ITEM 8.01 OTHER EVENTS

On March 22, 2006, the New York Stock Exchange (the "NYSE") received approval from the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") to begin full implementation of its Hybrid MarketSM initiative, which will enable the NYSE to integrate its traditional floor-based auction market with enhanced automated trading functionality. The Commission's order approving the proposed rule changes is available on the Commission's Web site at <http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro/nyse/34-53539.pdf>.

Designed to offer customers greater choice in order-execution services, the NYSE Hybrid Market expands customer ability to trade instantaneously with certainty and anonymity without sacrificing the price improvement and market quality of the floor-based NYSE auction market. Maintaining the Exchange's ability for price improvement across all its order-execution options, the NYSE Hybrid Market will provide customers with choices that include sub-second automated, anonymous transactions for NYSE-listed stocks or the opportunity to have orders represented in the auction market with the benefits of human judgment and accountability at the central point of sale.

On March 22, 2006, NYSE Group issued a press release entitled "NYSE Hybrid MarketSM Gains SEC Approval." A copy of that press release is attached as exhibit 99.1 to this report and is incorporated herein by reference.
