Altera Customer FAQ

1. What was announced today?

Today we announced that Altera and Intel, the world's largest semiconductor company and a proven technology leader, announced a definitive agreement for Intel to acquire Altera.

2. What does this transaction mean for me?

This transaction will bring exciting opportunities to our valued customers.

Intel is committed to growing our current business.

Additionally, we believe that as part of Intel we will be able to develop innovative FPGAs and system-on-chips for our customers in all market segments.

We remain as focused as ever on meeting and exceeding your expectations and we look forward to continuing to deliver the leading-edge solutions you rely on from us.

Until the transaction is completed, which is anticipated within six to nine months, Altera and Intel will remain separate companies and will conduct business as usual.

3. Will there be any changes to Altera's product roadmap?

We do not expect any changes to products we already announced.

We believe that as part of Intel we will be able to develop innovative FPGAs and system-on-chips for our customers in all market segments.

4. Will Intel continue to develop ARM-based products?

Until the transaction is complete, we will continue to execute our current product roadmap.

Intel has informed us that it plans to support and develop Altera's ARM-based product lines.

Note that Intel has previously acquired companies and product lines that were ARM-based and continued to support and develop them.

5. Will Intel keep Enpirion?

Intel has informed us that it plans to retain Enpirion and continue to support and develop Enpirion products.

6. Will my existing contracts and agreements with Altera be honored?

Yes, all existing contracts and agreements with Altera will be honored.

7. Will there be any changes to Altera product pricing?

The transaction will have no immediate impact on price as we will conduct business as usual until closing.

8. Will there be any Altera product obsolescence as a result of this transaction?

This transaction will have no immediate impact on product obsolescence as we will conduct business as usual until closing.

9. Will my day-to-day contact change going forward?

Until the transaction closes, we will conduct business as usual, and your day-to-day contacts will remain the same.

We will communicate any changes to you following the close of the transaction.

10. Can we enter into new agreements with Altera between now and the close of the transaction?

Yes, until the close we will conduct business as usual.

11. Will TSMC continue to support Altera as before?

We believe TSMC will continue to support Altera with the same quality and responsiveness that we have always enjoyed both before and after the close of the transaction.

12. Will I continue to work with my current distributors?

Until the transaction closes, we will conduct business as usual and you will continue to work with your current distributors.

We will communicate any changes to you following close.

13. Can I speak with my contacts at Intel about Altera?

You can speak to Intel but you should keep in mind that until the transaction closes the two companies are still separate and you should honor all your confidentiality agreements with both companies.

14. Is Intel interested in my market segment or in me as a customer?

Much of the value Intel sees in Altera is our broad reach into many market segments and applications.

Intel's growth strategy and customer focus includes success in a diverse set of customers.

Altera's broad reach enhances Intel's value in these market segments. Altera's technology enables Intel to enhance its portfolio of products focused on the data center and IoT.

15. What are the next steps? When will the transaction be completed?

The transaction is expected to be completed within six to nine months.

We look forward to working closely with the Intel team to ensure a smooth transition and complete the transaction as quickly as possible.

16. When will we be able to get more information?

There are many regulatory restrictions on what additional information we can provide. Subject to these restrictions we will continue to communicate new information to you throughout the process leading up to close and beyond.

You can find more information about what was announced today on a website dedicated to this transaction: <http://intelacquiresaltera.transactionannouncement.com>.
