On November 12, 2002, Agere, certain of its subsidiaries and the lenders extended the maturity date of Agere's accounts receivable securitization facility from January 21, 2003, to November 11, 2003. As was the case prior to the extension, the lenders under the facility have commitments of up to $200 million; however, the amount that can actually be borrowed at any time depends on the amount and nature of the accounts receivable that have been pledged by one of Agere's subsidiaries to secure the facility.
