Javier de Paz and Manuel Pizarro, new members of Telef&#243nica s board

JULIO LINARES APPOINTED COO OF TELEF&#211NICA

- Guillermo Ansaldo will head Telef&#243nica Espa&#241a

Edgar Filing: TELEFONICA S A - Form 6-K

Madrid, 19 December 2007.- At its ordinary meeting today, Telefonica's board, with the approval of the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, has named Julio Linares, General Manager for Coordination, Business Development and Synergies, as the company's new Chief Operating Officer. It also decided to appoint Guillermo Ansaldo as General Manager of Telefonica Espa#241a. Mr Ansaldo will replace Antonio Viana-Baptista, who leaves the Company citing personal reasons.

Meanwhile, Manuel Pizarro and Javier de Paz will replace Enrique Used and Maximino Carpio as members of Telefonica's board of directors. Both Manuel Pizarro, Javier de Paz and Alfonso Ferrari will join as well the Executive Commission of the Company's board of directors.

The appointment of a new COO at Telefonica implies changes to the organisational structure, which in any event still supports a regional focus aimed at becoming more customer-oriented and leveraging economies of scale.

From now, the three regional business divisions, Spain, Europe and Latin America, will report to the new COO, Julio Linares. Until now they had reported directly to the Company's Executive Chairman and CEO, Carlos Alierta. Guillermo Ansaldo will take Antonio Viana-Baptista's place at the helm of Telefonica Espa#241a, with Bel#233n Amatria#237n as the Company's CEO and number two. Matthew Key will oversee Europe and Jos#233 Mar#237a Alvarez-Pallete will continue to lead Telefonica Latinoam#233rica. All three general divisions will continue to manage all the fixed and mobile businesses in their respective regions in an integrated way.

Also reporting to Telefonica's new COO will be four support units: Operations (Alfonso Alonso); Strategy, Innovation and Business Development (Sohail Qadri); Planning, Budgeting and Monitoring (Laura Abasolo); and Human Resources (Iscar Maraver).

Therefore, reporting directly to Telefonica's Executive Chairman and CEO will be COO Julio Linares; the General Manager of Finance and Corporate Development, Santiago Fernandez Valbuena; head of the Legal and Board Secretariat (Ramiro Sanchez de Ler#237n) and the head of the Technical Secretariat to the Chairman's Office (Luis Abril). In the new chain of responsibilities, Internal Auditing will report to the Finance and Corporate Development unit, which will also act as Controller (Ezequiel Nieto).

Antonio Viana-Baptista, until now the General Manager of Telefonica Espa#241a, is leaving the company on his own accord, citing personal reasons. Mr Viana-Baptista, a longstanding executive at Telefonica, has spent the last nine years - eight of them also as member of the Board of Directors - achieving huge success in Latin America, overseeing the global mobile division and, lastly, at Telefonica Espa#241a. The company wishes to thank Antonio Viana-Baptista for his dedication and achievements over these years.

The Telefonica board also agreed to add Manuel Pizarro and Javier de Paz as members. They will replace Enrique Usued and Maximino Carpio, who will leave as well the committees they were part of. The Board recognized the intense work carried out by the outgoing directors and thanked them for the contribution and efforts in recent years.

Lastly, Antonio Hornedo Muguiro will step down, for personal reasons, as deputy general secretary and secretary of the board of directors. He will be replaced by M<sup>170</sup> Luz Medrano Aranguren.

Julio Linares, COO of Telefonica

Julio Linares is a telecommunications engineer who joined Telefonica's R&D Centre in May 1970 and held various positions there before being appointed Head of Telefonica's Technology department in 1984.
