Item 8.01. Other Events.

On June 28, 2016, General Electric Company ("GE") received approval of its request to the U.S. Financial Stability Oversight Council ("FSOC") for rescission of the designation of GE's financial services businesses ("GE Capital") as a nonbank systemically important financial institution ("nonbank SIFI") under the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 (the "Dodd-Frank Act").

With the rescission of its designation as a nonbank SIFI, GE Capital's activities will no longer be subject to the supervision of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or subject to the prudential standards set forth in the Dodd-Frank Act and its implementing regulations, including minimum regulatory capital and liquidity requirements, submission of annual resolution plans, and regulatory reporting requirements. GE Capital's non-U.S. operations will remain subject to the supervision of the U.K. Prudential Regulation Authority until GE Capital's international holding company no longer includes licensed credit institutions, a process that GE Capital is targeting to complete in the first half of 2017.

Forward Looking Statements

This document contains "forward-looking statements" – that is, statements related to future events that by their nature address matters that are, to different degrees, uncertain. For details on the uncertainties that may cause our actual future results to be materially different than those expressed in our forward-looking statements, see <http://www.ge.com/investor-relations/disclaimer-caution-concerning-forward-looking-statements> as well as our annual reports on Form 10-K and quarterly reports on Form 10-Q. We do not undertake to update our forward-looking statements. This document also includes certain forward-looking projected financial information that is based on current estimates and forecasts. Actual results could differ materially.
