Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On August 20, 2010, Nanophase Technologies Corporation (the Company) entered into a Settlement and Termination Agreement (the Settlement Agreement) with Altana Chemie GmbH (Altana). The Settlement Agreement terminates the Joint Development Agreement dated March 23, 2004, as amended on July 7, 2008 (the JDA), between the Company and Altana Chemie AG, where Altana Chemie AG was a predecessor of Altana, except for certain surviving provisions of the JDA, including each party's respective rights in its patents, patent applications and other intellectual property, each party's confidentiality obligations, and the protocol for resolving any subsequent disputes concerning the JDA. Under the Settlement Agreement, the Company and Altana both agree to end their exclusive relationship with one another approximately nineteen months prior to the scheduled termination of the JDA and each agree to release and discharge the other party from all claims, demands, obligations, losses, causes of action, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees and liabilities of any nature which relate to or arise from the JDA. Additionally, the Company agreed to pay Altana $350,000 in cash on August 20, 2010, and provide Altana a percentage discount on future purchases under the Supply Agreement (as defined below), up to $350,000 as additional consideration for terminating the JDA.

Simultaneously with the Settlement Agreement, the Company and Altana entered into a Supply Agreement (Supply Agreement). The Supply Agreement establishes a non-exclusive supply arrangement between the Company and Altana and has a term of five years, which term may be extended by joint action of both the Company and Altana. Altana may source materials from any supplier, including the Company, and has no commitment to purchase any materials from the Company. The Company, similarly, may sell materials to any customer, including Altana. Additionally, the Company has agreed to fulfill orders placed by Altana for specified products during the term of this Supply Agreement, with committed quantities, lead times, pricing, and other elements detailed in the Supply Agreement.

On August 25, 2010, the Company issued a press release regarding the signing of the Settlement Agreement and Supply Agreement. This press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1

Item 1.02 Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement

As described above, the JDA, except for certain surviving provisions, was terminated on August 20, 2010 by the Settlement Agreement. For additional information regarding the termination of the JDA, please see the disclosure in Item 1.01.
