Media Release

Credit Suisse Group and Düsseldorf Public Prosecutor's Office Reach Agreement

Zurich, September 19, 2011 Credit Suisse Group and the Public Prosecutor's Office in Düsseldorf (Germany) have reached an agreement regarding the proceedings against Credit Suisse employees. The entire proceedings are to be resolved. Credit Suisse will make a payment of EUR 150 million (to be taken in 3Q11). The relevant applications will be submitted to the Düsseldorf District Court today by the Düsseldorf Public Prosecutor's Office.

Credit Suisse welcomes this outcome. A complex and prolonged legal dispute has been avoided, with an agreed solution that provides legal certainty

Credit Suisse pursues a strategy of only acquiring and managing assets in compliance with the applicable legislation and regulations. Credit Suisse has been preparing for the changes in cross-border wealth management for a long time and today has a strong presence in Germany, with operations in 12 locations and a team of around 750 employees.

Cautionary statement regarding forward-looking information and non-GAAP information

This press release contains statements that constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act. In addition, in the future we, and others on our behalf, may make statements that constitute forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements may include, without limitation, statements relating to the following:

- our plans, objectives or goals;
- our future economic performance or prospects;

- the potential effect on our future performance of certain contingencies; and
  - assumptions underlying any such statements.

Words such as “believes,” “anticipates,” “expects,” “intends” and “plans” and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. We do not intend to update these forward-looking statements except as may be required by applicable securities laws. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, and risks exist that predictions, forecasts, projections and other outcomes described or implied in forward-looking statements will not be achieved. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause results to differ materially from the plans, objectives, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. These factors include:

- the ability to maintain sufficient liquidity and access capital markets;
  - market and interest rate fluctuations and interest rate levels;
- the strength of the global economy in general and the strength of the economies of the countries in which we conduct our operations, in particular the risk of continued slow economic recovery in the US or other developed countries in 2011 and beyond;
- the direct and indirect impacts of continuing deterioration or slow recovery in residential and commercial real estate markets;
- adverse rating actions by credit rating agencies in respect of sovereign issuers, structured credit products or other credit-related exposures;
  - the ability of counterparties to meet their obligations to us;
- the effects of, and changes in, fiscal, monetary, trade and tax policies, and currency fluctuations;
  - political and social developments, including war, civil unrest or terrorist activity;
- the possibility of foreign exchange controls, expropriation, nationalization or confiscation of assets in countries in which we conduct our operations;
  - operational factors such as systems failure, human error, or the failure to implement procedures properly;
- actions taken by regulators with respect to our business and practices in one or more of the countries in which we conduct our operations;
  - the effects of changes in laws, regulations or accounting policies or practices;
  - competition in geographic and business areas in which we conduct our operations;
    - the ability to retain and recruit qualified personnel;
    - the ability to maintain our reputation and promote our brand;
    - the ability to increase market share and control expenses;
    - technological changes;
- the timely development and acceptance of our new products and services and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users;
- acquisitions, including the ability to integrate acquired businesses successfully, and divestitures, including the ability to sell non-core assets;
  - the adverse resolution of litigation and other contingencies;
  - the ability to achieve our cost efficiency goals and cost targets; and
  - our success at managing the risks involved in the foregoing.

We caution you that the foregoing list of important factors is not exclusive. When evaluating forward-looking statements, you should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and events, as well as the information set forth in our Annual Report 2010 under IX – Additional information – Risk Factors.

This press release contains non-GAAP financial information. Information needed to reconcile such non-GAAP financial information to the most directly comparable measures under GAAP can be found in the Credit Suisse Financial Release 2Q11.
