Nokia and Samsung Litigation Update.

On April 8, 2008, InterDigital, Inc., InterDigital Technology Corporation and InterDigital Communications, LLC (collectively, "InterDigital") filed a request for a stay and an expedited appeal with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit ("Second Circuit") of a ruling from the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York (the "District Court"), which preliminarily enjoined InterDigital from proceeding against Nokia Inc. and Nokia Corporation (collectively, "Nokia") in the United States International Trade Commission ("USITC") investigation captioned In re Certain 3G Mobile Handsets and Components Thereof, Investigation No. 337-TA-613 (the "Investigation"). In response to InterDigital's request to expedite the appeal and for a stay of the District Court's ruling, the Second Circuit placed the matter for its consideration on its calendar for April 15, 2008. No decision has been received. The District Court's ruling does not preclude InterDigital from proceeding against Samsung Electronics Co. Ltd and certain of its affiliates ("Samsung") in the Investigation.

On April 14, 2008, the Honorable Paul J. Luckern, the Administrative Law Judge overseeing the Investigation, issued an order temporarily suspending the commencement of the evidentiary hearing against Nokia and Samsung in the Investigation pending a ruling on InterDigital's stay request by the Second Circuit. The evidentiary hearing was previously scheduled to commence April 21, 2008. Judge Luckern did not change the scheduled date of July 11, 2008 for his initial determination in the Investigation or the scheduled Target Date of November 12, 2008 for a decision by the USITC.
