Item 8.01 Other Events.

On January 10, 2007, American Home Food Products, Inc. announced that it entered into an investor relations agreement with Institutional Marketing Services, Inc. for investor relations services. The Company elected to engage IMS as part of its recently announced plan to enter the specialty food business through select acquisitions of growing companies that have premium proprietary product offerings and a history of growth.

IMS and its current management team have successfully positioned emerging growth companies with institutional investors and have built capital market interest in the business plans its client-customers are executing.

The Company believes that the timing for hiring a reputable investor relations firm is opportune in light of the Company's stage of development with its current business plan. The Company cannot provide assurances as to when its business plan will formally commence via an acquisition of an operating entity, although it is in various stages of negotiations with two operating companies in addition to the one operating company it entered into a Letter of Intent with on December 11, 2006.
