Questions and Answers

Investors Informative Meeting for the Extraordinary Shareholder's Meeting

1. How are ADR holders going to pay taxes ?

R: For shareholders, of the US$800 million dividend: US$302 million has no tax retention, whether the shareholder is a natural person, a company or an ADR holder. On the other hand, for the other US$500 million, its taxability will depend on how much the Company will pay as taxes for its net results 2004.

2. Why is there a restriction period of just 2 years from participation in the mobile telephony business?

R: We don't want to put restrictions that could restrict the development of the Company over the businesses in which it could participate in the future.

3. Was the possibility of a spin-off evaluated?

R: Yes, the Company evaluated all the possibilities.

4. Does a withdrawal right exist?

R: It doesn't exist because the Chilean Corporate Law does not include it for this case.

5. Is there any possibility to increase the amount of the dividend?

R: It is not feasible, because the Extraordinary Shareholders' meeting can't approve a dividend higher than the retained income (US$650 million). Regarding the rest of the dividend, it is the decision of the Board to deliver a dividend higher than 50% of the expected income of the year 2004. Maybe, the Board could do it once the net income of the Company is known and approved by the Shareholders' Meeting for 2005.
