NETANYA, Israel, May 6, 2010 – Cellcom Israel Ltd. (NYSE: CEL) (the "Company") announced today that the Israeli Supreme Court did not accept the Company's appeal on a decision to approve the motion to certify the following lawsuit as a class action, for reasons not related to the merits of the matter. The purported class action lawsuit was filed against the Company in March 2008 in the District Court of Central Region, by plaintiffs alleging to be the Company's subscribers, in connection with allegations that the Company has unlawfully charged its' subscribers for providing them with call details records. In August 2009, the motion to certify the lawsuit as a class action was approved in relation to an allegation that the Company breached the agreements with its subscribers by charging them for the service it previously provided free of charge, without obtaining their consent. Consequently, the lawsuit will continue to be tried in the District Court as a class action in relation to such allegation. The total amount claimed from the Company is estimated by the plaintiffs to be approximately NIS 440 million.
