Executive Summary

The quality and strength of our balance sheet allows us to remain committed to deploying the excess capital generated through our business.

In 2014 we increased the dividend rate by 13.8%. Since 2007 we have paid dividends of $884 million

We repurchased $301 million of our outstanding stock, bringing our total repurchases to $2.8 billion since 2007 or 32% of our outstanding shares

Unum's Board and senior management team have been committed to a rigorous leadership development and succession planning process for many years.

In early 2015, we executed on a carefully planned, seamless leadership succession plan

This followed a series of executive-level appointments over the past three years, during which the Company has continued to generate consistently strong operating results and financial returns

Edgar Filing: Unum Group - Form DEFA14A

In addition to the strong 2014 results noted above and those further illustrated on slides 6-8, we believe that our disciplined approach in this sustained low interest rate environment has allowed us to outperform our peers over the long-term, as demonstrated on slides 9-10.

Unum has a record of being responsive to a wide array of constituents including shareholders, customers, claimants, regulators, our employees and our communities. Accordingly, we regularly solicit feedback from shareholders and are responsive to their concerns.

We believe that these consistent results and our long-standing commitment to each of our constituents

Compensation

REASONABLE CEO COMPENSATION

CEO compensation is both reasonable and appropriate in view of our performance when compared against the prior year and when compared to applicable peer groups

Adjusting for the impact of the actuarial Change in Pension Value ($3.2 million) and Company retirement contributions available to all eligible employees (not a CEO-specific benefit; $496,000),

CEO 2014 compensation ($9.619 million) increased 5.7% year over year

The Change in Pension Value is subject to actuarial assumptions that are beyond our Human Capital Committee's control and discretion

A significant portion ($496,000) of our CEO's All Other Compensation relates to Company contributions that are available to all eligible employees

Compensation

2014 AND 2015 DECISIONS

The May 2014 say-on-pay vote passed with 97% approval and we have not changed our pay practices since that time

We have continued to implement the changes that we began in 2013

which were based on shareholder feedback

Beginning with the 2015 grant, we expanded the mix of performance share units (PSUs) from 25% to 50% of long-term incentive for all NEOs other than the CEO (who already had a 50% PSU mix)

The PSUs have a pre-established 3-year average EPS and ROE goals, modified by up to +/-20% based upon relative TSR against a group of peers

As disclosed in our 2014 proxy, the Human Capital Committee in February 2014 removed relative TSR hurdles from our CEO's annual and long-term incentive targets based on:

The competitiveness of his compensation;

The Company's performance during 2013 (71.8% TSR) and over the past several years; and

His strategic leadership of the Company, especially during a difficult financial environment

Governance

Annual Board, committee and individual director evaluations

Substantially independent Board (13 of 15 directors are independent)

Restriction on other board and audit committee service

17

The Unum Board of Directors strongly believes that Unum's compensation programs have been designed and implemented in the best interests of shareholders and aligns pay to Company performance.

The Board is committed to good corporate governance and continues to be responsive to shareholders.

Therefore, the Board urges shareholders to vote FOR all the voting items including Say-on-Pay, election of the proposed slate of directors, and ratification of Ernst & Young as the company's audit firm.
