FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements relate to, among other things, our and Elan's financial condition, results of operations and business prospects and the products in research that involve substantial risks and uncertainties.

These forward-looking statements are identified by their use of terms and phrases such as "anticipate," "believe," "could," "estimate," "expect," "intend," "may," "plan," "predict," "project," "target," "will" and similar terms and phrases, including assumptions. These statements are contained in sections entitled "Summary," "Risk Factors," and other sections of documents and reports contained or incorporated in this prospectus.

These forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results to be materially different from those expected, estimated or projected. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in such forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to:

the risks and uncertainties described in the Risk Factors section of this prospectus; any negative developments relating to Tysabri[®] (natalizumab), such as safety or efficacy issues (including deaths and cases of progressive multifocal leukoencephalopathy (PML)), the introduction or greater acceptance of competing products, including biosimilars, or adverse regulatory or legislative developments may reduce our revenues and adversely affect our results of operations;

the potential for the successful development and commercialization of additional products;

the effects of settlement with the U.S. government relating to marketing practices with respect to our former Zonegran[®] (zonisamide) product, which required us to pay $203.5 million in fines and to take other actions that could have a material adverse effect on Elan;

Table of Contents

our ability to maintain financial flexibility and sufficient cash, cash equivalents, and investments and other assets capable of being monetized to meet our liquidity requirements;

whether restrictive covenants in our debt obligations will adversely affect us;

our dependence on Johnson & Johnson and Pfizer Inc. (Pfizer) for the development and potential commercialization, and the funding potentially required from us for such development and potential commercialization, of bapineuzumab and any other potential products in the Alzheimer's Immunotherapy Program (AIP);

the success of our research and development (R&D) activities and R&D activities in which we retain an interest, including, in particular, whether the Phase 3 clinical trials for bapineuzumab (AAB-001) are successful, and the speed with which regulatory authorizations and product launches may be achieved;

Johnson & Johnson is our largest shareholder with an 18.3% interest in our outstanding ordinary shares and is largely in control of our remaining interest in the AIP; Johnson & Johnson's interest in Elan and the AIP may discourage others from seeking to work with or acquire us; competitive developments, including the introduction of generic or biosimilar competition following the loss of patent protection or marketing exclusivity for a product; in particular several of the products from which we derive manufacturing or royalty revenues are under patent challenge by potential generic competitors;

our ability to protect our patents and other intellectual property; difficulties or delays in manufacturing Tysabri (we are dependent on Biogen Idec, Inc. for the manufacture of Tysabri); pricing pressures and uncertainties regarding healthcare reimbursement and reform;

failure to comply with anti-kickback, bribery and false claims laws in the United States and elsewhere;

extensive government regulation;

risks from potential environmental liabilities;

failure to comply with our reporting and payment obligations under Medicaid or other government programs;

legislation affecting pharmaceutical pricing and reimbursement, both in the United States and Europe;

exposure to product liability risks;

an adverse effect that could result from the putative class action lawsuits alleging we disseminated false and misleading statements related to bapineuzumab and the outcome of our other pending or future litigation;

the volatility of our stock price;

some of our agreements that may discourage or prevent others from acquiring us; governmental laws and regulations affecting domestic and foreign operations, including tax obligations; general changes in U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and IFRS; and the impact of acquisitions, divestitures, restructurings, product withdrawals and other unusual items.

A further list and description of these risks, uncertainties and other matters can be found in Elan's Annual Report on Form 20-F for the year ended December 31, 2010 incorporated by reference herein. Neither we nor Elan assumes any obligation to update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

If one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or if underlying assumptions prove incorrect, Elan's and our actual results may vary materially from those expected, estimated or projected.

The information contained in this prospectus is a statement of Elan's and our present intention, beliefs or expectations and is based upon, among other things, the existing regulatory environment, industry conditions, market conditions and prices, the economy in general and their and our assumptions. We or Elan may change our or their intention, belief or expectation, at any time and without notice, based upon any changes in such factors, in our or their assumptions or otherwise. We do not undertake to update the forward-looking statements or risk factors contained or incorporated in this prospectus to reflect future events or circumstances.
