In September, 2006, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, "Fair Valuation Measurements" ("FAS 157"). This standard clarifies the definition of fair value for financial reporting, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about the use of fair value measurements. FAS 157 establishes three different categories for valuations. Level 1 valuations are those based upon quoted prices in active markets. Level 2 valuations are those based upon quoted prices in inactive markets or based upon significant observable inputs (i.e. yield curves; benchmark interest rates; indices). Level 3 valuations are those based upon unobservable inputs (i.e. discounted cash flow analysis; non-market based methods used to determine fair valuation).

Subsequent to August 31, 2008, the major U.S. and global equity market benchmarks posted sharp declines. From August 31, 2008 through October 15, 2008, the Dow Jones Industrial Average lost 29.0%, the S&P 500 Index declined by 25.5% and the Nasdaq Composite shed 31.2%. Globally, the MSCI World Index declined 23.8% and the MSCI EAFE lost 24.2%.

As illustrated by the benchmark returns, the impact was not limited to a specific sector. The Chicago Board of Options Exchange Volatility Index, which is generally used as a gauge of fear and uncertainty in the market place, reached levels never seen before. The markets appeared to have lost confidence in the financial system after a significant series of events which included: the government rescue of mortgage entities Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, the failure of investment bank Lehman Brothers, the merger of Merrill Lynch with Bank of America, the government bailout of American International Group, and the passage of a $700 billion financial rescue package designed to help rid financial institutions of "toxic" debt carried on their books. The combination of these events, and others, resulted in significant declines in market valuations of the impacted securities, the financials sector in general and the broad market as a whole.
