having been appointed by the Board, will retire and will be proposed for election.

Sir Mike Rake will succeed Sir Christopher Bland as Chairman on 26 September 2007, when he joins the Board. Sir Christopher steps down from the Board on 30 September 2007.

The letter of appointment of Maarten van den Bergh was extended until 31 August 2009 on his appointment as Deputy Chairman and is terminable by either party on three months' notice.

The letter of appointment of Deborah Lathen is for an initial period of three years from 1 February 2007 and is terminable by either party on three months' notice.

Annual General Meeting

The Notice of the Annual General Meeting to be held at 10.30 am on 19 July 2007 at The Sage Gateshead, St Mary's Square, Gateshead Quays, Gateshead NE8 2JR is contained on pages 22 to 27.

Corporate governance

It is BT's policy to achieve for all our operations best practice in our standards of business integrity. The directors consider that BT has, throughout the year, complied with the provisions set out in section 1 of the 2003 Combined Code on Corporate Governance.

Board, directors and board committees

The Board is currently made up of the part-time Chairman, the Chief Executive, five other executive directors and eight independent non-executive directors. It is BT's policy that the Board will comprise a majority of independent non-executive directors. The roles of the Chairman and the Chief Executive are separate. The non-executive directors provide a strong, independent element on the Board. Non-executive directors are appointed initially for three years at the end of which the appointment may be continued by mutual agreement. The Chairman and the non-executive directors meet regularly without the executive directors. The Chairman ensures the views of shareholders are known to and appropriately considered by the Board.

The Board's principal focus is the overall strategic direction, development and control of the group. A formal statement of its role is available on the company's website. The Board meets at least nine times each year.

During summer 2006 the Board carried out a further evaluation of Board and Board Committee performance and effectiveness. As part of this process, the Chairman had one-to-one sessions with the directors; and the previous Deputy Chairman, Sir Anthony Greener, met all directors individually to review the Chairman's performance.

To meet best corporate governance practice, Audit, Remuneration and Nominating Committees have long been an established part of BT's system of governance. Each committee has written terms of reference, which are available on the company's website. The Audit and Remuneration Committees are made up entirely of independent non-executive directors. The Board considers that several of the Audit Committee's members have recent and relevant financial experience. The Audit Committee reviews the company's published financial results, the Annual Report & Form 20-F and other published information for statutory and regulatory compliance and reports its views to the Board. It recommends the appointment, reappointment and remuneration of the company's external auditors and ensures that key partners are rotated at appropriate intervals. The Board has policies determining what non-audit services the company's external auditors can provide, in order to safeguard their independence and objectivity.

The Nominating Committee ensures an appropriate balance of experience and abilities on the Board, using this evaluation to review the size and composition of the Board and to recommend any proposed changes to the Board. The Equality of Access Board monitors the company's compliance with the Undertakings made to Ofcom following Ofcom's Strategic Review of Telecommunications. Its terms of reference are also available on the company's website.

The Chief Executive, Ben Verwaayen, chairs the Operating Committee, which meets weekly.

The Board also has a Community Support Committee and a Pension Scheme Performance Review Group.

Internal control and risk management

The Board is responsible for the group's systems of internal control and risk management and for reviewing the effectiveness of those systems. Such systems are designed to manage, rather than eliminate, the risk of failure to achieve business objectives; any system can provide only reasonable and not absolute assurance against material misstatement or loss.

BT has processes for identifying, evaluating and managing the significant risks faced by the group. These processes have been in place for the whole of the 2007 financial year and have continued up to the date on which this document was approved.

BT's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting for the group. Management has concluded that at 31 March 2007 the group's internal control over financial reporting was effective.

That the authority and power conferred on the directors in relation to the Section 80 Amount by Article 74 of the Company's articles of association be renewed until 18 October 2008 and for that period the Section 80 Amount shall be £136 million.

The articles give a general authority to the directors to allot unissued shares, which is subject to renewal by shareholders.

The directors will be able to issue new shares up to a nominal value of £136 million (the Section 80 Amount), which is equal to approximately 33% of the issued share capital (excluding treasury shares) of the Company as at the date of this Notice.

See the notes to Resolution 14 for more information on treasury shares.

The following three resolutions will be proposed as special resolutions.

Resolution 13

That the authority and power conferred on the directors by Article 74 of the Company's articles of association be:

- extended to any sale of shares which the Company may hold as treasury shares; and
- renewed until 18 October 2008; and for that period the Section 89 Amount shall be £21 million.

This resolution renews the authority given to directors to allot equity securities without needing to offer these shares to existing shareholders
