TABLE TRAC, INC.

NOTES TO CONDENSED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Nature of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies –

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited condensed financial statements of Table Trac, Inc. (the “Company,” or “Table Trac”) have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions for Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. The balance sheet as of September 30, 2018 and the statements of operations for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, and the statements of cash flows for the nine months ending September 30, 2018 and 2017 are unaudited but include all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring adjustments) necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position at such date and the operating results and cash flows for those periods. Certain information normally included in financial statements and related footnotes prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles has been condensed or omitted pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The accompanying financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes included in the Table Trac Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017.

Nature of Business

Table Trac was formed under the laws of the State of Nevada in June 1995. The Company has offices in Minnetonka, Minnesota and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. The Company has developed and sells an information and management system that automates and monitors various aspects of the operations of casinos.

Table Trac provides system sales and technical support to casinos. System sales include installation, custom casino system configuration, and training. In addition, license and technical support are provided under separate license and service contracts.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The Company uses of estimates and assumptions include: for revenue recognition, determining the nature and timing of satisfaction of performance obligations, and determining the standalone selling price (“SSP”) of performance obligations, variable consideration, and other obligations, realizability of accounts receivable, the valuation of deferred tax assets and liabilities, deferred revenue and costs, and the valuation of inventory. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The Company’s significant accounting policies are described in Note 1 of the financial statement included in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017. Significant changes to the Company’s accounting policies as a result of adopting Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 606 are discussed below.

Revenue

The Company derives revenues from the sales of systems, licenses and maintenance fees, and services, and rental agreements.

System Sales

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration we expect to receive in exchange for those products or services. We enter into contracts that can include various combinations of products and services, which are generally capable of being distinct and accounted for as separate performance obligations. Revenue is recognized net of any taxes collected, when applicable from customers, which are subsequently remitted to governmental authorities.

A performance obligation is a promise in a contract to transfer a distinct good or service to the customer, and is a unit of account in ASC 606. A majority of the Company's systems sales have multiple performance obligations including an obligation to deliver a casino management system and another to provide maintenance services. For system sales with multiple performance obligations, the Company allocates revenue to each performance obligation on its SSP. The Company generally determines the SSP based on the price charged to customers. The Company does offer its customers contracts with extended payment terms representing a significant financing component. The Company must evaluate if any extended payment terms in the contract is an indicator of the transaction price not being probable. The Company only includes the amount for which it is probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainty is resolved. Provided all other revenue recognition steps have been satisfied, the Company recognizes the revenue if payment of a significant portion of the contract consideration is due within 12 months of the delivery of the product. System contracts that do not meet this criteria are deferred and recognized when the uncertainty is resolved, which is consistent with when contractual payments become due. The Company also analyzes its standard business practice of using long-term contracts and the history of collecting on extended payment term contracts which include a financing component which is usually a market interest rate. The associated interest income is reflected accordingly on the statement of operations without making concessions for determining if revenue should be recognized.

Maintenance revenue

Maintenance revenue is recognized ratably over the contract period. The stand-alone selling price for maintenance is based upon the renewal rate for contracted services.

Service revenue

Service revenue is recognized after the services are performed and collection of the resulting receivable is reasonably assured. The stand-alone selling price for service revenue is established based upon actual selling prices for the services or prior similar arrangements.

Rental revenue

The Company may offer customers a rental contract. Revenues are billed monthly on a per-game per-day basis. There is an option to purchase the system after the rental contract expires at a pre-determined residual value.

See Major Customers for disaggregated revenue information about primary geographical markets.

Significant Judgments

Our contracts with customers often include promises to transfer multiple products and services to a customer. Determining whether products and services are considered distinct performance obligations that should be accounted for separately versus together may require significant judgment.

Judgment is required to determine the SSP for each distinct performance obligation. We use a single amount to estimate SSP for items that are not sold separately. We use a range of amounts to estimate SSP when we sell each of the products and services separately and need to determine whether there is a discount to be allocated based on the relative SSP of the various products and services.

In instances where SSP is not directly observable, such as when we do not sell the product or service separately, we determine the SSP using information that may include market conditions and other observable inputs. We typically have more than one SSP for individual products and services due to the stratification of those products and services by customers and circumstances. In these instances, we may use information such as the size of the customer and geographic region in determining the SSP.

We evaluated the contractual payment terms of all system sales generated during the year to determine the proper recognition or deferral of revenue was recorded. We believe the 12 month subsequent collection threshold of 67% or greater is the most appropriate for the Company to constrain revenue.

We evaluate the interest rates used in customer contracts with extended payment terms, representing a significant financing component. These rates range from approximately 1% to 6% and we believe those to be appropriate market interest rates for the financing component.

Deferred System Sales Costs

Incremental cost to obtain and fulfil a contract are deferred and amortized over the related system contract term. These costs are recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the contract which is generally 18-48 months beginning when revenues are generated. These costs are the most significant component of other long-term assets on the balance sheet, and are $599,538 and $967,092 as of September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively.

Accounts Receivable / Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Accounts receivable are initially recorded at the invoiced amount and carried on the balance sheet at net realizable value, which includes foreign currency translation as of each balance sheet date. Accounts receivable include unsecured regular customer receivables and unsecured amounts from financed contracts coming due within 12 months. Amounts from financed contracts due beyond 12 months are recorded as “Long-term accounts receivable – financed contracts.” Interest is recorded upon receipt to other income on the statements of operations. An allowance for doubtful accounts is recorded when the Company believes the amounts may not be collected. Management believes that receivables, net of the allowance for doubtful accounts, are fully collectible. Accounts receivable are written off when management determines collection is no longer likely. While the ultimate result may differ, management believes that any write-off not allowed for will not have a material impact on the Company’s financial position.

Major Customers

For the nine month period ended September 30, 2018, three customers comprised approximately 47% of revenue compared to two customers who accounted for approximately 17% for the nine months ending September 30, 2017. At September 30, 2018, the same three customers comprised approximately 47% of accounts receivable compared to two customers accounting for approximately 19% at September 30, 2017. The following table summarizes major customer's information for the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017:

	For the Nine Months ended September 30

For the nine month periods ending September 30, 2018 and 2017, sales to customers in the United States represent 91.2% and 92.7% of total revenues, respectively.

The following table summarizes the major customer information for the three months ended September 30, 2018 and the two major customer's information for the three months ending September 30, 2017:

For the three month periods ending September 30, 2018 and 2017, sales to customers in the United States represent 95.6% and 93.2% of total revenues, respectively.

A major customer is defined any customer that represents at least 10% of revenue or outstanding account receivable for a given period.

Inventory

Inventory, consisting of finished goods, is stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. The average cost method, which approximates the first in, first out method, is used to value inventory. Inventory is reviewed annually for the lower of cost or net realizable value and obsolescence. Any material cost found to be above net realizable value or considered obsolete is written down accordingly. The inventory value as of September 30, 2018 was $503,034, which included work-in-process of $50,824. The inventory value was $466,207 as of December 31, 2017, which included work-in-process of $0. The Company had no obsolescence reserve at September 30, 2018 or December 31, 2017. At September 30, 2018 the Company recorded a prepayment for inventory yet to be received of approximately $318,570 as a component of prepaid expenses and other current assets.

Research and Development

The Company expenses all costs related to research and development as incurred. Research and development expense was $28,827 and $4,452 for the three months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, and $85,411 and $36,157 for the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively. Research and development expenses are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the statements of operations.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2014, the FASB issued a new standard related to revenue recognition. Under the standard, revenue is recognized when a customer obtains control of promised goods or services in an amount that reflects the consideration the entity expects to receive in exchange for those goods or services. In addition, the standard requires disclosure of the nature, amount, timing, and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from contracts with customers.

We adopted the standard effective January 1, 2018, using the modified retrospective method, which did not require us to restate each prior reporting period presented. We elected the available practical expedients and implemented internal controls and key system functionality to enable the preparation of financial information on adoption.

In August 2018, the SEC adopted the final rule under SEC Release No. 33-10532, Disclosure Update and Simplification, amending certain disclosure requirements that were redundant, duplicative, overlapping, outdated or superseded. In addition, the amendments expanded the disclosure requirements on the analysis of stockholders' equity for interim financial statements. Under the amendments, an analysis of changes in each caption of stockholders' equity presented in the balance sheet must be provided in a note or separate statement. The analysis should present a reconciliation of the beginning balance to the ending balance of each period for which a statement of operations is required to be filed. The Company anticipates its first presentation of changes in stockholders' equity will be included in its Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2019.

2. Accounts Receivable –

Accounts receivable consisted of the following at:

	September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017
Accounts receivable under normal 30 day terms	$2,748,781	$1,493,084
Financed contracts:
Current portion of long-term	894,819	1,741,669
Long-term, net of current portion	1,163,823	1,515,120
Total accounts receivable	4,807,423	4,749,873
Less allowance for doubtful accounts	(125,027)	(181,473)
Accounts receivable, net	$4,682,396	$4,568,400
Presented on the balance sheet as:
Accounts receivable, net	$3,518,573	$3,053,280
Long-term accounts receivable - financed contracts	1,163,823	1,515,120

The allowance for financed and trade receivable represents management's estimate of probable losses in our trade and financed receivables as of the date of the financial statements. The allowance provides for probable losses that have been identified with specific customer relationships and for probable losses believed to be inherent of the trade and financed receivables, but that have not been specifically identified.

Accounts receivable includes financed contracts at September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017 which are $2,058,642 and $3,256,789, respectively, offset by contract liabilities on the balance sheets of $1,903,639 and $3,313,772, respectively.

A roll-forward of the Company's allowance for doubtful accounts for the periods presented is as follows:

	September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017
Accounts receivable allowance, beginning of year	$ 181,473	$ 200,266
Provision adjustment	84,592	(18,793)
Write-off	(141,038)	0
Accounts receivable allowance, end of period	$ 125,027	$ 181,473

The allowance for doubtful accounts is $125,027 and $181,473 for the trade receivables at September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively, and $0 for the financed contracts at both September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017.

3. Stockholders' Equity –

Stock Repurchase Program

On January 7, 2018, the Company's Board of Directors approved the repurchase of its outstanding shares, using management's discretion, of its common stock from private unsolicited sellers' in the open market. On May 10, 2018, the Company's Board of Directors approved the repurchase of its outstanding common shares in an aggregate amount of up to 200,000 shares not to exceed $600,000, in both private unsolicited and open –market transactions, until December 31, 2019. Company insiders are prohibited from participating in the stock repurchase program.

During the three month period ended September 30, 2018, the Company did not repurchase any shares for its treasury. For the nine month period ending September 30, 2018, the Company repurchased 48,500 shares totaling approximately $112,000 at an average price of $2.31 per share for its treasury.

Stock Compensation

In January, the Company awarded 50,000 shares at a price of $2.35 per share from its treasury to its new CFO. These shares are subject to a four year vesting schedule as follows: 20,000 shares at the end of year one; 10,000 shares in each subsequent year. No shares vested during the nine month period ended September 30, 2018. Grant date fair value of $117,500 will be recognized equally over the vesting period as stock compensation expense as a component of selling, general and administration expense. The unvested stock compensation is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of approximately two years. As of September 30, 2018, the remaining unrecognized stock compensation expense approximated $95,500. As of September 30, 2018, the Company holds 138,132 common shares in treasury for future employee issuances for potential bonuses. Such common shares in treasury include shares repurchased pursuant to the stock repurchase program.

4. Income Tax –

The Company accounts for income taxes by following the asset and liability approach to accounting for income taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities represent the future tax consequences of the differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of assets and liabilities versus the tax basis of assets and liabilities. Under this method, deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The impact of the tax rate changes on deferred tax assets and liabilities is recognized in the year that the change is enacted. Management believes that any write-off not allowed for will not have a material impact on the Company's financial position.

The Company files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and various state jurisdictions. Based on its evaluation, the Company believes that it has no significant unrecognized tax positions. The Company's evaluation was performed for the tax years ended December 31, 2014 through 2017, which are the tax years that remain subject to examination by major tax jurisdictions as of September 30, 2018. The Company does not believe there will be any material changes in its unrecognized tax positions over the next 12 months.

The Company may from time to time be assessed interest or penalties by major tax jurisdictions, although any such assessments historically have been minimal and immaterial to its financial results. In accordance with current guidance, the Company classifies interest and penalties as income tax expense is incurred.

6. Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk -

The Company is exposed to foreign currency risks that arise from some of its foreign customers in Colombia, transacted in Colombia pesos. In addition, exchange rate fluctuations may cause our international results to fluctuate when translated into U.S. dollars. These risks may change over time as business practices evolve and could have an impact on the Company's financial results in the future due to the long term nature of the Company's accounts receivable in Colombia, which totaled approximately $74,000 and $314,000 at September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively. The Company monitors its risk associated with the volatility of certain foreign currencies against the U.S. dollar.

General Overview

Table Trac, Inc. is a Nevada corporation, formed on June 27, 1995, with principal offices in Minnetonka, Minnesota.

The Company has developed and patented (U.S. patent # 5,957,776) a proprietary information and management system (called our “Table Trac” system) that automates and monitors the operations of casino table game operations. In addition to its table games management system, Table Trac has been adding functionality to related casino system modules for guest rewards and loyalty club, marketing analysis, guest service, promotions, administration / management, vault / cage management and audit / accounting tasks. Aggregated together, all of these modules have become the “Casino Trac” product, a full-featured Casino Management System (CMS) offering what we believe to be a powerful combination of value, efficiency and reliability for casinos seeking to add or upgrade their casino systems.

In May of this year the Company received Patent Pending status on its April 2017 application 15/946,227 “SYSTEMS AND METHODS OF FACILITATING INTERACTIONS BETWEEN AN ELECTRONIC GAMING MACHINE, GAME PLAYER, AND A CONTROL SYSTEM”. In addition, the Company renewed its Trademark claim for “Table Trac” which was granted July 31, 2018 Reg. No. 5,529,779 and made a new Trademark claim on its “CasinoTrac” brand which is pending.

The open architecture of the Table Trac system is designed to provide operators with a scalable and flexible system that can interconnect and operate with most third-party software or hardware. Key products and services include modules designed to drive player tracking programs and kiosk promotions, as well as vault and cage controls. The Company’s systems are designed to meet strict auditing, accounting and regulatory requirements applicable to the gaming industry. The Company has developed a patented, real-time system that automates and monitors the operations of casino gaming tables. The Company continues to increase its market share by expanding its product offerings to include new system features, and ancillary products.

During the third quarter of 2018, the Company delivered two casino management systems. At the end of the quarter, the Company had casino management systems, table games management systems and ancillary products installed with on-going support and maintenance contracts with 89 casino operators in over 139 casinos worldwide.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We expect that we will be able meet our operating, investing and financing needs for liquidity through cash on hand and anticipated positive cash flows from operations

Cash used in operations for the nine month period ending September 30, 2018 were approximately $566,000, compared to cash flow from operation of $483,000 for the period ending September 30, 2017. This decrease was a result of a number of factors including an increase in net income offset by the increasing of net receivables. Additionally during 2018 more sales have been impact sales (revenue recognized immediately) rather than deferred sales, as such there has been a large reduction in contract liabilities as deferred revenue is being recognized.

Additionally, investing activities used cash of $20,615 for the nine months ended September 30, 2018, which was due to capital expenditures. Cash used in financing activities relating to the repurchasing of stock during the nine months ended September 30, 2018 was $112,240.

We do not know of any trends, events or uncertainties that are likely to have a material impact on our short or long-term liquidity or our capital resources. We expect that our primary source of liquidity in both the short and long-term will be system sales and the resulting license and maintenance fees generated from existing systems. We anticipate we will be able to manage expenses and cash flow in order to satisfy our monthly expense obligations with cash flow from operations. We believe the Company has adequate cash for at least the next 12 months to meet its obligations and continue operations for both existing and future customers as well as ongoing sales efforts and product development.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company had no off-balance sheet arrangements as of September 30, 2018.
