ITEM 1. BUSINESS.

General

Fresh America Corp. ("Fresh America", or the "Company", "we", "us", or "our"), a Texas corporation founded in 1989, provides procurement, processing, repacking, warehousing and distribution services of fresh produce and other refrigerated food products for a wide variety of customers in the retail, food service and food distribution businesses. Additional services such as inventory planning and customer support are also provided as areas of unique specialization. Because of the perishable nature of fresh fruits and vegetables, distribution requires specialists such as Fresh America that can maintain the "cold chain" of distribution to ensure safety, quality and yield for the wide variety of products available in today's marketplace. The Company serves over 4,000 customers in 42 states through 8 distribution facilities located in Dallas and Houston, Texas; Atlanta, Georgia; Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania; Richmond, Indiana; Chicago, Illinois and Los Angeles, California. Prior to December 2001, the Company maintained its headquarters in Dallas, Texas. In December 2001, the Company moved all central office operations to its facility in Arlington, Texas.

The Company provides fresh produce and related products and services in four primary areas of specialization: programs, retail/wholesale, logistics and value-added processing and repacking. In 1999 and 2000, the Company made a decision to reduce its presence in specialty food service by divesting seven operations that lacked sufficient market presence and were underperforming (please see "Acquisitions/Divestitures" below). Within each of the aforementioned areas of specialization, the Company provides a broad array of services, which may include centralized purchasing, processing, repacking, warehousing, distribution, inventory planning, system integration and customer support. An expanded description of these areas of specialization follows:

Programs. Due to the specialized handling requirements associated with fresh fruits and vegetables and Fresh America's integrated distribution network and related services, Fresh America's network of facilities that have the ability to repack or process positions the Company to offer specialized services to various retail, wholesale and distribution companies. These services allow customers, such as Dole Fresh Vegetables, Inc. and CKE Restaurants/MBM Corporation to outsource certain aspects of their fresh produce distribution function to Fresh America primarily for the purpose of eliminating the infrastructure required to perform those activities.

Retail/Wholesale. The Company sells produce and provides distribution services to national and regional retail or wholesale accounts, which include supermarkets, independent grocers and other purchasers of fresh produce and other food products. Fresh America provides a variety of services, which include procurement, repackaging, warehousing and distribution of fresh produce for these customers. The Company also imports specialty produce from various global sources to ensure consistent availability. However, the volume of importing is expected to decrease significantly due to the sale of Ontario Tree Fruits in March 2001 and proposed sale of Bacchus Fresh International in August 2001 (please see "Acquisitions/Divestitures" below). Produce is generally distributed to central warehouses or, on a limited basis, directly to the retail location.

Value-Added Capabilities. The Company performs certain value-added functions for customers that complement the other services it provides. These functions include produce ripening and repackaging activities, the assembly and preparation of fruit baskets and party trays of precut vegetables and the processing and packing of various produce items. Certain operations employ highly specialized ripening, sorting and packing equipment designed to increase efficiency and decrease costs.

Logistics. The Company's freight service currently operates approximately 100 trucks each week. These services are targeted for customers that can provide weekly commitments on a consistent basis for a year round flat rate as well as customers that call randomly for load assistance on a flat percentage basis. Internal services are provided on an as-needed basis at combined rates that are less than what would be available through other sources.

Specialty Food Service. Food service customers include restaurants, hotels, schools, hospitals and other institutions. Produce is purchased by the Company and shipped to a number of customers. Distribution of produce to food service accounts generally requires a higher level of service, entailing as many as six deliveries a week. The Company is de-emphasizing this area of specialization in the future to better take advantage of the Company's strengths in the other areas. See Item 7 - "Management's Discussion and Analysis" for further discussion.

Products. The Company provides and procures approximately 500 items in several product categories, including fresh produce, refrigerated prepackaged produce, and processed foods. Fresh produce includes staple items such as apples, lemons, lettuce, bananas, oranges, grapefruit, onions, tomatoes, potatoes and garlic, and seasonal items such as strawberries, blueberries, cherries, grapes, peaches, plums, avocados and watermelons.

Refrigerated prepackaged produce includes chopped lettuce and presliced fruits and vegetables, including party trays of fresh, precut vegetables. Processed foods include prepackaged salads, prepared salads and a limited selection of salad dressings. The Company also provides certain specialty types of produce. For example, a subsidiary, Francisco Distributing Co., ships and repackages mangos, peppers and honeydew melons in the United States.

Contracts and Business Arrangements. Fresh America's business relationships with its customers are established on the basis of daily orders as well as program and service arrangements. Daily orders are typically priced to customers on the basis of cost to the Company plus a pre-determined margin. Daily orders range in duration from one day to one month. Anything in excess of one month in duration is considered to be a program and service arrangement. The program and service arrangements are priced to customers as either pre-determined margin contracts, like those used for daily orders, or fee for service contracts where the price remains constant and the Company's margin fluctuates with the changes in the market prices at which the product is purchased. Due to the perishable nature of the Company's products and fluctuating commodity prices, the Company's program and service arrangements are usually negotiated on a seasonal basis, with an average duration of three to six months. At the end of each term, the program and service arrangements are typically renegotiated based on market conditions existing at that time. Each contract is set up individually and, depending on the contract, the Company has a varying level of ability to increase or decrease prices consistent with fluctuations in the market. When the Company enters into fee for service contracts, which do not provide for the ability to change prices to correspond with market fluctuations, the Company typically attempts to negotiate corresponding fixed price agreements with growers/shippers. When agreements with growers/shippers and customers are properly matched, the Company is better able to protect itself against increasing commodity prices and maintain its profitability.

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Warehouse and Distribution. The Company conducted its operations during fiscal 2000 out of 9 distribution facilities located in Arizona, California, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Texas. The Company sold its Arizona operation in April 2001 and closed its Florida operation in May 2001. In addition, the Company maintains its Company headquarters in Arlington, Texas.

Each distribution center employs between 20 and 250 employees, most of whom are involved in receiving and shipping, as well as driving the Company's transportation fleet. The distribution centers are designed for receiving, cold storage, sorting and shipping, and are positioned to allow the Company to distribute perishable products by truck to its customers throughout the respective regional geographical area. Fresh America operates from approximately 930 thousand square feet of warehousing and processing space.

Fresh America's products are delivered from its distribution centers to customers utilizing Fresh America's fleet of leased and owned tractors, refrigerated trailers and refrigerated trucks, as well as third party trucking companies.

Purchasing. Fresh America employs purchasing agents in most of its operating locations who purchase produce directly from growers, shippers and grower cooperatives. The Company selects its suppliers carefully and regularly monitors their ability to provide quality products at competitive prices. As a result of its substantial volume of purchases, the Company is able to obtain fresh produce of premium size, quality and appearance at very competitive costs. In many cases, the Company purchases produce only from selected warehouses within a supplier's system, based on management's assessment of the quality provided by the particular warehouses. Although purchases by Fresh America frequently constitute a significant portion of a particular supplier's sales, no single supplier accounts for more than ten percent of Fresh America's costs of goods sold. Management believes that all of the items stocked in its inventory are available from numerous suppliers at competitive prices.

In addition, the Company has a central buying department and logistics group located in Arlington, Texas to handle certain requirements of its program business, purchase certain staple items common to all business units, enhance its buying power and manage transportation for certain customers.

Quality Control. The Company focuses on quality and freshness at each step of the receipt, processing and distribution process. Because most of the products delivered by the Company are perishable, proper handling, including maintenance of constant temperature and humidity, is critical to the control of product spoilage. Equally important is the Company's ability to accurately order the correct quantity of each product to meet the demands of its customers. Although the nature of the Company's business is such that some amount of its inventory will be lost through spoilage, management attempts to minimize this expense. Produce is transported to and from the Company's operating locations in refrigerated, temperature-monitored trucks. When produce is to be received, the Company's personnel inspect the products to ensure that quality specifications have been satisfied. Accepted items are immediately stored in product specific, temperature controlled environments. Purchased product typically spends no more than three days in the Company's facilities before delivery to a specific customer.

Customer Concentration. Sam's accounted for 30.0% of sales in 2000 and 30.5% in 1999. Due to the loss of the distribution agreement with Sam's, the Company anticipates sales to Sam's will comprise less than 10% of its sales in 2001.

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Personnel. Fresh America refers to its employees as "associates" and attempts to maintain a team spirit among all of its associates. Management believes that the Company's relations with its associates are good. As of August 9, 2001 the Company employed a total of approximately 580 full-time associates and 10 part-time associates, including approximately 26 corporate associates and 564 regional associates. The Company's operations in Scranton, Pennsylvania and Los Angeles, California have collective bargaining agreements with their warehouse associates.

Competition. The Company operates in highly competitive markets, and its success will be largely dependent on its ability to manage product from source to customer. The produce industry is highly fragmented and is primarily comprised of small, family-owned operations serving local and regional markets. The Company also competes with national food service and wholesale food distribution companies.

Seasonality. See Item 7-MD&A under the caption "Quarterly Results and Seasonality" for information about the seasonality of the Company's business.

Acquisitions/Divestitures

The Company commenced operations in 1989 by delivering produce to one Sam's Club, a division of Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. The success of the initial venture in Houston, Texas allowed the Company to rapidly expand its relationship with Sam's and provide produce for 375 Sam's Clubs in the Midwest, Northeast, Southeast and Southwest at the peak of its distribution arrangement with Sam's. The Company's distribution agreement with Sam's was governed by a written contract which expired on October 24, 2000. Thereafter, Sam's began internal distribution of produce for all of its clubs; however, the Company continues to supply certain produce items to Sam's on a non-contractual basis.

Because the Company understood the Sam's agreement would expire in 2000, in 1995 the Company began to implement a strategy that would attract new customers over a wider geographical area and diversify its customer base into other areas of produce distribution. In executing its strategy, the Company completed 16 acquisitions from 1995 through 1998 and added various customer alliances involving fresh produce procurement, warehousing, distribution and/or marketing. Through these acquisitions and new customer relationships, the Company expanded its cold chain distribution network to become national in scope, diversified its customer and supplier relationships and expanded its value-added processing capabilities. Six of these acquisitions in the specialty food service business never achieved sufficient market presence and were closed or sold during 1999 and 2000.

The table below identifies the acquisitions, their primary area(s) of distribution and specialization and, where appropriate, the date divested:

- /a/ Primary Services: 1. Specialty Food Service; 2. Retail/Wholesale; 3. Value-Added.
- /b/ Subsequent to their acquisition dates, these companies were integrated into one location in Houston, Texas in order to reduce costs and increase efficiencies.
- /c/ Perricone closed its market operation in Los Angeles, California and continues to operate its brokerage business in Walnut Creek and Visalia, California.
- /d/ The operating assets of Ontario Tree Fruits, Ltd. and its affiliates were sold in March 2001.
- /e/ All outstanding common stock for King's Onion House was sold in April 2001.
- /f/ Original asset purchase rescinded by legal arbitration in May 2001.

Tomahawk Produce, Inc., which operated in the Atlanta, Georgia produce market, relocated its remaining tomato repacking operation to the Company's distribution facility, also located in Atlanta, that was primarily dedicated to providing produce under the Sam's distribution agreement. The tomato operation, coupled with expanding program distribution, lessened dependence on the Sam's business and positioned the Atlanta facility for continuing operations after this facility's remaining Sam's Clubs were withdrawn from service in December 1999.

In February 2000, Allied-Perricone, Inc. f/k/a Sam Perricone Citrus Company closed its market operation in Los Angeles, California but continues to operate its brokerage business in Walnut Creek and Visalia, California.

On March 16, 2001 the Company sold the operating assets of its Canadian operation to better focus on its domestic opportunities. A major customer was lost during 1999, the Company was not able to replace the lost business and the Canadian operations did not fit well with the Company's focus on value-added services and products. The Canadian operations incurred losses of $2.0 million during fiscal 2000 and $2.0 million in the first quarter 2001. However, by taking advantage of the import knowledge gained through the Canadian operations, the Company will continue to provide its customers with imported produce through its other operating divisions.

On April 20, 2001 the Company sold all of the outstanding capital stock of King's Onion House. The Company was not able to achieve profitable operations in fiscal 2000 and did not believe Phoenix represented a strategic market for future growth. Losses totaled $5.5 million during fiscal 2000.

Through an arbitration, the original October 1998 purchase by Fresh America of the assets of Thompson's Produce Company was rescinded, effective May 12, 2001. As a result, the Company was relieved of its real property lease obligations in Pensacola, Florida (total future rental payments were $5.4 million) in exchange for the return of net assets totaling $1.4 million. This location was a non-performing asset for the Company, with losses totaling $3.3 million during fiscal 2000 and approximately $850,000 in the first quarter of 2001.

Subsequent to December 29, 2000, the Company sold the assets of Bacchus Fresh International, and an idle real estate property at Cutten Road in Houston, Texas. The proceeds of approximately $871,000 were used to reduce the Company's senior debt.

Strategy

As discussed above in "Acquisitions/Divestitures," in October 1999, the Company decided to divest most of its specialty food service operations due to insufficient local market presence and poor performance. Today the Company is focused on areas of proven performance and success, primarily wholesale/retail sales and distribution. As a result, Fresh America is better positioned to take advantage and further enhance its existing capabilities in such areas as retail consolidation, distribution consolidation, food safety, technology, branded produce and managing product from source to customer.

The Company is focused on taking advantage of the infrastructure of its existing businesses to further diversify and broaden its customer base, market penetration and service offerings. Management has developed a number of important strategies considered key to the success of the business: (i) adhere to its proven operating model requiring high food safety standards while providing quality products with high yields at reasonable prices, (ii) actively support and enhance customer and supplier relationships, (iii) maintain a low operating cost structure, (iv) utilize systems to maximize customer communication and activities, and (v) proactively pursue alliances and internal expansions.

The Company intends to expand its value-added operations, particularly in the area of tomato repack, outsource relationships through national programs, and logistics services, to both internal and external customers. The Company's focus on value-added products should have a favorable impact on the Company's margin. The Company expects that the retail, food service and food distribution companies will continue to consolidate and look for value beyond low prices, therefore making the process of managing product from source to customer an increasingly important component of the Company's national distribution capabilities. Continuing emphasis on food safety and the cold chain required for proper produce distribution should align the Company with national trends in consumption and government regulation.

In the near term, the Company will focus on a slower, more controlled pace of growth than in prior years and will pursue taking advantage of its existing infrastructure and enhancing efficiencies in its current base of operations.

Financial Restructuring

Throughout its operational restructuring during the past two years, the Company has pursued various financing opportunities in an effort to restructure its debt. In September 2001, the Company completed a financial restructuring whereby North Texas Opportunity Fund LP, ("NTOF") purchased 50,000 shares of the Company's

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Series D cumulative redeemable preferred stock and warrants exercisable for 84,100,980 shares of our common stock for cash proceeds of $5 million. Arthur Hollingsworth, an affiliate of NTOF and the Company's Chairman of the Board, subsequently purchased from NTOF 3,500 of their 50,000 shares of Series D preferred stock and 5,887,069 of the 84,100,980 warrants that had been purchased by NTOF at the same price as paid by NTOF. In connection with the NTOF investment in the Company, John Hancock Life Insurance Company, John Hancock Variable Life Insurance Company, Signature 1A (Cayman), Ltd. and Signature 3 Limited (collectively, the "Subordinated Lender") exchanged $20 million of subordinated debt, warrants to purchase 576,134 shares of common stock, 50,000 shares of Series C cumulative redeemable preferred stock and all accrued interest and dividends for 27,000 shares of the Company's Series D cumulative redeemable preferred stock and warrants exercisable for 45,414,529 shares of our common stock.

The new warrants cannot be exercised until the Company's articles of incorporation are amended to increase the Company's authorized common stock from 10 million shares to 250 million shares and decrease the common stock's stated par value from $.01 to $.0001 per share. The Board of Directors has approved such amendment but the holders of two-thirds of the Company's issued and outstanding capital stock entitled to vote must approve it at the Company's Special Meeting to be held on December 28, 2001. NTOF has received the agreement of the holders of 47% of the issued and outstanding common stock to vote in favor of the amendment, thereby requiring the holders of an additional 19.67% of the issued and outstanding common stock to approve the amendment before the warrants can be exercised.

The warrants issued to NTOF and the Subordinated Lender are exercisable for a ten year period which commenced on August 14, 2001 and ends August 14, 2011. The exercise price of the warrants is $.0001 per share and the warrants are subject to anti-dilution provisions providing adjustment in the event of any recapitalization, stock dividend, stock split, reorganization, merger or similar transaction or certain issuances of shares below their market value.

Each share of the 77,000 shares of Series D preferred stock issued to NTOF and the Subordinated Lender has the right to receive cumulative dividends, payable monthly in cash and calculated on the basis of an annual dividend rate of $8.00 for each share plus interest on any accrued but unpaid dividends. The Company may not declare a dividend on any other class of capital stock so long as any accrued dividends for the preferred stock have not been paid. If the Company pays a dividend to holders of any other class of the Company's capital stock, then the Company will pay a dilution fee to the holders of the preferred stock. In the event that the requisite shareholder approval for the amendment to our charter discussed above is not obtained, the annual dividend rate will increase to $18 for each share of preferred stock and holders of preferred stock will be entitled to vote as a separate class for all matters on which the holders of common stock are entitled to vote, with each share entitled to one vote per share; however, where applicable law prevents class voting, holders of the preferred stock will be entitled to vote together with the holders of common stock with each share of preferred stock entitled to 250 votes per share being 12,500,000 votes for NTOF and 6,750,000 for the Subordinated Lender.

NTOF and the Subordinated Lender have a put right on the Series D preferred stock after August 14, 2004, and immediately upon any breach by the Company of the financial restructuring agreements or any sale, merger or change of control of the Company at $100.00 per share plus accrued and unpaid dividends. If the requisite shareholder approval for the amendment to our charter discussed above is not obtained, NTOF and the Subordinated Lender may exercise their put right at three times the face value of the preferred stock, such amount being $15,000,000 for NTOF and $8,100,000 for the Subordinated Lender. Additionally, the holders of the preferred stock, have the right to redeem their shares of preferred stock on the same terms of the put right after April 30, 2007 or immediately upon the occurrence of any sale, merger or change of control of the Company, any qualified public offering with net proceeds of at least $20,000,000 or any private equity financing with net proceeds of at least $20,000,000.

Each share of Series D preferred stock has a preference upon liquidation, dissolution, winding up or sale of the Company equal to $100.00 per share plus accrued and unpaid interest. If the requisite shareholder approval discussed above is not obtained, the holders of the preferred stock will have the right to a liquidation preference payment equal to the face value of the preferred stock plus 90% of the fair market value of the remaining property of the Company and the holders of the common stock will have the right to a liquidation preference payment equal to the remaining 10% of the fair market value of the remaining property of the Company.

Under the terms of the Series D preferred stock and the Shareholders Agreement dated August 14, 2001 by and among the Company, NTOF and the Subordinated Lender, NTOF has the right to appoint three directors to the Board of Directors and the Subordinated Lender has the right to appoint one director to the Board of Directors, unless it waives such right. Because the Subordinated Lender waived its right to appoint a director, NTOF appointed four members to the Company's board of directors in October 2001. The current board of directors consists of five members. In addition, NTOF and the Subordinated Lender each have the right to designate one observer to attend all meetings of the Board of Directors. Under the Shareholders Agreement, the Company granted each holder of preferred stock the preemptive right to purchase, pro rata, all or any part of new securities offered by the Company. The Shareholders Agreement also grants each holder of preferred stock the right of first offer and co-sale rights in the event another holder of preferred stock elects to sell its stock. Prior to a public offering with net proceeds of at least $20,000,000, if the holder of 50% or more of the outstanding capital stock of the Company elects to sell all of its shares, then the holder will have pull-along rights with respect to the non-selling holders of preferred stock.

Under the Securities Exchange and Purchase Agreement dated August 14, 2001 (the "Purchase Agreement") by and among the Company, NTOF and the Subordinated Lender, the Company has granted registration rights to NTOF and the Subordinated Lender. The registration rights granted include two rights to demand that the Company register the holder's shares for resale to the public pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, an unlimited number of rights to register the holder's shares for resale to the public pursuant to other public offerings and, upon the Company's eligibility for use of Form S-3 under the Securities Act of 1933, an unlimited number of rights to register the holder's shares for resale to the public on Form S-3.

The Purchase Agreement also requires the Company to obtain NTOF's and/or the Subordinated Lender's consent prior to taking certain actions in the operation of its business other than pursuant to the terms of the financial restructuring. These actions, include, but are not limited to, amending the Company's organizational documents adversely to NTOF and the Subordinated Lender, declaring any dividends, selling or leasing any assets of the Company outside of the ordinary course of business, selling any additional capital stock of the Company (except pursuant to existing warrants and under the Company's stock option plan for employees), entering into any transactions with affiliates (other than in arms-length transactions), paying any management or consulting fees, acquiring any debt or equity interest in another entity, increasing the compensation of any executive officer by 5% or more, terminating any key employee, adopting a new employee benefit plan or employment agreement, acquiring any property for more than $500,000 or making any capital expenditure greater than $250,000 individually or $1,000,000 in the aggregate.

The following table sets forth information concerning the beneficial ownership of Common Stock following the completion of the financial restructuring on September 5, 2001.

(10) Includes warrants to purchase 5,887,069 shares of Common Stock.

In conjunction with this restructuring, Bank of America, N.A. (the "Senior Lender") agreed to a payment schedule which will reduce the Company's indebtedness to the Senior Lender from $5.3 million, which was owed at the time of closing, to $3.8 million by year-end 2001. Our revolving credit facility with our Senior Lender has also been restructured as a term note with a maturity date of January 2, 2002. The Company is negotiating with a new lender to replace the existing term facility with a revolving credit facility prior to the maturity of the term loan. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to replace its Senior Lender as anticipated or extend its senior credit facility beyond January 2002, if that becomes necessary.

Management believes that the combination of the effects of the financial restructure completed in September 2001, cash generated from ongoing operating activities, and the realization of recent reductions in corporate overhead expenses will enable the Company to meet its obligations as they come due during the 2001 calendar year.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES.

Prior to December 2001, the Company's headquarters and executive offices occupied 15,203 square feet of leased space in an office building in Dallas, Texas. In December 2001, the Company moved all central office operations from Dallas, Texas to its facility in Arlington, Texas. As of December 6, 2001, the Company conducts its operations from the following facilities:

8

Location	Square Footage	Owned/ Leased	Expi
Arlington, TX	105,000	Leased
Chicago, IL	145,289	Leased
Houston, TX - West Loop	80,496	Leased
Atlanta, GA	64,000	Leased
Los Angeles, CA - Blackburn Street	60,000	Leased
Los Angeles, CA - Leyva Street	110,000	Leased

Richmond, IN	37,000	Owned
Scranton, PA - Genet Street (2 buildings)	105,249	Owned
Wilkes-Barre, PA	50,000	Leased

The Company owns or is obligated by lease on certain properties related to sold or closed operations. Such properties are not listed above, as they are not currently being used in operations, but aggregate approximately 87,640 square feet of leased space (with expiration dates ranging from 4 months to 6.5 years as of December 29, 2000) and 2,984 square feet of owned space. The Company has subleased all of these properties. During 2000, the Company pledged its owned facilities as collateral security for its senior credit facility. See discussion of debt arrangements under the caption "Liquidity and Capital Resources" in Item 7 - MD&A.

Management believes that its existing facilities are adequate for the Company's present level of operations. Although some consolidation is possible due to overlap or modernization of facilities, the Company is generally capable of accommodating growth within each existing geographic territory.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Company is party to, from time to time, various claims, disputes, legal actions and other proceedings involving product liability, contracts, equal employment opportunity, occupational safety and various other matters. In the opinion of management, the outcome of any pending matters should not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS.

None.

PART II

ITEM 5. MARKET FOR REGISTRANT'S COMMON EQUITY AND RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS.

The Company's Common Stock currently is quoted on Pink Sheets under the symbol FRES. As of August 9, 2001 the Company had 60 holders of record for its common stock. The Company estimates that there were in excess of 1,000 beneficial owners of its common stock as of that date. During 1999 and 2000, the Company's common stock traded on the Nasdaq Stock Market. The high and low sales prices for the common stock on the Nasdaq Stock Market for each quarter of fiscal 2000 and 1999 are shown below:

	High	Low

Fourth Quarter	6 11/16	3 3/8

Subsequent to December 29, 2000, the Company received notice from The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. that its common stock had failed to maintain the continued listing standards as required by Nasdaq rules. After a hearing on May 10, 2001, the Company was notified that the Nasdaq staff had determined the Company's stock would be delisted and the stock began trading on the Pink Sheets as of May 25, 2001.

The Company has never declared or paid cash dividends on its common stock. The Company currently intends to retain earnings to support operations and therefore, does not anticipate paying cash dividends on its common stock in the foreseeable future. Future payment of cash dividends on its common stock will depend upon such factors as the Company's earnings, capital requirements, capital structure, financial condition, contractual restrictions and other factors deemed relevant by the Board of Directors. In addition, the Company's current senior credit facility prohibits the payment of cash dividends on any of its capital stock.

For non-registered issuances of common stock during the prior three years, please see discussion of July 2000 and April 2001 issuances in MD&A under caption "Financial Restructuring" under the subheading "Acquisitions".

- (2) As discussed in Item 1 - Business, the Company made several acquisitions from 1995 through 1998 and several divestitures in 1999 and 2000 that affect the comparability of information reflected in the selected financial data.

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

Results of Operations

The following table presents the components of the consolidated statements of operations as a percentage of sales for the periods indicated and includes the results of operations for all acquired companies from their date of acquisition, except that Ontario Tree Fruits Ltd.'s ("OTF") results of operations are included for all periods since it has been accounted for as a pooling of interests. The fiscal years ended December 29, 2000 (fiscal 2000), December 31, 1999 (fiscal 1999) and January 1, 1998 (fiscal 1998) are all 52-week periods.

Comparison of Fiscal 2000 to Fiscal 1999

Net sales. Net sales decreased $115.3 million, or 17.2%, to $554.6 million in fiscal 2000 from $669.9 million in fiscal 1999. Approximately $67.0 million of this decrease was attributable to the 1999 divestiture of seven of the Company's direct food service distribution operations and the first quarter 2000 closure of the Sam Perricone Citrus market operations. Approximately $41.0 million of the decrease was related to OTF, the Company's Canadian operations. The Canadian operation experienced increased revenues in 1999 as the result of a citrus freeze in the U.S. Additionally, a major customer of OTF which had accounted for approximately 65% of the Canadian operation revenues was lost during 1999. Fourth quarter sales decreased to $109.9 million compared to $151.1 million in the comparable 1999 period. Sam's represented the Company's largest customer in 2000 and 1999. Sam's accounted for 30.0% of net sales in fiscal 2000 compared to 30.5% in fiscal 1999. The Company's contract with Sam's expired in October 2000. See Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements elsewhere herein.

Cost of Sales. Cost of sales decreased $95.8 million, or 16.2% to $496.2 million in fiscal 2000 from $592.0 million in fiscal 1999. The decrease is primarily related to fourth quarter 1999 divestitures of the Company's direct food service distribution operation and decreased business volume in the OTF operation. As a percentage of net sales, cost of sales increased to 89.5% from 88.4%, which in turn decreased the Company's gross profit percentage to 10.5% from 11.6%. The Company's margins were negatively impacted by fluctuating commodity markets, the effects of which the Company was unable to fully recover through increased prices to customers associated with the Company's core items, including tomatoes, melons, onions and citrus, in those instances where the Company was unable to renegotiate such prices with its customers. The Company enters into arrangements with its customers on either a fee for service or a pre-determined margin basis. In cases where the Company provides its products to the customer on a fee for service basis, when there is an oversupply of product available, prices decrease, as there is too much product in the market for the relatively flat demand. During these times, Fresh America must sell product at a lower price to remain competitive. Sales dollars decrease as the same quantity of product is purchased at the lower price. Cost of sales and gross profit are primarily impacted due to the fact that the operational costs needed to process the product do not decrease. Therefore the cost of sales increases as a percentage of sales and the gross profit declines. Where possible, the Company attempts to reduce the risk of fluctuating commodity prices in such arrangements by negotiating corresponding fee for service arrangements with its growers and/or shippers.

Pre-determined margin contracts provide the Company with greater flexibility to hold or decrease prices to customers when commodity prices fall or hold or to increase prices to customers when commodity prices rise. During fiscal year 1999, approximately 66.5% of the Company's arrangements with its customers were on a pre-determined margin basis and approximately 33.5% of such arrangements were on a fee for service basis. This is compared with fiscal year 2000, during which approximately 67.2% of the Company's arrangements with customers were on a pre-determined margin basis and approximately 32.8% of such arrangements were on a fee for services basis.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. Selling, general and administrative ("SG&A") expenses decreased by $12.7 million, or 19.1% to $54.0 million in fiscal 2000 from $66.8 million in fiscal 1999. The majority of the decrease in SG&A is primarily attributable to a reduction in operating expenses of approximately $9.0 million caused by the closing of poorly performing operations in the latter part of 1999 and the first quarter of 2000. Additionally, salaries and benefits decreased at the Company's corporate office and certain other locations as a result of improved efficiencies and restructurings. Although the Company expects certain SG&A expenses related to its reorganization to occur throughout 2001, it is anticipated that overall SG & A costs will continue to decrease in 2001 as compared to 2000.

Bad debt expense. The Company's provision for bad debt decreased $4.1 million to $1.9 million in fiscal 2000 from $6.0 million in fiscal 1999. In fiscal 1999, the Company recorded an additional provision for bad debt amounting to $1.9 million related to certain past due customer balances at seven of its divested food service operations for which management determined further collection efforts would not be successful. In 1999, the Company also recorded charges totaling $2.1 million principally related to certain distribution agreements under which the Company did not fully recover amounts due from other parties associated with terminated business arrangements.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization decreased $0.7 million, or 11.3% to $5.5 million in fiscal 2000 from $6.2 million in fiscal 1999, primarily related to the food service divestitures in 1999 and 2000 previously mentioned.

Disposition costs and impairment of long-lived assets. During the fourth quarter of 2000, the Company recorded impairment charges to reduce the carrying value of property and equipment and related allocated goodwill of $10.6 million and $2.2 million respectively, related to non-performing operations. The Company recorded goodwill impairment charges of $10.6 million and other disposition costs aggregating $2.9 million in 1999 related to non-performing operations. See Note 6 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements elsewhere herein.

Settlement of Lawsuits. In May 2001, the original purchase for the assets of Thompson's Produce in October 1998 was rescinded pursuant to arbitration and, as a result, the Company recorded a charge of $1.2 million in December 2000.

Operating income (loss). As a result of the foregoing factors, the Company incurred an operating loss of $17.1 million in fiscal 2000 compared to $19.3 million in fiscal 1999.

Other income (expense). Interest expense decreased $0.6 million to $5.2 million in fiscal 2000 from $5.8 million in fiscal 1999 due to reductions of debt for borrowed money.

Income tax expense (benefit). The effective tax rate for fiscal 2000 was (4.2%) compared to 10.7% in fiscal 1999. The difference in these effective tax rates compared to the statutory U.S. federal rate of 35% is primarily attributable to increases in the valuation allowance that were recorded against the Company's deferred tax assets in both fiscal years and the impairment of non-deductible goodwill in fiscal 1999. See Note 9 to the consolidated financial statements elsewhere herein.

Extraordinary gain on extinguishment of debt. In July 2000, the Company entered into an agreement amending the stock purchase agreement and restructuring certain notes payable related to the Company's November 1998 acquisition of Perricone Citrus Company. The restructuring resulted in an extraordinary gain in the third quarter of 2000 of $1.9 million. (See "Liquidity and Capital Resources" in Item 7 - MD & A.)

Net income (loss). As a result of the foregoing factors, the Company incurred a net loss of $20.9 million in fiscal 2000 compared to net loss of $22.0 million in fiscal 1999.

Comparison of Fiscal 1999 to Fiscal 1998

Net sales. Net sales increased $60.4 million, or 9.9%, to $669.9 million in fiscal 1999 from $609.5 million in fiscal 1998. Such increase was primarily attributable to acquisitions made during or subsequent to the third quarter of 1998. This increase was somewhat offset by weak commodity prices associated with the Company's core items, including tomatoes, melons, onions and citrus during the second half of fiscal 1999. Sam's, the Company's largest customer, represented 30.5% of net sales in fiscal 1999 compared to 36.5% in fiscal 1998. Fourth quarter sales decreased to $151.1 million compared to $176.6 million in the comparable 1998 period, reflecting the effect of the divestitures of the six food service operations and the reduction of 40 Sam's Clubs being serviced under the distribution agreement with Sam's. See Note 2 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Cost of Sales. Cost of sales increased $54.4 million, or 10.1% to $592.0 million in fiscal 1999 from $537.6 million in fiscal 1998, primarily reflecting the increase in net sales discussed above. As a percentage of net sales, cost of sales increased slightly to 88.4% from 88.2%, which in turn decreased the Company's gross profit percentage to 11.6% from 11.8%. The Company's margins were negatively impacted by fluctuating commodity markets during the second half of 1999, the effects of which the Company was unable to fully recover through increased prices to customers, on such staples as onions, melons and bananas as well as the unavailability of citrus product associated with the winter freeze in 1999.

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Selling, general and administrative expenses. SG&A expenses increased by $14.9 million, or 28.7% to $66.8 million in fiscal 1999 from $51.9 million in fiscal 1998. The increase was primarily due to $14.9 million of SG&A expenses related to acquisitions made during or subsequent to the third quarter of 1998.

Bad debt expense. The Company's provision for bad debt increased $4.8 million to $6.0 million in fiscal 1999 from $1.2 million in fiscal 1998. In fiscal 1999, the Company recorded an additional provision for bad debt of $1.9 million related to certain past due balances at seven of its divested food service operations for which management determined further collection efforts would not be successful. The Company also recorded $2.1 million principally related to certain distribution agreements under which the Company did not fully recover amounts associated with terminated business arrangements. The remaining increase was primarily due to the downturn in the industry, which occurred in late 1999. Subsequent to fiscal 1999, the Company re-evaluated its credit review policies to consider whether substantive changes were needed in response to the level of bad debt expense in fiscal 1999. Management determined that such policies were appropriate and believed bad debt expense could be significantly reduced by more rigorously enforcing the existing policies.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization increased $2.2 million, or 56.6% to $6.2 million in fiscal 1999 from $4.0 million in fiscal 1998. The increase was primarily due to goodwill amortization related to acquisitions made subsequent to or during the latter part of fiscal 1998 and increased depreciation related to the Company's computer system that was implemented in its core operations in October 1998.

Disposition costs and impairment of long-lived assets. During 1999, the Company's management implemented a program to improve its cost structure, streamline operations and divest under-performing assets. As a result, in 1999 the Company decided to close or sell several of its under-performing food service operations and a wholesale market operation. These operations were located in Los Angeles and San Francisco California; Orlando, Florida; Atlanta, Georgia; Baton Rouge, Louisiana and Austin and San Antonio, Texas. The food service operations in Orlando, Los Angeles and Atlanta were closed during the third quarter of 1999, while the San Antonio and San Francisco operations were closed in October 1999. The Austin and Baton Rouge food service operations were sold in November 1999. The Company's Los Angeles market operation was closed in February 2000. As a result of the above transactions, the Company recorded goodwill impairment of $10.6 million, recorded impairment charges to reduce the carrying value or incurred losses on the sale of property and equipment of $1.0 million and incurred closure costs (consisting primarily of lease commitments and severance costs) of $2.0 million.

Transaction costs. On May 3, 1999, the Company and FreshPoint Holdings entered into a definitive merger agreement pursuant to which FreshPoint would have merged with and into the Company. The transaction was to be accounted for as a reverse acquisition with FreshPoint as the accounting acquirer. Effective October 1999, the merger agreement was terminated by the Company and FreshPoint. During fiscal 1999, the Company recorded merger-related expenses of $3.9 million, which consisted primarily of investment banking fees, legal and professional fees, severance costs and stay-to-close incentives associated with planned reductions in work force. Fiscal 1998 included $1.4 million in transaction costs related to the acquisition of OTF.

Settlements of lawsuits. In fiscal 1999, the Company settled a lawsuit for

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

$600,000 including legal costs. The lawsuit involved a dispute over the Company's alleged improper solicitation of employees while starting up a new business in 1998. Additionally, the Company settled two lawsuits with former employees for $200,000.

Operating income (loss). As a result of the foregoing factors, the Company incurred an operating loss of $19.3 million in fiscal 2000 compared to operating income of $13.4 million in fiscal 1999.

Other income (expense). Interest expense increased $2.8 million to $5.8 million in fiscal 1999 from $3.0 million in fiscal 1998 due to increased borrowings to help finance acquisitions that were made during the latter part of fiscal 1998 and, to a lesser extent, increased interest rates during 1999. Interest income decreased $700,000 to $300,000 in fiscal 1999 from $1.0 million in fiscal 1998 primarily due to interest recognized by OTF in fiscal 1998 related to a settled insurance claim that had been in dispute for several years.

Income tax expense (benefit). The effective tax rate for fiscal 1999 was 10.7% compared to 44.8% in fiscal 1998. The difference is primarily attributable to a valuation allowance of $4.6 million that was recorded against the Company's deferred tax assets and the tax effect of $2.0 million related to the write-off of non-deductible goodwill. See Note 9 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Net income (loss). As a result of the foregoing factors, the Company incurred a net loss of $22.0 million in fiscal 1999 compared to net income of $6.2 million in fiscal 1998.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Cash provided by operating activities increased $14.8 million to $19.2 million for fiscal 2000 compared to $4.4 million in fiscal 1999. The increase is due to the net effect of reductions in accounts receivable of $21.6 million, inventory of $3.8 million and accounts payable of $11.5 million, primarily due to the decrease in the Sam's Club business upon expiration of the distribution agreement with Sam's in October 2000.

Cash used in investing activities decreased $7.7 million to $0.7 million in fiscal 2000 from $8.4 million in fiscal 1999. The decrease is primarily attributable to the change in strategy to focus on existing successful businesses and completion of expenditures in 1999 related to the Company's implementation of its SAP information system.

Cash used in financing activities was $16.4 million in 2000 as compared to cash provided by financing activities in 1999 of $6.0 million. This decrease of $22.4 million was primarily due to reductions in the outstanding balance of the Company's senior credit facility and the retirement of certain short-term debt that were partially offset by proceeds from the issuance of preferred stock and warrants.

On December 29, 2000 the Company had working capital of $2.6 million compared to working capital of $12.2 million at December 31, 1999. This decrease of $9.6 million is primarily due to decreases in accounts receivable and inventories offset by a decrease in accounts payable, all associated with the termination of the Sam's agreement, which substantially decreased the scope of operations.

Management believes that the combination of the effects of the financial restructure completed in September 2001, cash generated from ongoing operating activities, and the realization of recent reductions in corporate overhead expenses will enable the Company to meet its obligations as they come due during the 12-month period subsequent to December 29, 2000. As discussed under the caption "Financial Restructuring", the Company is currently negotiating with another lender and intends to arrange a new senior debt facility to replace its current term note that matures in January 2002.

Subsequent to closing the financial restructuring in September 2001, as discussed herein, the Company has $7.4 million of debt, consisting primarily of a senior term note and redeemable preferred stock with redemption value of $7.7 million. If the Company is unable to generate sufficient cash flow to service such debt or preferred stock or refinance the senior term debt when it matures in January 2002, the Company may have to reduce or divest certain operations, restructure its preferred stock or seek additional equity capital. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to generate sufficient cash flow or raise additional debt or equity capital on satisfactory terms in order to refinance its senior term debt and expand its business. Changes in interest rates, market liquidity, stock prices and general market conditions may affect the Company's ability to raise funds or refinance senior term debt. The Company's ability to make scheduled payments with respect to indebtedness and preferred stock and refinance our debt will depend upon, among other things: the Company's ability to sustain cash flow, produce commodity pricing, and the Company's ability to implement its business strategy.

Financial Restructuring

Throughout its operational restructuring during the past two years, the Company has pursued various financing opportunities in an effort to restructure its debt. In September 2001, the Company completed a financial restructuring whereby North Texas Opportunity Fund LP, ("NTOF") purchased 50,000 shares of the Company's Series D cumulative redeemable preferred stock and warrants exercisable for 84,100,980 shares of our common stock for cash proceeds of $5 million. Arthur Hollingsworth, an affiliate of NTOF and the Company's Chairman of the Board, subsequently purchased from NTOF 3,500 of their 50,000 shares of Series D preferred stock and 5,887,069 of the 84,100,980 warrants that had been purchased by NTOF at the same price as paid by NTOF. In connection with the NTOF investment in the Company, John Hancock Life Insurance Company, John Hancock Variable Life Insurance Company, Signature 1A (Cayman), Ltd. and Signature 3 Limited (collectively, the "Subordinated Lender") exchanged $20 million of subordinated debt, warrants to purchase 576,134 shares of common stock, 50,000 shares of Series C cumulative redeemable preferred stock and all accrued interest and dividends for 27,000 shares of the Company's Series D cumulative redeemable preferred stock and warrants exercisable for 45,414,529 shares of our common stock.

Bank Debt. In conjunction with this restructuring, Bank of America, N.A. (the "Senior Lender") agreed to a payment schedule which will reduce the Company's indebtedness to the Senior Lender from $5.3 million, which was owed at the time of closing of the NTOF transaction, to $3.8 million by year-end 2001. The indebtedness, previously a revolving credit facility, was converted to a term note with a maturity of the remaining balance in January 2002. The Company is working to refinance the term debt prior to its maturity. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to replace its Senior Lender as anticipated or extend its term note beyond January 2002, if that becomes necessary.

Subordinated Debt. Prior to the restructuring in September 2001, the Company had $20 million of subordinated debt owing to the Subordinated Lender. Additionally in April 2000, the Company issued to the Subordinated Lender $5 million (50,000 shares) of the Company's Series C cumulative redeemable preferred stock. The Company was not in compliance with certain covenants under the terms of its agreements with the Subordinated Lender at December 29, 2000. Cumulative preferred dividends accrued as of December 29, 2000 totaled $0.3 million or $6.04 per share of preferred stock. The preferred stock, the subordinated debt owing to the Subordinated Lender and the accrued but unpaid interest and dividends thereon were converted to new issues of the Company's preferred stock as part of the restructure discussed above.

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Prior to its sale in March 2001, OTF had a demand agreement with Royal Bank of Canada to provide revolving credit facilities, which were collateralized by substantially all assets of OTF. The Canadian Revolver had an outstanding balance of CDN $5.6 million (U.S. $3.8 million) as of December 29, 2000. This outstanding balance was fully retired in March 2001 in conjunction with the sale of OTF's operating assets.

Acquisitions. In July 2000, the Company entered into an agreement amending the stock purchase agreement related to the Company's November 1998 acquisition of Perricone Citrus Company. As part of the amended agreement, unsecured promissory notes owed by the Company totaling $3.5 million and the accrued and unpaid interest therein were restructured whereby the Company agreed to the following: payments totaling $100,000 upon execution of the amended agreement; lump-sum payments of $350,000 and $150,000 on January 1, 2002 and July 1, 2002, respectively; and 24 monthly installment payments of $37,500 totaling $900,000. The installment and lump-sum payments accrue interest at 10% per annum. However, all accrued interest will be forgiven if scheduled principal payments are made timely. Additionally, the Company issued the noteholders 300,000 warrants to purchase common shares of the Company at an exercise price of $2.50 per share. The warrants are exercisable for a duration of seven years. The issuances of these securities was exempt from registration under the Securities Act under Regulation D. The restructuring of the promissory notes and related accrued interest resulted in an extraordinary gain to the Company of $1.9 million in the third quarter of 2000.

Under the terms of the purchase agreement for Jos. Notarianni & Co. ("Notarianni"), a portion of the purchase price is contingent upon Notarianni's earnings subsequent to its acquisitions. The contingent payment for Notarianni will be equal to 1.4 times Notarianni's average annual pretax earnings over a three-year period from October 3, 1998 to October 3, 2001. Any contingent payment is payable in cash or common stock at the Company's sole discretion. As of December 2000, no amounts were owed in relation to the Notarianni acquisition.

The Company's purchase agreement with Hereford Haven Inc. d/b/a Martin Bros. ("Martin Bros.") also contains a contingent payment component in the purchase price. The Martin Bros. contingent payment is equal to 4 times the average annual pretax earnings for the three-year period from January 3, 1998 to January 3, 2001. The total contingent payment was $5.0 million at December 29, 2000. The payment was due March 31, 2001 and was payable in either cash, common stock or a combination of cash and common stock to the extent of 75% at the Company's option and 25% at the selling shareholder's option.

In satisfaction of 75% of the contingent payment, in April 2001, the Company issued 3,166,694 shares of its common stock to Larry Martin, the former owner of Martin Bros. The issuance of these securities to Mr. Martin was exempt from registration under the Securities Act under Regulation D. At the time of issuance, the shares represented a 38% ownership interest in the Company. These shares were valued at $1.17 per share, the market value of the Company's common stock at the time of the transaction. The remaining $1.2 million of contingent consideration remained a financial obligation of the Company and was restructured as part of the financial restructuring discussed above. It is payable in cash subject to the approval of the Company's Senior Lender. This payment has been extended and is now due and payable in January 2002.

Equipment Financing. The Company is party to a master lease agreement with SunTrust Bank that has been used to provide equipment financing for several of the Company's operating units. The Company was not in compliance with certain financial covenants under the terms of the lease at December 29, 2000 and received waivers for noncompliance through January 2, 2002. The Company is currently renegotiating the financial covenants of this agreement and anticipates this agreement will be revised prior to the expiration of the waiver in January 2002. The lease agreement provides that future lease payments can be accelerated in the event of default. There can be no assurance that the Company will be in compliance with such covenants subsequent to the waiver period or will be successful in renegotiating the covenants.

New Accounting Standards

The Company has assessed the reporting and disclosure requirements of Statement of Financial Accounting Standard ("SFAS") No. 133, "Accounting For Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities". This statement, as amended, establishes accounting and reporting standards for derivative instruments and hedging activities and will require the Company to recognize all derivatives on its balance sheet at fair value. If the derivative is a hedge, depending on the nature of the hedge, changes in the fair value of the derivatives will either be offset against the change in fair value of the hedged item through earnings, or recognized in other comprehensive income until the hedged item is recognized in earnings. The provisions of SFAS No. 133 were adopted in the first quarter of fiscal 2001, and since the Company is not party to any derivative contracts, adoption of this statement did not have any effect on the Company's results of operations or financial position.

In July 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued SFAS No. 141 "Business Combinations" and SFAS No. 142 "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets". SFAS No. 141 requires that all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 be accounted for under the purchase method and SFAS No. 142 requires that goodwill no longer be amortized to earnings, but instead be reviewed for impairment. The provisions of SFAS No. 142 will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. Also, the FASB has voted to issue SFAS No. 143 "Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations" which establishes requirements for the accounting of removal-type costs associated with asset retirements. SFAS No.143 is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2002, with earlier application encouraged. The Company is currently assessing the impact of these standards on its financial statements.

Quarterly Results and Seasonality

The Company's business is somewhat seasonal, with its greatest quarterly sales volume historically occurring in the fourth quarter. With the change in the current mix of business resulting from the Company's divestitures of certain specialty food service operations, the termination of the Sam's agreement in October 2000 and the increasing effect of global sourcing, the Company believes seasonal fluctuations may diminish in future years. A substantial portion of the Company's produce sales consists of staple items such as apples, oranges, grapefruit, potatoes and onions, which are strongest during the fall, winter and spring. The supply and quality of these items declines during the summer, although lower sales of these items are partially replaced by more seasonal products such as peaches, plums, nectarines, strawberries and melons. Sales of refrigerated, prepackaged products, such as vegetable trays, are strongest during the fourth quarter holiday season.

In any given quarter, an adverse development such as the unavailability of high quality produce or harsh weather conditions could have a disproportionate impact on the Company's results of operations for the full year. See Note 13 to the accompanying financial statements for certain quarterly information for the Company's two most recent fiscal years.

Inflation

Although the Company cannot determine the precise effects of inflation, management does not believe inflation has had a material effect on its sales or results of operations. However, independent of normal inflationary pressures, the Company's produce products are subject to fluctuating prices which result from factors discussed in "Quarterly Results and Seasonality" above.

Forward-Looking Statements

This Annual Report and the information incorporated by reference in this Annual Report contain forward-looking statements. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about Fresh America's beliefs or expectations, are forward-looking statements. These statements are based on plans, estimates and projections at the time we make the statements, and you should not place undue reliance on them. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as "may," "will," "should," "expects," "anticipates," "plans," "believes," "estimates," "predicts," "potential" or "continue" or the negative of such terms and other comparable terminology. These statements are only predictions. Actual events or results may differ materially. In evaluating these statements, you should specifically consider various factors, including the risks outlined below. These factors may cause our actual results to differ materially from those expressed in forward-looking statements made or incorporated by reference in this Annual Report, or in any other SEC filings or public statements we may make.

The Company is subject to a number of risks, including those discussed below:

Our Debt Leverage Could Adversely Affect Our Business. The degree to which we are leveraged could have adverse consequences, such as:

- . limiting or impairing our ability to obtain refinancing for our senior term debt at favorable rates;
- . limiting or impairing our ability to obtain additional financing in the future for working capital, capital expenditures or general corporate purposes;
- . requiring us to dedicate a portion of our cash flow to the payment of principal and interest on our indebtedness and dividends on our preferred stock, which reduces the availability of cash flow to fund working capital, capital expenditures and growth opportunities; and
- . increasing our vulnerability to economic downturns, limiting our ability to withstand competitive pressures and reducing our flexibility in responding to changing business and economic conditions.

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

As of December 6, 2001, we have $6.9 million of debt, consisting primarily of our senior term note, and redeemable preferred stock with redemption value of $7.7 million.

We Will Require a Significant Amount of Cash to Service Our Debt and Preferred Stock Over the Next Twelve Months and Beyond; Our Ability to Generate Cash Depends on Many Factors Beyond Our Control. If we are unable to generate sufficient cash flow to service our debt or preferred stock or refinance our senior term debt when it matures in January 2002, we may have to reduce or divest certain operations, restructure our preferred stock or seek additional equity capital. There can be no assurance that we will be able to generate sufficient cash flow or raise additional debt or equity capital on satisfactory terms in order to refinance our senior term debt and expand our business. Changes in interest rates, market liquidity, stock prices and general market conditions may all affect our ability to raise funds or refinance our senior term debt.

Our ability to make scheduled payments with respect to indebtedness and preferred stock and refinance our debt will depend upon, among other things:

- . our ability to sustain cash flow;

- . produce commodity pricing;
- . our ability to implement our business strategy.

Each of these factors is affected by economic, financial, competitive and other factors, many of which are beyond our control.

Our Efforts To Implement Our Business Strategy May Fail. Our management has stated its intention to expand and diversify our customer base, market penetration and service offerings. This strategy poses risks associated with our ability to reduce costs, reach targeted customers, increase sales in higher margin products and increase product distribution through high-volume warehouses. These challenges will be subject to the risk of intense competition, lack of sufficient customer demand or change in customer tastes, inadequate assured sources of quality product supply and unforeseen complications, delays and cost increases. Some of our prior acquisitions were not successfully integrated into our business and there can be no assurance that we will succeed in implementing our business strategy.

Our Debt and Preferred Stock Covenants Restrict Our Operating Flexibility. A breach of the covenants in our senior secured term debt could result in a default, in which event, the bank could elect to declare the outstanding principal amount or our term note to be immediately due and payable. Our agreements with our preferred stockholders also contain various restrictions, which if not complied with could cause our preferred stockholders to have a put right on their preferred stock at $100.00 per share plus accrued and unpaid dividends. The terms and conditions of our senior secured term note and agreements with our preferred stockholders impose restrictions that affect, among other things, our ability to incur debt, make capital expenditures, merge, sell assets, make distributions, or create or incur liens. Our ability to comply with these requirements can be affected by events beyond our control and there can be no assurance that we will be able to comply with the provisions of the credit agreement or the agreements with our preferred stockholders.

Price and Quality Fluctuations Could Adversely Affect Our Operating Income.

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Prices of high quality fresh produce are extremely volatile based on available supply, which can be significantly affected by factors such as weather, disease and level of agricultural production. Both our sales and profitability could be negatively affected during periods of exceptionally high, low or volatile prices or when we cannot obtain sufficient high quality produce. During periods of lower produce prices, our operating income is adversely affected because we have less gross margin to cover operating expenses.

We Operate in Highly Competitive Markets. Due to the commodity nature of certain of our products, we operate in highly competitive markets, and our success will be largely dependent on our ability to provide quality products at the lowest possible prices. Many companies compete in the food service produce distribution and wholesale food distribution categories. However, only a few well-established companies operate on both a national and regional basis. We face strong competition from these as well as smaller regional companies in all of our product lines. There can be no assurance that we will be able to compete successfully with current or future competitors. Competitive considerations include:

- . some competitors may have substantially greater financial resources and operating flexibility to react to changes in the marketplace;
- . some of our products compete with imports and private label products and are sensitive to competition from regional brands; and
- . we cannot predict the pricing or promotional actions of our competitors and if we do not respond to reduced pricing or discounts or if we raise prices, we could lose market share.

Severe Weather Conditions and Natural Disasters Can Affect the Availability of Produce and Reduce Our Operating Results. Severe weather conditions and natural disasters, such as floods, droughts, frosts, earthquakes or pestilence, may affect the supply of our products. These events can result in reduced supplies of fresh produce and higher costs of products.

Our Operating Results Are Seasonal. Interference With Our Production Schedule During Peak Months Could Negatively Impact Our Operating Results. Our working capital requirements are seasonal and are most significant in the second and fourth quarters. Our sales tend to peak in the fourth fiscal quarter each year, mainly as a result of the holiday period in November and December. By contrast, in the third fiscal quarter of each year, sales generally decline, mainly due to less promotional activity and the availability of fresh produce. Any adverse development affecting our operations during this period, such as the unavailability of high quality produce or harsh weather conditions, could have a disproportionate impact on our results of operations for the full year.

Our Common Stock Has Recently Experienced Reduced Liquidity and Market Coverage. Our common stock has been delisted from the Nasdaq National Market and is currently traded on the Pink Sheets market. There has been less trading activity in our common stock as a result of this move. Also, our common stock is currently suffering from a lack of coverage by investment professionals.

ITEM 7A. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Foreign Exchange Risk. Our Canadian operations were subject to foreign currency risk; however, we have not experienced any material foreign currency transaction gains or losses during the last three fiscal years. Foreign currency translation adjustments are recorded to our consolidated shareholders' equity in accumulated comprehensive income. We manage foreign currency risk by maintaining portfolios of currency denomination in the currency for which it is required to make payment. As of March 2001, the Company no longer conducted business in Canada.

Interest Rate Risk. Our senior term debt accrues interest at a market rate at the time of borrowing plus an applicable margin on certain borrowings. The interest rate is based on the lending bank's prime rate. The impact on the Company's results of operations of a one-percentage point interest rate change on the outstanding balance of the variable rate debt as of December 29, 2000 would be approximately $124,000.

Commodity Pricing Risk. For reasons discussed previously, prices of high quality produce can be extremely volatile. In order to reduce the impact of these factors, to the extent possible, we set our prices based on current delivered cost.

Prior to co-founding Intertrans in 1978, Mr. McKinney held several positions with Circle International, a public international freight forwarder, customs broker and logistics company and with Texas Instruments in various capacities, including International Traffic Manager. Upon the closing of the NTOF transaction, Mr. McKinney tendered his resignation from the Board. Such resignation will be accepted by the Company upon the satisfaction of any requirements of Section 14(f) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

Section 16(A) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, requires the Company's executive officers and directors and persons who own more than ten percent (10%) of a registered class of the Company's equity securities (collectively, the "Reporting Persons") to file reports of ownership and changes in ownership with the Securities and Exchange Commission and to furnish the Company with copies of these reports. The Company believes that all filings required to be made by the Reporting Persons during the fiscal year ended December 29, 2000 were made on a timely basis, based solely on a review of copies of all reports of ownership furnished to the Company.

ITEM 11. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION.

that might be realized upon the exercise of the options immediately prior to the expiration of their term, assuming the specified compounded rates of appreciation of the Common Stock over the term of the options.

Aggregated Option Exercises In Last Fiscal Year and Fiscal Year-End Option Values

There were no options exercised by the named executive officers during the 2000 fiscal year.

401(k) Plan

The Company maintains a 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan, a tax-qualified retirement plan under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). The Company's 401(k) Plan provides participants with retirement benefits and may also provide benefits upon death, disability or termination of employment with the Company. Employees are eligible to participate in the Company's 401(k) Plan following the completion of three (3) months of employment. In addition, employees must be at least twenty-one (21) years of age to be eligible for participation in the 401(k) Plan. Participants may make elective salary reduction contributions to the 401(k) Plan up to the lesser of 15% of the participant's compensation or the legally permissible limit (currently $10,500) imposed by the Code. The Company may, in its sole discretion, make a matching employer contribution for employees of the amount of the percentage of each employee contribution up to a maximum contribution of 3% of the contributing employee's compensation. In addition, the Company may, in its sole discretion, make nonelective contributions to the 401(k) Plan for participants who are not considered to be "highly compensated employees" under the Plan. Contributions by the Company vest over a period of five (5) years. Enrollment in the 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan may be effected on the first day of the month following the date the employee meets the eligibility requirements of the Plan.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

During the 2000 fiscal year, the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors consisted of Sheldon Stein and Colon Washburn; however, Mr. Stein resigned in September 2000. Mr. Washburn became the Company's Chief Executive Officer in October 1999, and continued to serve on the compensation committee until February 2001. Mr. Washburn resigned as our Chief Executive Officer in August 2001.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE'S REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Compensation Committee was formed in April 1994 in anticipation of the Company's initial public offering. Prior to the establishment of the Compensation Committee, the entire Board of Directors was responsible for determining executive compensation. Since its formation, the Compensation Committee has been responsible for recommending bonuses and any increase in base salaries for the Company's executive officers.

The Compensation Committee believes that, in order for the Company to succeed, it must be able to attract and retain qualified executive officers. In determining the type and amount of executive officer compensation, the objectives of the Compensation Committee are to provide levels of base compensation, bonuses and long-term incentives (in the form of stock options or other plans) that will attract and retain talented executive officers and align their interests with the success of the Company. The Company's executive officer compensation program currently is comprised of base salary, bonus plan, long-term incentive compensation (in the form of stock options) and various benefits generally available to employees of the Company (such as health and disability insurance). Under the supervision of the Compensation Committee and the Board of Directors, the Company has developed and implemented compensation policies, plans and programs that seek to enhance the profitability of the Company and increase shareholder value.

Base Salaries

The Company's policy is to maintain base salaries competitive with salaries paid to similarly situated executive officers of companies of similar size in comparable industries. Although neither the Board of Directors nor the Compensation Committee has conducted a formal review of base salaries paid to similarly situated executive officers, the Company believes that the base salaries payable to its executive officers are comparable to those paid by similar companies located in the Company's geographical area and engaged in industries comparable to the Company's. The Compensation Committee anticipates that adjustments to base compensation will generally be made based upon assigned responsibility and performance and successful attainment of specific goals and objectives of the Company and individual employees.

Bonuses

Year-end cash bonuses are designed to motivate the Company's executive officers to achieve specific annual financial goals and to achieve favorable returns for the Company's shareholders. At the end of each fiscal year, the Compensation Committee will assess each executive's contributions to the Company as well as the degree to which specific annual financial, strategic, and operating objectives were met by the Company.

Long-Term Incentives

Stock option grants under the Company's stock option plans form the basis of the Company's long-term incentive compensation for executive officers and employees. The specific objective of the Company's stock option plans is to align the long-term interests of the Company's executive officers and employees with those of shareholders by creating a strong link between executive pay and shareholder returns. The Company encourages its executive officers and employees to develop and maintain a significant, long-term stock ownership position in the Company's Common Stock. Stock options are awarded to executive officers and employees in order to encourage future management actions aimed at improving the Company's sales efforts, product quality and profitability. The Company believes that success in these endeavors will increase the value of the Company's Common Stock for shareholders. Recipients of options will have the opportunity to share in the increased value that results from their efforts. The Plan Administration Committee makes specific awards of options based on an individual's ability to impact Company-wide performance and in light of the total compensation appropriate for the individual's position. The Compensation Committee and the Plan Administration Committee may also consider other bonus or long-term incentives at their discretion.

Chief Executive Officer Compensation

In approving Mr. Washburn's compensation, the Board of Directors evaluated and compared Mr. Washburn's duties, responsibilities and performance results, and the overall results of the Company, to industry norms to determine the minimum level of base compensation required. The compensation committee did not recommend a cash bonus for fiscal 2000.

In November 2000, the Company entered into a resignation agreement and contract for services with Mr. Sheinfeld. Pursuant to the resignation agreement, both notes totaling $300,000 in principal and all accrued interest thereon were forgiven in full. In addition, the Company paid Mr. Sheinfeld $16,923 on December 1, 2000 and $25,000 on January 1, 2001. The Company paid Mr. Sheinfeld $33,333 per month for the six months of January through June 2001. The payments decreased to $8,333 for the last six months of 2001. There are no other payments due.

This Report is submitted by the members of the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors.

Employment Agreements

The Company has entered into employment agreements with Gary Wiener, Steven Finberg, and Colon Washburn. These employment agreements set forth the basic terms of Mr. Wiener's, Mr. Finberg's, and Mr. Washburn's employment with the Company, and also contain provisions regarding non-competition, non-solicitation of Company employees, non-solicitation of Company customers, and confidentiality of certain Company information.

Mr. Wiener's agreement for employment with the Company as its Chief Operating Officer has a term of three years, commencing on October 5, 2001. The term of the employment agreement may be extended by a written extension agreement signed by both parties. Mr. Wiener is obligated under the agreement to devote his full professional working time to the Company and shall not otherwise be employed or otherwise engaged in any other business or enterprise without the written permission of the Company. The agreement provides for a base salary of $160,000 per year, which is to be reviewed annually by the Company, but which may not be decreased. In addition to the base salary, the agreement provides for, among other things, participation in benefit plans and other fringe benefits applicable to similarly situated officers and managers, reimbursement for business expenses in accordance with Company policy, and eligibility to receive a performance-based annual bonus. The bonus will be awarded beginning on the first day of the calendar year following October 5, 2001, only if the economic performance of the Company during twelve consecutive months has achieved or exceeded an "adjusted target budget" as determined by the Board of Directors and subject to adjustment as set forth in the agreement. The agreement provides that the Company may terminate for cause (as defined in the agreement) at any time. The agreement terminates automatically in the event of disability (as defined in the agreement) and also terminates automatically upon death. Termination by either the employee or the Company (except for in the event of death) requires two weeks' written notice.

Mr. Finberg's agreement for employment with the Company as a Vice President Sales and Marketing has a term of three years, commencing on October 5, 2001. The term of the employment agreement may be extended by a written extension agreement signed by both parties. Mr. Finberg is obligated under the agreement to devote his full professional working time to the Company and shall not otherwise be employed or otherwise engaged in any other business or enterprise without the written permission of the Company. The agreement provides for a base salary of $145,000 per year, which is to be reviewed annually by the Company, but which may not be decreased. In addition to the base salary, the agreement provides for, among other things, participation in benefit plans and other fringe benefits applicable to similarly situated officers and managers, reimbursement for business expenses in accordance with Company policy, and eligibility to receive performance-based annual bonus. The bonus will be awarded beginning on the first day of the calendar year following October 5, 2001, only if the economic performance of the Company during twelve consecutive months has achieved or exceeded an "adjusted target budget" as determined by the Board of Directors and subject to adjustment as set forth in the agreement. The agreement provides that the Company may terminate for cause (as defined in the agreement) at any time. The agreement terminates automatically in the event of disability (as defined in the agreement) and also terminates automatically upon death. Termination by either the employee or the Company (except for in the event of death) requires two weeks' written notice.

Mr. Washburn's agreement for employment with the Company as an Executive Consultant provides for a one-year term commencing on October 5, 2001, which may be renewed for up to three successive one-year periods thereafter. Renewal is automatic unless either party gives thirty days' notice prior to the expiration of the term. During Mr. Washburn's term of employment, he may continue the business relationships he already has, and any new consulting or part-time employment arrangements as may arise. He otherwise agrees to devote his full professional working time to the Company and shall not otherwise be employed or otherwise engaged in any other business or enterprise without the written permission of the Company. The agreement provides that Mr. Washburn shall have a base salary of $150,000, which will be reviewed and modified from time to time, but which shall not be decreased. In addition to the base salary, the agreement provides for, among other things, participation in benefit plans and other fringe benefits applicable to similarly situated employees and reimbursement for business expenses in accordance with Company policy. The agreement provides for termination by the Company for cause (as defined in the agreement), at any time. The agreement terminates automatically in the event of disability as defined in the agreement, and also terminates automatically upon death. Termination by either the employee or the Company (except for death) requires two weeks' written notice.

Each of Mr. Wiener's, Mr. Finberg's and Mr. Washburn's employment agreements further provide that during the employment term, each of them shall observe a non-competition clause, and shall not without prior written consent directly or indirectly engage in or have a financial interest in any other business, continue or assume any other corporate affiliations, or pursue any other commercial activities which would in any way compete with the Company or result in a conflict of interest for the employee. For one year after termination of employment, each of them agrees not to compete with the Company or have any financial interest in any entity competing with the Company or an affiliate of the Company for which the employee performed services, within any region or locality in which the Company is then doing business or marketing its products. They further agree to non-solicitation of Company employees, non-solicitation of Company customers, and to maintain the confidentiality of the Company's confidential information (as defined in the agreement), both during their employment and for one year after termination.

Severance Agreements

On November 9, 2000, the Company and Mr. Sheinfeld entered into a Resignation Agreement and Contract for Services in connection with Mr. Sheinfeld's resignation as Chairman of the Board of Directors and an employee of the Company. Pursuant to the agreement, Mr. Sheinfeld was entitled to receive a severance payment of $50,000, $25,000 of which was paid on November 9, 2000 with the remaining $25,000 paid on February 1, 2001. In addition, Mr. Sheinfeld is eligible to receive a bonus in the amount of $25,000 on December 31, 2001, if, in the reasonable judgment of the Company, Mr. Sheinfeld has satisfactorily performed the services required by the Company. Further, the Company agreed to forgive Mr. Sheinfeld's debt to the Company in the amount of $300,000. In conjunction therewith, the Company additionally agreed to release Mr. Sheinfeld from further liability for interest on his debts which, as of November 9, 2000, was in the amount of $59,379.83. The Company also agreed to extend the period during which Mr. Sheinfeld may exercise his stock options to purchase 105,537 shares of the Company's Common Stock from November 9, 2000 to November 9, 2001.

The agreement contemplates that Mr. Sheinfeld would be engaged as an independent contractor to the Company for a period commencing on November 9, 2000 and ending December 31, 2001, unless terminated earlier pursuant to the agreement. The agreement provides for total compensation of $291,923.07 for such services during the term of the agreement. The agreement also includes certain non-competition, confidentiality and indemnification covenants.

- (11) Includes 152,753 shares subject to options issued to certain directors and executive officers of the Company that are exercisable within 60 days.

ITEM 13. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS.

The Company entered into a six-month consulting agreement with Mr. Thomas Hubbard effective October 1, 1999, at which time Mr. Hubbard was a Director of the Company. The agreement paid Mr. Hubbard $8,000 per month. The agreement called for Mr. Hubbard to provide managerial oversight of King's Onion House, a wholly owned subsidiary of Fresh America. The agreement was extended for an additional twelve-month period, which ended April 1, 2001.

In December 1999, the Company made an unsecured loan in the principal amount of $175,000 to Mr. David Sheinfeld, the former Chairman, Chief Executive Officer and President of the Company. At such time, the Company also extended an existing $125,000 unsecured loan made to Mr. Sheinfeld in December 1994. The extended note and the new note were both to bear interest at the Bank of America, N.A. prime rate and were due and payable in December 2001. These notes were forgiven pursuant to the resignation agreements discussed in the compensation committee's report.

On September 5, 2001, the Company entered into a Monitoring Agreement with North Texas Investment Advisors ("NT Advisors"), an affiliate of NTOF, as a condition to the Agreements between NTOF and the Company. The Monitoring Agreement provides that NT Advisors will monitor the Company's progress and performance for which the Company will pay NT Advisors a fee of $20,000 per month. Messrs. Hollingsworth, Campbell and Sweetser hold positions as managers of NT Advisors, as well as being partners in NTOF and directors of the Company. The terms of the Monitoring agreement provide that affiliates of NT Advisors or NTOF will not be paid compensation as directors of the Company.

On September 5, 2001, the Company issued an unsecured promissory note to Larry Martin, a former director and a shareholder owning more than 5% of our outstanding common stock, in the amount of $1,239,233. The promissory note bears no interest and becomes due and payable on the earlier of (i) January 3, 2002 or (ii) our repayment of the Company's term note with Bank of America, N.A. The promissory note evidences a deferred purchase price payment owed to Mr. Martin pursuant to a Stock Purchase Agreement entered into with Mr. Martin's former company on December 17, 1997.

The Company contemplates entering into a staffing agreement with Instaff Personnel, Inc., a company in which NTOF is a significant shareholder. In addition, Arthur W. Hollingsworth is Chairman of the Board of Instaff and Gregory A. Campbell and Luke M. Sweetser serve on Instaff's board of directors. Although details of the agreement have not yet been finalized, it is anticipated that fees paid to Instaff will exceed $60,000 during the current fiscal year.

Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Directors and Shareholders
Fresh America Corp.:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Fresh America Corp. and subsidiaries as of December 29, 2000 and December 31, 1999, and the related consolidated statements of operations, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 29, 2000. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Fresh America Corp. and subsidiaries as of December 29, 2000 and December 31, 1999, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 29, 2000, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

FRESH AMERICA CORP. AND SUBSIDIARIES
 NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
 December 29, 2000 and December 31, 1999

Note 1. Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation and Consolidation

Fresh America Corp. and subsidiaries ("Fresh America", or the "Company") provides procurement, processing, re-packing, warehousing and distribution services of fresh produce and other refrigerated products for a wide variety of customers in the retail, food service and food distribution businesses. The Company was founded in 1989 and distributes throughout the United States and Canada through 9 distribution facilities.

The Company's fiscal year is a 52-week or 53-week period ending on the Friday closest to the calendar year end. The fiscal years ended December 29, 2000 (fiscal 2000), December 31, 1999 (fiscal 1999), January 1, 1999 (fiscal 1998) were 52-week periods. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Fresh America Corp. and its subsidiaries. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments with original maturities of less than three months to be cash equivalents.

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company defines the fair value of a financial instrument as the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties. Financial instruments included in the Company's financial statements include cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, notes receivable from shareholders, other assets, accounts payable and other current liabilities, notes payable and long-term debt. Unless otherwise disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements, the carrying value of financial instruments is considered to approximate fair value due to the short maturity and characteristics of those instruments. The carrying value of long-term debt approximates fair value as terms approximate those currently available for similar debt instruments.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market with cost determined on a first-in, first-out basis.

Property and Equipment

Depreciation of property and equipment is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets (from 5 to 40 years). Property and equipment held under capital leases and leasehold improvements are amortized on the straight-line method over the shorter of the lease term or estimated useful life of the asset.

Impairment of Long-lived Assets

The Company reviews long-lived assets, including goodwill, and certain identifiable intangibles for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to undiscounted future net cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell.

Goodwill

Goodwill, which represents the excess of purchase price over fair value of net assets acquired, is amortized on a straight-line basis over the expected periods to be benefited, generally 15 to 20 years. The Company assesses the recoverability of this intangible asset by determining whether the amortization of the goodwill balance over its remaining life can be recovered through undiscounted future operating cash flows of the acquired operation. The amount of goodwill impairment, if any, is measured based on projected discounted future operating cash flows using a discount rate reflecting the Company's average cost of funds. The assessment of the recoverability of goodwill will be impacted if estimated future operating cash flows are not achieved.

Stock Option Plan

The Company accounts for its stock option plan in accordance with the provisions of Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees," and related interpretations. Accordingly, compensation expense is recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeds the exercise price. The Company also provides certain proforma disclosures for employee stock option grants made in 1995 and future years as if the fair-value-based method defined in Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" had been applied.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized at such time as the product has been delivered or the service has been rendered.

Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are established for the temporary differences between the financial reporting basis and the tax basis of the Company's assets and liabilities, and for operating loss and tax credit carry forwards, at enacted tax rates expected to be in effect when such amounts are realized or settled. See Note 9 - Income Taxes for additional information.

Earnings (Loss) Per Share

Basic earnings (loss) per share ("EPS") is calculated by dividing net income (loss) available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock.

Shares used in calculating basic and diluted EPS are as follows (in thousands):

	2000	1999
	-----	-----
Weighted average common shares outstanding - basic	5,243	5,243
Dilutive securities:
Common stock option	-	-
Contingent shares related to acquisitions	-	-
	-----	-----
Weighted average shares common outstanding - diluted	5,243	5,243

The number of weighted average common shares outstanding used in the computation of diluted EPS includes the effect of dilutive options using the treasury stock method. For fiscal years 2000, 1999 and 1998, there are 1,484,000, 497,000 and 125,000 options and warrants, respectively, to purchase common stock that were not included in the computation of diluted EPS because to do so would have been antidilutive for the fiscal years presented.

Reclassifications

Certain amounts previously reported have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation.

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 2. Agreement with Sam's Club

The Company's relationship with Sam's was governed by the terms and conditions of a five-year agreement (the "Agreement"), which became effective December 1, 1995 and expired on October 24, 2000. Sam's began internal distribution of produce for all of its clubs subsequent to the expiration date. Therefore, the Agreement was not renewed.

Sam's Club was the Company's largest customer, and accounted for approximately 30%, 31% and 37% of the Company's sales for fiscal years 2000, 1999 and 1998, respectively. Receivables from Sam's included in trade accounts receivable as of December 29, 2000 and December 31, 1999 are $500,000 and $14,421,000 respectively.

Note 3. Acquisitions

Acquisition under the Pooling of Interests Method of Accounting

On March 4, 1998, the Company acquired Ontario Tree Fruits Limited and its affiliated companies (collectively, "OTF") by exchanging 609,713 shares of its common stock or exchangeable common stock for all of the capital stock of OTF and certain residual equity interests. OTF imports and distributes fresh produce to large retail chains and hundreds of independent grocers and wholesalers in Canada and the Northeastern United States.

The acquisition of OTF constituted a tax-free reorganization and has been accounted for as a pooling of interests. Accordingly, in 1998 all prior period consolidated financial statements presented were restated to include the combined results of operations, financial position and cash flows of OTF as though it had always been a part of the Company.

There were no transactions between OTF and the Company prior to the combination, and immaterial adjustments were recorded to conform OTF's accounting policies to those of the Company. Certain reclassifications were made to the OTF financial statements to conform to the Company's presentations.

In connection with the acquisition of OTF, the Company incurred transaction costs of approximately $1,000,000 (net of tax), which were expensed in the first quarter of 1998. The nonrecurring transaction costs included approximately $519,000 of non-cash expenses (net of tax) related to the issuance of 52,342 shares (which were included in the total 609,713 shares issued) of the Company's common stock to the financial advisors of OTF. On March 16, 2001 the operating assets of OTF were sold for $952,000.

Acquisitions under the Purchase Method of Accounting

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

On February 2, 1998, the Company acquired substantially all of the net operating assets and the business of Francisco Distributing Company, L.L.C. ("Francisco"), a produce marketing, distribution and repackaging company based in Los Angeles, California. As consideration for the net assets received, the Company paid $5,575,000 in cash, 285,437 shares of Company common stock valued at $19.27 per share based on the market value of the stock at the time of the transaction, and contingent consideration subject to a minimum of $2.5 million with a maximum of $16.6 million based on the pre-tax earnings of the business of Francisco for the 1998 and 1999 fiscal years subject to certain adjustments. The minimum contingent payments were recorded as a liability and were payable in cash, common stock or a combination of cash and common stock. In January 1999, the Company paid $1,000,000 in satisfaction of the minimum amount due for the contingent payment related to fiscal 1998. The payment was made in the form of $500,000 cash and issuance of 35,540 shares of common stock valued at $14.07 per share. The remaining 1998 contingent payment of $5.3 million was paid in cash in the second quarter of 1999. The 1999 contingent payment of $1.5 million was paid in cash in January 2000.

On August 14, 1998, the Company acquired by merger all of the capital stock of Jos. Notarianni & Co. ("Notarianni"), a produce distribution and value-added company based in Scranton, Pennsylvania. As consideration, the Company paid $5,390,000 in cash and issued 292,951 shares of Company common stock valued at $19.15 per share based on the market value of the stock at the time of the transaction. On December 14, 1998, the agreement was amended to reduce the number of shares issued by 165,000 in exchange for a contingent payment of 1.4 times Notarianni's average annual pretax earnings over a three-year period beginning October 3, 1998. Any contingent payment will be payable in cash or common stock at the Company's sole discretion.

Effective October 3, 1998, the Company's acquired substantially all of the net operating assets and the business of King's Onion House, Inc. ("King's"), a produce distribution and value-added company based in Phoenix, Arizona. As consideration for the net assets received, the Company paid $4,000,000 in cash, issued 164,667 shares of Company common stock valued at $14.57 per share based on the market value of the stock at the time of the transaction, and a contingent payment of 1.7 times King's average annual pretax profit over a three-year term beginning October 3, 1998. Any contingent payment will be payable by 50 percent cash and 50 percent common stock. On December 23, 1998, the agreement was amended to reduce the number of shares issued by 89,193 in exchange for the return of certain assets totaling $700,000 and the issuance of a $600,000 promissory note to the former owner of King's. The promissory note was paid in installments (along with accrued interest at 7.75%) of $200,000 on April 12, 1999 and $400,000 on January 5, 2000. On April 20, 2001 the Company sold all of the outstanding capital stock of King's for $2,500,000.

Effective October 30, 1998, the Company acquired all of the capital stock of Allied Perricone, Inc., formerly known as Sam Perricone Citrus Company ("Perricone"), a wholesale distributor of produce based in Los Angeles, California. As consideration, the Company paid cash of $1,765,300, issued 119,301 shares of common stock valued at $14.67 per share based on the market value of the stock at the time of the transaction, promissory notes totaling $3,500,000 and contingent payments.

In July 2000, the Company entered into an agreement amending the stock purchase agreement. As part of the amended agreement, the promissory notes were restructured whereby, the Company agreed to the following, payments totaling $100,000 upon execution of the amended agreement; lump-sum payments of $350,000 and $150,000 on January 1, 2002 and August 1, 2002, respectively; and 24-month installment payments of $37,500 totaling $900,000. The installment and lump-sum payments accrue interest at 10% per annum. However, all accrued interest will be forgiven if scheduled principal payments are made in accordance with the terms of the agreement. Additionally, the Company agreed to provide the noteholders 300,000 warrants to purchase common shares of the Company at an exercise price of $2.50 per share. The warrants are exercisable for a duration of seven years. The restructuring of the promissory notes and related accrued interest resulted in an extraordinary gain to the Company in the third quarter 2000 of $1.9 million.

In February of 2000, Perricone closed its market operation in Los Angeles, California but continues to operate its brokerage business in Walnut Creek and Visalia, California.

Part of the consideration given in the fiscal 1997 acquisition of Hereford Haven, Inc. d/b/a/ Martin Bros., included a contingent payment of an amount equal to 4 times average pretax earnings for fiscal 1998 through 2000. The total contingent payment is $4,957,000 at December 29, 2000. The payment was due March 31, 2001 and was payable in either cash, common stock or a combination of cash and common stock to the extent of 75% at the Company's option and 25% at the selling shareholder's option. In April 2001, the Company issued 3,166,694 shares of its common stock to the former owner of Martin Brothers. The shares represent a 38% ownership interest in the Company. These shares satisfied 75% of the earnout payment and pursuant to the terms of the original purchase agreement and were valued at $1.17, market value of the Company's common stock at the time of the transaction. The remaining balance of the earnout payment is payable in cash, subject to the approval of the Company's Senior Lender. This payment has been extended and is now due and payable in January 2002.

For those acquisitions accounted for using the purchase method of accounting, the results of operations of the acquired companies are included in the consolidated financial statements of the Company from their respective acquisition dates. At the acquisition dates, the purchase price was allocated to assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their relative fair market values. There were no specifically identifiable intangible assets acquired in the aforementioned purchase transaction. The excess of the total purchase price over the fair values of the net assets acquired was recorded as goodwill, which is being amortized over a 15 to 20 year period. Management believes this range is reasonable considering the long operating history of the acquired companies, nature of the business and lack of any contractual, technological, or regulatory matters. The 1998 acquisitions resulted in $24,131,000 of goodwill.

Note 4. Termination of Merger

On May 3, 1999, the Company, and Dallas-based, privately held FreshPoint Holdings, Inc. ("FreshPoint") entered into a definitive agreement pursuant to which FreshPoint would have merged with and into the Company. The transaction was to be accounted for as a reverse acquisition with FreshPoint as the accounting acquirer. In October 1999, the agreement was terminated by the Company and FreshPoint. The Company and FreshPoint each agreed to pay their respective expenses in connection with the contemplated transaction. The Company incurred merger-related expenses of $3,850,000 in fiscal 1999. The expenses consisted of legal and professional fees of $2,433,000, regulatory expenses of $63,000, severance costs paid to employees who were terminated in contemplation of the merger of $1,259,000, and stay-to-close payments, payments to such terminated employees to remain with the Company on an interim basis in order to enable the Company to re-align its administrative functions, and other costs,

Long-term debt, less current portion		$24,950

In April 2000, the Company entered into an agreement with the Subordinated Lender to provide additional financing through the purchase of $5 million (50,000 shares) of the Company's 12% redeemable cumulative preferred stock ("Hancock Preferred Stock"), and to restructure the existing subordinated notes. Cumulative preferred dividends accrued as of December 29, 2000 totaled $0.3 million or $6.04 per share of preferred stock. The Hancock Preferred Stock, subordinated note agreement and accrued interest and dividends were converted into preferred stock and warrants in September 2001, as discussed below.

Throughout its operational restructuring during the past two years, the Company has pursued various financing opportunities in an effort to restructure the debt and equity of Fresh America. In September 2001, the Company completed a financial restructuring whereby North Texas Opportunity Fund LP, ("NTOF") purchased 50,000 shares of the Company's Series D cumulative redeemable preferred stock and warrants exercisable for 84,100,980 shares of the Company's common stock for $5 million in cash proceeds. John Hancock Life Insurance Company, John Hancock Variable Life Insurance Company, Signature 1A (Cayman), Ltd. and Signature 3 Limited (collectively, the "Subordinated Lender") exchanged $20 million of subordinated debt, the Hancock Preferred Stock and all accrued interest and dividends for 27,000 shares of the Company's Series D cumulative redeemable preferred stock and warrants exercisable for 45,414,529 shares of the Company's common stock.

The Company's Revolver with Bank of America, N.A. (the "Senior Lender") provided for borrowings of up to $22.0 million as of December 31, 1999 with outstanding borrowings as of that date of $21.2 million. The outstanding Revolver balance was reduced to $8.6 million, as of December 29, 2000. The $12.6 million reduction in the outstanding Revolver balance included payments of $5.0 million to meet regularly scheduled reductions in availability through September 30, 2000, as well as additional payments of $7.6 million including a payment equal to the amount of a Federal income tax refund received of $3.7 million. Pursuant to the terms of the Revolver, the Company and the Senior Lender agreed to permanently reduce the available balance of the Revolver to $8.6 million and agreed that all future payments by the Company would permanently reduce the available balance under the Revolver. The effective interest rate at December 29, 2000 was 9.53%. During 2001, the outstanding balance was reduced an additional $3.3 million with proceeds related to the sale of King's Onion House in Phoenix, Arizona, and another separate facility.

In conjunction with this restructure, the Senior Lender agreed to a payment schedule which will reduce the Company's indebtedness to the Senior Lender from $5.3 million, which was owed at the time of closing, to $3.8 million by year-end 2001. The Revolver has also been restated to a term note and the Senior Lender has agreed to a maturity of the remaining balance in January 2002. The Company is negotiating with a new lender to replace the Senior Lender prior to the maturity of the term loan. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to replace its Senior Lender as anticipated or extend its term note beyond January 2002, if that becomes necessary.

Prior to its sale in 2001, OTF had a demand agreement with Royal Bank of Canada to provide revolving credit facilities (the "Canadian Revolver"), which was collateralized by substantially all assets of OTF. The Canadian Revolver had an outstanding balance of CDN $5.6 million (U.S. $3.8 million) as of December 29, 2000. This outstanding balance was fully retired in March 2001 in conjunction with the sale of OTF's operating assets.

In July 2000, the Company entered into an agreement amending the certain stock purchase agreement related to the Company's 1998 acquisition of Perricone Citrus Company. As part of the amended agreement, unsecured promissory notes owed by the Company totaling $3.5 million and the accrued and unpaid interest therein were restructured whereby, the Company agreed to the following: payments totaling $100,000 upon execution of the amended agreement; lump-sum payments of $350,000 and $150,000 on January 1, 2002 and July 1, 2002, respectively; and 24-monthly installment payments of $37,500 totaling $900,000. The installment and lump sum payments accrue interest at 10% per annum. However, all accrued interest will be forgiven if scheduled principal payments are made timely. Additionally, the Company issued the noteholders 300,000 warrants to purchase common shares of the Company at an exercise price of $2.50 per share. The warrants are exercisable for a duration of seven years. The restructuring of the promissory notes and related accrued interest resulted in an extraordinary gain to the Company of $1.9 million in the third quarter of 2000. Based on the quarterly weighted average common shares outstanding at December 29, 2000 the impact of the extraordinary gain is $.36 per basic and diluted share.

Under the terms of the purchase agreements for Notarianni and Martin Brothers a portion of the purchase price was contingent upon each company's earnings subsequent to its acquisitions. The Martin Bros. contingent payment obligation amounted to $5.0 million at December 29, 2000. The payment was due March 31, 2001 payable in either cash, common stock or a combination of cash and common stock to the extent of 75% at the Company's option and 25% at the selling shareholder's option.

In April 2001, the Company issued 3,166,694 shares of its common stock to Larry Martin. At the time of issuance, the shares represented a 38% ownership interest in the Company. These shares satisfied 75% of the earnout payment and pursuant to the terms of the original purchase agreement and were valued at $1.17, market value of the Company's common stock at the time of the transaction. This note was restructured as part of the financial restructuring discussed above. The remaining balance of $1,200,000 is payable in cash, subject to the approval of the Company's Senior Lender. This payment has been extended and is now due and payable in January 2002. The Company is party to a master lease agreement with SunTrust Bank that has been used to provide equipment financing for several of the Company's operating units. The Company was not in compliance with certain covenants under the terms of the lease at December 29, 2000 and received waivers for noncompliance through January 2002. The Company is currently renegotiating the covenants of this agreement and anticipates this agreement will be revised prior to the expiration of the waiver in January 2002. The lease agreement provides that future lease payments can be accelerated in the event of default. There can be no assurance that the Company will be in compliance with such covenants subsequent to the waiver period or will be successful in negotiating the covenants.

The aggregate maturities of long-term debt, which reflect the terms of the amended senior secured revolving credit facility agreement as discussed above, for the five fiscal years subsequent to December 29, 2000 are as follows (in thousands): 2001 - $13,788; 2002 - $5,228; 2003 - $47; 2004 - $39 and 2005 - $40; thereafter $7. The Subordinated Lender's long-term debt balance of $19,589 million has been excluded from the above maturities since their debt was exchanged for preferred stock and warrants in September 2001.

Note 6. Disposition Costs and Impairment of Long-lived Assets

Subsequent to the termination of the merger discussed in Note 4, in the fourth quarter of 1999 management of the Company initiated a process in conjunction with its business strategy to improve its cost structure, streamline operations and divest the Company of under-performing operations. The process continued during 2000 and into 2001.

As a result of this ongoing process, the Company closed or sold several under-performing operations in 1999, 2000 and 2001 as follows:

Fiscal 1999:

Los Angeles and San Francisco, California
Orlando, Florida
Atlanta, Georgia
Baton Rouge, Louisiana
Austin and San Antonio, Texas

Fiscal 2000:

Los Angeles, California Market Operation

Fiscal 2001:

King's Onion House, Phoenix, Arizona

Edgar Filing: FRESH AMERICA CORP - Form 10-K405/A

Ontario Tree Fruits, Ontario, Canada
 Thompson's Produce, Pensacola, Florida
 Bacchus Fresh International, Chicago, Illinois

During 1999, the Company also decided to move its accounting and administrative functions from Houston to Dallas, Texas. The move was completed in fiscal 2000, and the related costs were charged to operations in that fiscal year.

During this process, management evaluated the recoverability of the carrying value of the long-lived assets and related allocable goodwill of these operations. Impairment charges and other disposition costs recorded in fiscal 2000 and 1999 are as follows (in thousands):

	2000	1999

Net deferred tax asset (liability)	$ 297	$ (295)

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent primarily upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Based upon current projections for future U.S. taxable income over the periods which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes that it is more likely than not that its deferred tax assets related to U.S. operations will not be realized and a valuation allowance for such assets is required at December 29, 2000 and December 31, 1999.

At December 29, 2000, the Company has a net operating loss ("NOL") carry forward for federal income tax purposes of approximately $14,918,000 available to reduce future income taxes. If not utilized to offset future taxable income, the NOL carry forward will expire, $286,000 in 2006 through 2007, $7,125,000 in 2019 and $7,507,000 in 2020.

During 1992, the Company experienced an "ownership change" as defined by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. After an ownership change, utilization of a loss corporation's NOL carry forward is limited annually to a prescribed rate multiplied by the value of the loss corporation's stock immediately before the ownership change. In general, an ownership change occurs if ownership of more than 50% in value of the stock of the loss corporation changes during the three-year period preceding the test date. The Company's NOL carry forward, which expires in 2006 and 2007, is limited to the use of approximately $193,000 on an annual basis.

Note 10. Options and Warrants

In July 1993, the Company adopted the Fresh America Corp. 1993 Stock Option and Award Plan (the "1993 Plan"), which reserved 450,000 shares of the Company's common stock for issuance to employees and directors. Effective May 22, 1998, the 1993 Plan was frozen, which prevents any additional options from being granted under the plan. In July 1996, the Company adopted the Fresh America Corp. 1996 Stock Option and Award Plan (the "1996 Plan"), which reserved 150,000 shares of the Company's common stock for issuance to employees and directors. Effective May 22, 1998, the Company amended and restated the 1996 Plan, which increased the number of shares reserved from 150,000 to 625,000. At December 29, 2000 and December 31, 1999, options for 103,250 and 467,000 shares, respectively, were available for issuance.

Options under the 1993 and 1996 Plans are granted at an exercise price equal to at least 100% of the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the date of grant. Unless determined otherwise by the Company's Board of Directors, each independent director is automatically granted an option to purchase 5,000 shares of common stock each year. Such option grants vest immediately and will expire in ten years if not exercised. Options granted to employees generally vest in one year from the date of grant and expire after ten years if not exercised. The Plans restrict the rights to exercise based on employment status and percentage of stock ownership in accordance with Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code.

The Company has adopted the disclosure-only provision of SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation." Accordingly, no compensation cost has been recognized for the stock option plans. Had compensation cost for the Company's two stock option plans been determined for grant dates subsequent to January 1, 1995 based on the fair value at the grant date of awards consistent with the provisions of SFAS No. 123, the Company's net earnings (loss) and earnings (loss) per share would have been reduced to the pro forma amounts indicated below:

	Fiscal (In thousands, e per share)

Net income (loss) applicable to common shareholders - as reported	$(21,635)	$(21,9

The fair value of each option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for fiscal 2000, 1999 and 1998 for both plans: no dividend yield; expected volatility of 58% in 2000, 136% in 1999 and 95% in 1998; risk-free interest rates of 5.9% in 2000 and in 1999 and 4.2% to 5.6% in 1998; and expected lives of three to five years. The weighted average fair value per share of the options granted during fiscal 2000, 1999 and 1998 is estimated to be $1.93, $12.23 and $12.29, respectively. As of December 29, 2000, the weighted-average remaining contractual life of outstanding options was 8.2 years.

Note 11. Employee Benefit Plan

Effective January 1, 1992, the Company adopted the Fresh America Corp. 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan (the "Plan"), which provides for the Company, at its option, to make a matching contribution of up to 6% of each qualifying employee's annual earnings. The Company's matching contribution under the Plan was $272,000, $343,000 and $301,000 for the fiscal years 2000, 1999 and 1998, respectively.

Note 14. Segment and Related Information

SFAS No. 131, "Disclosures About Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information," establishes standards for the way public business enterprises report information about products and services. Because of the general focus of the Company's business of handling fresh produce and the interrelated nature of the Company's business activities, all of which are generally conducted at each of the Company's locations, management of the Company does not capture the financial results of the interrelated business activities in its financial information systems by type of activity at each location or for the Company as a whole. The management of the Company measures performance based on the gross margins and pretax income generated from each of the Company's operations. Pretax income for the purpose of management's analysis does not include corporate overhead such as selling, general and administrative expenses and income tax expense. Since the business units have similar economic characteristics and are engaged in procurement, processing and distribution of produce, they have been aggregated into one reportable segment for reporting purposes. See Note 2 - "Agreement with Sam's Club" for discussion of the Company's major customer.
