Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of GTX have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States for interim financial information and applicable regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States have been omitted pursuant to such rules and regulations. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring adjustments) considered necessary for a fair statement of financial position and results of operations have been included. Our operating results for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2016 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2016. The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2015, which are included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements reflect the accounts of GTX Corp and its wholly owned subsidiaries. All significant inter-company balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Going Concern

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes the Company will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. The Company has incurred net losses of $813,771 and $889,948 for the nine months ended September 30, 2016 and 2015, respectively, has incurred losses since inception resulting in an accumulated deficit of $19,332,834 as of September 30, 2016, and has negative working capital of $1,061,331 as of September 30, 2016. The Company anticipates further losses in the development of its business.

The ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon the Company generating profitable operations in the future and/or obtaining the necessary financing to meet its obligations and repay its liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due. The Company's ability to raise additional capital through the future issuances of debt or equity is unknown. The obtainment of additional financing, the successful development of the Company's contemplated plan of operations, or its attainment of profitable operations are necessary for the Company to continue operations. The ability to successfully resolve these factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The consolidated financial statements of the Company do not include any adjustments that may result from the outcome of these aforementioned uncertainties.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements requires the use of estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues, expenses and contingencies. These estimates include, but are not limited to, estimates related to revenue recognition, allowance for doubtful accounts, inventory valuation, tangible and intangible long-term asset valuation, warranty and other obligations and commitments. Estimates are updated on an ongoing basis and are evaluated based on historical experience and current circumstances. Changes in facts and circumstances in the future may give rise to changes in these estimates which may cause actual results to differ from current estimates.

Fair Value Estimates

Pursuant to the Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) No. 820, “Disclosures About Fair Value of Financial Instruments”, the Company records its financial assets and liabilities at fair value. ASC No. 820 provides a framework for measuring fair value, clarifies the definition of fair value and expands disclosures regarding fair value measurements. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in an orderly transaction between market participants at the reporting date. ASC No. 820 establishes a three-tier hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in the valuation methodologies in measuring fair value:

Level 1—Inputs are unadjusted, quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities at the measurement date.

Level 2—Inputs (other than quoted prices included in Level 1) are either directly or indirectly observable for the asset or liability through correlation with market data at the measurement date and for the duration of the asset/liability’s anticipated life.

Level 3—Inputs reflect management’s best estimate of what market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Consideration is given to the risk inherent in the valuation technique and the risk inherent in the inputs to the model.

The carrying values for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, other current assets, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their fair value due to their short maturities.

Equity Securities

During the second quarter of fiscal 2016, we received restricted equity securities, which we have classified as “available for sale” securities. Our equity securities are marked to market on a quarterly basis, with unrealized gains and losses being excluded from earnings and reflected as a component of other comprehensive income.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

Following are the disclosures related to our financial assets pursuant to ASC No. 820:

	September 30, 2016
	Fair Value	Input Level
Available for sale marketable securities:
Common stock	$63,325	Level 1

The fair value of our available for sale securities is determined based on quoted market prices for identical securities on a quarterly basis.

Derivative Instruments

Our debt or equity instruments may contain embedded derivative instruments, such as conversion options, which in certain circumstances may be required to be bifurcated from the associated host instrument and accounted for separately as a derivative instrument liability.

Our derivative instrument liabilities are re-valued at the end of each reporting period, with changes in the fair value of the derivative liability recorded as charges or credits to income, in the period in which the changes occur. For bifurcated conversion options that are accounted for as derivative instrument liabilities, we determine the fair value of these instruments using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. This model requires assumptions related to the remaining term of the instrument and risk-free rates of return, our current Common Stock price and expected dividend yield, and the expected volatility of our Common Stock price over the life of the option.

Reclassifications

For comparability, certain prior period amounts have been reclassified, where appropriate, to conform to the financial statement presentation used in 2016. These reclassifications have no impact on net loss.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

The Financial Accounting Standards Board has recently issued accounting pronouncements, most of which represent technical corrections to the accounting literature or application to specific industries, which are not expected to have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows. We do not believe that the adoption of any recently issued accounting standards will have a material effect on our financial position and results of operations.

3. JOINT VENTURE AND INVESTMENT IN EQUITY SECURITIES

On June 16, 2016, the Company entered into a Definitive Agreement with Inventergy Innovations, LLC ("Inventergy"), a subsidiary of Inventergy Global, Inc. (NASDAQ: INVT). The Company partnered with Inventergy to monetize three (3) GTX Patents. Upon signing the Agreement, the Patents were assigned to an Inventergy subsidiary, and Inventergy assigned a 45% interest in the entity to GTX. Inventergy is also obligated to make a sequence of quarterly payments to GTX in 2017, which payments represent non-refundable advances against future royalty and other payments. Pursuant to a non-exclusive license back to GTX, GTX will still retain all use rights of the 3 patents.

In addition to the Definitive Agreement, the Company entered into a Consulting Agreement with Inventergy for a period of eighteen months. The Company was issued 42,500 shares of restricted common stock of INVT, of which 1/6th of the stock vests at the close of each calendar quarter and Inventergy agreed to make five monthly payments to GTX totaling $250,000 through December 2016 as compensation. As of September 30, 2016, $125,000 of the cash compensation had been recognized. As of September 30, 2016, we owned 42,500 shares of restricted common stock of INVT valued $63,325.

The Company uses the equity method to account for its investment in the Inventergy subsidiary. Under the equity method, the Company recognizes its share of the earnings and losses of the subsidiary as they accrue instead of when they are realized. As of September 30, 2016, the Company's investment in the subsidiary was $0.

4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In order to preserve cash for other working capital needs, various officers and members of management have agreed to accrue, and defer payment of, portions of their salaries since fiscal 2011.

On September 30, 2016 management has elected to transfer accrued salaries into long-term convertible promissory notes, due on December 31, 2018, the total amount of salaries converted was $318,671. The notes will bear a 10% annual interest rate. Management shall have the right, but not the obligation to convert up to 50% of the amount advanced and accrued interest into shares, warrants or options of common or preferred stock of the Company at $0.01 per share.

As of September 30, 2016 and December 31, 2015, the Company owed $295,131 and $291,451, respectively for such accrued wages.

On January 15, 2016, we received an additional installment of $15,000 from an accredited investor relating to the 7.5% Convertible Debenture entered into on October 9, 2015. On April 15, 2016, this note was sold to a private investor pursuant to the Exchange Agreement as described below.

On January 27, 2016, pursuant to a Note Purchase Agreement with an unaffiliated third party (the "Investor") relating to the sale of an unsecured convertible promissory note and warrant. The third party purchased an additional unit for $25,000 and a principal balance of $30,000. The convertible promissory note is divided into units ("Units"), each in the principal amount of $30,000, with equal installments of $1,000 due sequentially every week until $30,000 has been repaid and warrants to purchase 1,250,000 shares of common stock at an exercise price of $0.015 per share. The convertible promissory notes are due on November 25, 2016, subject to certain conditions and restrictions set forth in the notes. The convertible promissory note has a relative fair value of $23,899 and the warrants has a relative fair value of $6,101 at the date of issuance determined using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. The assumptions used to calculate the fair market value are as follows: (i) risk-free interest rate of 0.88% (ii) estimated volatility of 171% (iii) dividend yield of 0.00% and (iv) expected life of the warrants of 25 months. The convertible note is convertible into shares of common stock based on the volume weighted average of the closing price per share for the 20 consecutive trading days prior to the conversion date if there is any outstanding principal balance due after the expiration due date. As of September 30, 2016, $5,000 cash installment payments have been made toward lowering the outstanding principal balance. On September 14, 2016, we consolidated all of these Investor's notes into a single note valued at $120,000. The note is due December 16, 2016 and carries an OID of 20%.

On February 8, 2016 the Investor purchased two $25,000 units (for a total of $50,000).

During the period ended September 30, 2016, we made a cash payment of $23,000 to an accredited investor to reduce the outstanding balance on his loans.

On March 16, 2016, we entered into a Loan Agreement with an independent accredited investor relating to the sale of a convertible promissory note and warrant. As a result, we issued convertible notes with a total principal balance of $55,000 and warrants to purchase 2,500,000 shares of common stock at an exercise price of $0.0125 per share. The assumptions used to calculate the fair market value are as follows: (i) risk-free interest rate of 1.05% (ii) estimated volatility of 221% (iii) dividend yield of 0.00% and (iv) expected life of the warrants of 3 years. Derivative liabilities

The conversion features embedded in the convertible notes were evaluated to determine if such conversion feature should be bifurcated from its host instrument and accounted for as a freestanding derivative. In the convertible notes with variable conversion terms, the conversion feature was accounted for as a derivative liability. The derivatives associated with the term convertible notes were recognized as a discount to the debt instrument and the discount is amortized over the expected life of the notes with any excess of the derivative value over the note payable value recognized as additional interest expense at the issuance date. Amortization of the debt discount totaled $623,675 and $0 during the periods ended September 30, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

The derivative liability was calculated using the Black Scholes method over the expected terms of the convertible debentures, with a risk free rate of 2% and volatility of 107% as of September 30, 2016. Included in Derivative Income in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations is income arising from the change in fair value of the derivatives of $537,738 and $13,490 during the periods ended September 30, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Introduction

Unless otherwise noted, the terms "GTX Corp", the "Company", "we", "us", and "our" refer to the ongoing business operation of GTX Corp and our wholly-owned subsidiaries, Global Trek Xploration, and LOCiMOBILE, Inc. During part of the first quarter of 2015, we owned Code Amber News Service, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary that was discontinued in February 2015. Accordingly, unless otherwise specified, references to the "Company", "we", "us", and "our" for periods before February 2015 also refer to, and include Code Amber News Service, Inc.

Operations

GTX Corp and its subsidiaries (Global Trek Xploration, Inc. and LOCiMOBILE, Inc.) are engaged in the design, development, manufacturing, distribution and sales of five (5) related products and services in the GPS and BLE wearable technology personal location and wandering assistive technology business. Through a proprietary enterprise (IoT) monitoring platform and licensing subscription business model, the Company offers a complete end to end solution of hardware, middleware, apps, connectivity, licensing and professional services, letting you know where or how someone or something is at the touch of a button, delivering safety, security and peace of mind in real-time.

Overview

Since the start of 2015 the Company has focused on building channels of distribution for its product lines of embedded devices, Stand-Alone devices and Digital Apps which all funnel into the GTX Corp IoT monitoring platform. Each product line is sold both direct to consumer (B2C) and business to business (B2B) through a global network of resellers, affiliates, distributors, nonprofit organizations, government agencies, manufacturers reps and retailers. The Company has been ramping up its product distribution and sales channels and, as of September 30, 2016, the Company had live units in the field and / or paying subscribers in over 35 countries, had 8 regional sales reps in the US, 6 retired and active professional athlete brand ambassadors, over 300 online affiliates, 15 international and domestic distributors, and a joint venture distribution agreement in Ireland. Also we were issued a vendor numbers and/or orders for reimbursement in 6 U.S. states, and have applied for other State and Federal reimbursement codes, grants and private insurance reimbursement, which if granted is expected to increase the potential market for users of our SmartSole product line. All product lines are sold with a monthly, quarterly or annual subscription or licensing service plans ranging from $5 to $49 per month with close to 2,500 worldwide subscribers as of September 30, 2016.

During the quarter ended September 30, 2016, GTX Corp applied for and was assigned a National Provider Identifier (NPI) number from the National Plan Provider Enumeration System. The NPI is a unique identification number for covered health care providers. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) developed the National Plan and Provider Enumeration System (NPPES) to assign these unique identifiers and as outlined in the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), covered providers must also share their NPI with other providers, health plans, clearinghouses, and any entity that may need it for billing purposes. Having an NPI number should further facilitate our ability to sell our SmartSoles for elderly and other persons who need this product for medical purposes, and to comply with the billing requirements of government agencies and insurance providers.

We have been modifying and upgrading our modules of our SmartSoles GPS tracking product to, among other things, make it available for use in various localities without customization. We refer to the modified/upgraded versions as versions 1.25, 1.5, etc. 450 of our last 500 units of our version 1.25 GPS modules devices that were assembled for use in SmartSoles the second fiscal quarter of 2016 were deployed into the marketplace in this third quarter of 2016. During this current quarter, we went into our third and fourth production runs of version 1.25 of our SmartSole modules, and are expecting delivery of 250 units in November and 500 units in December. We also placed an order for 300 units of version 1.5 with an expected delivery in January 2017. The production and roll-out of version 1.5 of our SmartSole product is expected to be a significant advancement for us on many levels. First we no longer have to custom make SmartSoles for our international distributors with their Sim cards, so our manufacturing cost and time lines are reduced and we have more flexibility to timely meet our customers' requirements. Second we are now able to bill for data charges in over 100 countries, thereby increasing our potential markets. The ability to both produce a product that is able to be delivered to foreign market without customization and to bill for data charges in additional countries will enable us to increase our RPS (revenue per subscriber) which is continuing to trend up from last year.

During Q1, after having been granted our third patent in our "286" family of patents, we began actively exploring a monetization campaign. During Q2 2016 the Company signed an agreement with Inventergy Innovations, LLC ("Inventergy"), a subsidiary of Inventergy Global, Inc. (NASDAQ: INVT). Under the agreement, Inventergy will spearhead a monetization campaign for the three "286" GTX patents. Part of Inventergy's strategy will be to require potential infringers of these patents to either license the use of the patents or sell to the patents to third parties that operate in related industries. Upon the signing of the Inventergy agreement, the three patents were assigned to an Inventergy subsidiary. In exchange for this assignment, GTX received a 45% interest in the Inventergy subsidiary. The Inventergy subsidiary granted GTX a non-exclusive license to use the three "286" patents. Accordingly, GTX will still retain all use rights of the 3 patents in GTX's products.

All three of the GTX Corp patents are not limited to any particular form factor and are applicable to any generic tracking device, which, in its simplest form includes a communication device (i.e. cell phone modem, blue tooth or Wi-Fi communicator), a location detector (i.e. GPS or Wi-Fi Module) and data memory. This technology is now commonly embedded in millions of devices and deployed across numerous industries.

The potential value of these 3 patents is that they extend far beyond our core footwear patents and into areas such as GPS watches, fitness wearables that track location, hand-held GPS devices, tracking apps on Smartphones, standalone GPS tracking devices and location based platforms in general, which represents a very sizable addressable market.

Upon signing the agreement with Inventergy Innovations, LLC, its parent company, Inventergy Global, Inc., issued to GTX 42,500 restricted shares of Inventergy Global, Inc. common stock, having an initial value of $62,479, and a series of monthly cash payments totaling $250,000 through December 2016 as payment for consulting services. The restricted shares of common stock vests at a rate of 1/6th at the close of each calendar quarter. Inventergy has also paid us $50,000 this quarter in cash and $75,000 in October 2016 as part of an overall payment schedule of fees due to GTX throughout the remainder of 2016. Starting in 2017, we expect a quarterly draw from the joint subsidiary against any future licensing revenues or possible sale of the patents that Inventergy is working to monetize.

In Q3, we delivered a prototype of our new proprietary tracking device for military use, on a non-cellular, encrypted GPS technology platform. These new devices are being developed for large scale installations and bases that need to monitor the location and movement of every asset (both human and non-human on that base, but due to the remote location of these bases and lack of conventional cellular coverage the devices utilize RF technology and are in a hardened military grade encasement. In preparation for developing an ongoing relationship with the military, we have applied for and received a System for Award Management (SAM) number and a General Services Administration (GSA) number and approval for SENSENET. We have shipped a small order of this prototype product to the military. Based on the feedback we have received from our customer, subject to budget approval, we may receive additional orders, possibly as early as in the fiscal quarter ended March 2017.

In our ongoing strategy to expand our SmartSole target market beyond senior citizens and towards young adults with autism and with the recent study that claims 1/3 of autistic youngsters wander, last quarter we brought on a new advisor - Lynette Louise an Internationally renowned Brain Expert with two board certifications in neurotherapy and author of several books. We are currently working with Lynette to begin offering workshops and consultations for families caring for a child on the far extreme of the ASD spectrum. This new initiative is intended to strengthen our role and presence in the autistic community and to expand our product offerings in our online store. This initiative is expected to launch in the 4th quarter of 2016.

Results of Operations

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with our interim consolidated financial statements and the related notes that appear elsewhere in this Quarterly Report.

Revenues

Revenues during Q3 2016 increased by 99% or $119,930 in comparison to Q3 2015 primarily due to $100,000 of consulting fees we received from Inventergy related to our proposed monetization of three patents in our IP portfolio, and to the increase in subscribers and higher revenues per subscriber (RPS). SmartSoles revenues increased due to our ability to have an embedded SIM card in our devices. Revenues from the sale of GPS SmartSoles in Q3 2015 accounted for approximately 62% of total revenues, in comparison to Q3 2016 SmartSole sales accounted for approximately 35% of total revenues. The increase in revenues (excluding the Inventergy payments) stems from a diverse product line and increase in recurring licensing and subscription service fees. We also had an increase in direct to consumer sales at a higher margin, increasing overall profits and increase in revenues per subscriber (RPS) as our consumer subscribers pay the higher retail price ranging from $25 to $49 per month and our B2B customers pay the wholesale price of $5 to $18 per month. The balance of the revenue for the second quarter of 2016 represented sales of stand-alone units, monthly service plans, licensing fees and App downloads.

Cost of goods sold

Cost of goods sold decreased 9% or $8,496 during Q3 2016 in comparison to Q3 2015 primarily due to increase in buying and manufacturing efficiencies. Total gross margin increased from 24% in Q3 2015 to 65% in Q3 2016, which reflects more revenue being derived from higher margin products and services and the consulting fees from Inventergy (there were no costs associated with that payment). As we increase our subscription base of monthly recurring fees, total overall gross margins are expected to increase accordingly.

Wages and professional fees

Wages and professional fees during Q3 2016 decreased 24% or $84,397 in comparison to Q3 2015 primarily due a reduction in stock based compensation to consultants and advisors.

General and administrative

General and administrative expenses during Q3 2016 increased 42% or $15,876 in comparison to Q3 2015 primarily due to an increase in business, customers and subscribers.

Other income (expense), net

Other income, net decreased by 111% or $105,723 from Q3 2015 to Q3 2016 primarily as a result of costs associated in 2015 with debt financings, and the loss on the retirement of debt and the gain from the extinguishment of debt of $137,250. No such costs were realized in the same quarter in 2016. Other expense includes interest expenses related to notes, derivative income/loss, amortization of debt discount, and exchange gains or losses. The accounting treatment for the bifurcation of the derivative liabilities embedded in our short-term convertible notes results in a net derivative, non-cash income of $215,502. The net derivative expense represents the change in fair value of the derivative liability during the period as well as the amortization of the related debt discount.

Net loss

Net loss decreased by 34% or $91,224 from Q3 2015 to Q3 2016 primarily as a result of increased sales of SmartSoles, recurring monthly subscriptions and the revenue from the consulting income with Inventergy, and a decrease in total operating expenses.

Revenues

Revenues during the first nine months of 2016 increased by 27% or $107,874 in comparison to the same period in 2015, primarily due to the consulting fees and revenues related to the recognition of the value of the common stock received from Inventergy, the increase in subscribers and higher revenues per subscriber (RPS), and our first military shipment. Revenues from the sale of GPS SmartSoles in Q3 2015 accounted for approximately 72% of total revenues, in comparison to Q3 2016 SmartSole sales accounted for approximately 38% of total revenues, reflecting an increase in revenue streams from a diverse product line and recurring licensing and subscription service fees. We also had an increase in direct to consumer sales at a higher margin, increasing overall profits and increase in revenues per subscriber (RPS) as our consumer subscribers pay the higher retail price ranging from $25 to $49 per month and our B2B customers pay the wholesale price of $5 to $18 per month. The balance of the revenue for the second quarter of 2016 represented sales of stand-alone units, monthly service plans, consulting fees and App downloads.

Cost of goods sold

Cost of goods sold decreased 24% or $67,732 during the first nine months of 2016 in comparison to the same nine month period in 2015 primarily due increased in operational efficiencies. Total gross margin increased from 27% in the 2015 period to 56% in 2016, which reflects higher margins realized from the sale of the GPS SmartSole and consulting fees from Inventergy (there were no costs associated with that payment). We expect that overall gross margins will continue to increase slightly as the higher margin service subscription revenues increase.

Wages and professional fees

Wages and professional fees during the first nine months of 2016 decreased by 12% or $106,933 in comparison to the 2015 period despite increased staff, primarily due to increased operational efficiencies. Professional fees are expected to increase as we grow our business and expand our products into the wearable technology marketplace both in the U.S. and internationally.

General and administrative

General and administrative expenses during the first nine months of 2016 decreased 0.1% or $95 in comparison to the 2015 period despite the increase in sales and other activities. However, such expenses may increase in the future if our operations increase in accordance with our business plan.

Other income/(expense), net

Other income, net decreased by 525% or $206,457, from the first nine months of 2015 to 2016 primarily as a result of a decrease in costs associated with debt financings, and the loss on the retirement of debt and the gain from the extinguishment of debt of $137,250 realized in the same quarter in 2015, but not in 2016. Other income/expense includes interest expenses related to notes, derivative income/loss, amortization of debt discount, and exchange gains or losses. The accounting treatment for the bifurcation of the derivative liabilities embedded in our short-term convertible notes results in a net derivative, non-cash income of $537,738. The net derivative expense represents the change in fair value of the derivative liability during the period as well as the amortization of the related debt discount.

Net loss

Net loss for the respective nine month period decreased from 2015 to 2016 by $76,177, or 9%, primarily as a result of increased sales of SmartSoles, recurring monthly subscriptions and the revenue from the consulting agreement with Inventergy, as a direct result of the higher margin revenues and better operational efficiencies. The loss from operations decreased by a larger amount, or 30%, but the inclusion of losses related to derivative expenses, and increased interest expense reduced the net result.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of September 30, 2016, we had $29,945 of cash and cash equivalents, and a working capital deficit of $1,061,331, compared to $7,868 of cash and cash equivalents and a working capital deficit of $1,127,492 as of December 31, 2015. A large part of our negative working capital position at September 30, 2016 consisted of $295,131 of amounts due to officers and management of the Company for accrued wages, and $626,303 related to the principal balance of unsecured convertible promissory notes, net of discount. As further described below, since September 30, 2016, we have received a total of $444,500 from the sale of unsecured convertible promissory notes.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2016, our net loss was $813,771, compared to a net loss of $889,948 for the nine months ended September 30, 2015. Net cash used in operating activities for Q3 2016 and Q2 2015 was $392,617 and $506,701, respectively. Net cash used in operations was lower in Q3 2016 as compared to Q3 2015 because of non-cash expenses relating to stock issued for services.

Net cash provided by financing activities during Q3 2016 was $421,500 and consisted primarily of proceeds totaling $444,500 received from advances under various convertible note payable agreements as well as payments on Convertible Notes. Net cash provided by financing activities during Q3 2015 was $509,500 and consists of proceeds totaling $512,500 received from advances under a convertible note payable agreement.

Because revenues from our operations have, to date, been insufficient to fund our working capital needs, we currently rely on the cash we receive from both our financing activities and the Inventergy payments to fund our capital expenditures and to support our working capital requirements. The sale of the SmartSole product, and the recurring revenues that we will receive from users, is expected to enhance our liquidity during the balance of 2016 and 2017, although the amount of revenues we receive in these periods cannot be estimated. We also expect to receive periodic cash payments under our patent monetization agreement with Inventergy. These payments, if they continue, will supplement or liquidity needs, but will not be sufficient to fund our expected cash needs in 2016 unless SmartSole revenues increase substantially. Inventergy has the right to terminate our agreement at any time. We also are entitled to receive 45% of third party payments that Inventergy receives from third parties upon the sale or licensing of our patent rights. Because it is uncertain if, or when, we will ever receive any payments from third parties related to the license or purchase of our patent rights, we have not included any such payments in our financial budgets.

Until such time as the SmartSoles revenues can support our working capital requirement, we expect to continue to generate ancillary revenues from our other licenses, Track My Work Force subscriptions, international distributors, hardware sales, professional services and new customers in the pipeline. However, the amount of such revenues is unknown and is not expected to be sufficient to fund our working capital needs. For our internal budgeting purposes, we have assumed that such revenues will not be sufficient to fund all of our planned operating and other expenditures in 2016 and early 2017. In addition, our actual cash expenditures may exceed our planned expenditures, particularly if we invest in the development of improved versions of our existing products and technologies, and if we increase our marketing expenses. Accordingly, we anticipate that we will have to continue to raise additional capital in order to fund our operations in 2016. No assurance can be given that we will be able to obtain the additional funding we need to continue our operations.

In order to continue funding our working capital needs and our product development costs, during the third quarter of 2016 we entered into 3 separate note and share purchase agreements with 3 independent accredited investors. As a result, we issued convertible notes with a total principal balance of $189,000 for cash proceeds of $150,000.

The licensing agreements, distribution agreements and product sales initiatives we have in place have, to date, have not generated enough revenues to cover all of our operational expenses. No assurance can be given that our current contractual arrangements and the revenues from our GPS SmartSoles, device sales, subscriptions, software licensing, or our smart phone or tablet Apps will generate significant revenues during the balance of 2016.

In addition to continuing to incur normal operating expenses, we intend to continue our research and development efforts for our technologies and products, including hardware, software, interface customization, and website development. We expect to further develop our sales, marketing and manufacturing programs associated with the commercialization, licensing and sales of our GPS devices and technology. We currently do not have sufficient capital on hand to fully fund our inventory requirements, marketing, advertising and future product development, which lack of and inconsistencies in the timing and amount of fundings may negatively affect our future revenues.

As noted above, based on budgeted revenues and expenditures, unless revenues increase significantly, we believe that our existing and projected sources of liquidity (including the minimum periodic payments we will receive from Inventergy while our agreement is in effect) may not be sufficient to satisfy our cash requirements for the next twelve months. Accordingly, we will need to raise additional funds in 2016 and 2017. The sale of additional equity securities will result in additional dilution to our existing stockholders. Sale of debt securities could involve substantial operational and financial covenants that might inhibit our ability to follow our business plan. Any additional funding that we obtain in a financing is likely to reduce the percentage ownership of the Company held by our existing security-holders. The amount of this dilution may be substantial based on our current stock price, and could increase if the trading price of our common stock declines at the time of any financing from its current levels. We may also attempt to raise funds through corporate collaboration and licensing arrangements. To the extent that we raise additional funds through collaboration and licensing arrangements, we may be required to grant licenses on terms that are not favorable to us. There can be no assurance that financing will be available in amounts or on terms acceptable to us, if at all. If we are unable to obtain the needed additional funding, we may have to further reduce our current level of operations, or may even have to totally discontinue our operations.

Since inception in 2002, we have generated significant losses. As of September 30, 2016, we had an accumulated deficit of $19,332,834, and we currently expect to incur continued losses until our revenue initiatives collectively generate substantial revenues. Please see the section entitled "Risk Factors" included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015 for more information regarding risks associated with our business.
