Item 8.01. Other Events.

On October 24, 2013, the presiding judge in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas signed and entered a Memorandum and Order in the previously-reported lawsuit of WesternGeco L.L.C. v. ION Geophysical Corporation. As previously reported, on August 16, 2012, the jury in the case returned a verdict against ION Geophysical Corporation (the “Company”), finding that the Company had infringed certain patent claims and awarded WesternGeco the sum of $105.9 million in damages, consisting of $12.5 million in reasonable royalty and $93.4 million in lost profits. In a Memorandum and Order entered by the Court in June 2013, the judge ruled that WesternGeco is also entitled to be awarded supplemental damages for the additional infringing DigiFIN units that were supplied from the United States before and after the trial that were not included in the jury verdict due to the timing of the trial.

In the October 24 Memorandum and Order, the judge ruled on the number of DigiFIN units that are subject to supplemental damages and also ruled that the supplemental damages applicable to the additional units should be calculated by averaging the jury’s previous reasonable royalty and lost profits damages awards per unit, resulting in supplemental damages of $73.1 million. The total damages award in the case consists of the jury award of $105.9 million and the supplemental damages award of $73.1 million. The Memorandum and Order also ruled that the Company’s infringement involving the supplemental units was not willful and that WesternGeco was not entitled to receive enhanced damages.

The Court has not yet entered a final judgment in the case.
