On February 7, 2013, K12 Inc. (the "Company") released an Academic Report covering performance at K12-managed and partner schools and addressing key issues facing the industry. The Academic Report can be found in the Investor Relations section of the K12 Inc. website, www.k12.com, under "Investor News." In addition, on February 7, 2013, the Company will be hosting an Academic and Products Day (the "Academic and Products Day") in Herndon, Virginia. At the Company's Academic and Products Day, members of the Company's senior management will meet with investors and investment professionals and make a presentation regarding the Company. A copy of the slides that will be presented at the Academic and Products Day can be found in the Investor Relations section of the K12 Inc. website, www.k12.com, under "Upcoming Events." Certain statements made in the Academic Report and the slides presented at the Company's Academic and Products Day include forward-looking statements covered by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All of these forward-looking statements are based on estimates and assumptions that we believe to be reasonable, but are inherently uncertain.

Factors that may cause the Company's actual results and financial conditions to differ materially for those expressed in this presentation include, but are not limited to, state funding levels, changing student demographics, measurements of academic performance, increased competition, new technologies and products, regulatory developments, general economic conditions, acquisitions and investments. Forward-looking statements are identified by the use of words such as "may", "might", "should", "expect", "plan", "anticipate", "believe", "estimate", "project", "intend", "future", "potential" or "continue", and other similar expressions.

These risks and uncertainties, which are described in detail in our most recent reports on Forms 10-K and 10-Q, may also include other factors which may not be known to us. Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of its date. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law.
