Stock units granted to a director under the Corporation's Directors Stock Unit Plan or the Deferred Compensation Plan apply toward attainment of the requirement.

Board Compensation

Retainer and Fees	Directors who are not salaried employees of the Corporation (non-employee directors) receive the following annual compensation for their Board service:
Annual Retainer:	$36,000
Annual Committee Chair Stipend:	$3,000 Effective January 2003, the Audit Committee Chair stipend and the Compensation and Management Development Committee Chair stipend is $6,000.

Stock Units:	Number of units equal in value to $50,000 on date of grant under the Directors Stock Unit Plan described below.

Pursuant to that Plan, each non-employee director receives an annual grant of stock units having a value equal to $50,000 on the date of the grant. One unit is equal in value to one share of the Corporation's common stock. While stock units do not confer on a director the right to vote, each stock unit is credited on each dividend payment date with stock units equal to the applicable dividend payable on the Corporation's common shares. Upon termination of service as a director, the director is entitled to payment of his or her accumulated stock units in an equivalent number of the Corporation's common shares or in cash.

Directors Deferred Compensation Plan Directors may defer payment of retainer and/or meeting fees to future years and may elect to have such deferred compensation deemed to

- receive interest at prevailing market rates
- be invested in the Corporation's common shares, or
- be invested in one of several mutual funds designated for that purpose.

Expenses and Benefits All directors are reimbursed for travel and other related expenses incurred in attending shareholder, Board and committee meetings. The Corporation also provides non-employee directors with life insurance benefits.

Directors and Officers Liability Insurance

The Corporation maintains directors and officers liability insurance policies and pension trust liability policies (placed on three-year terms) issued by National Union Fire Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., Executive Risk Indemnity Inc., Continental Casualty Company, Federal Insurance Company and XL Insurance Company. The policies insure (i) directors, officers, division presidents and vice presidents of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, and employees who are fiduciaries of employee benefit plans of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, against certain liabilities they may incur in the performance of their duties, (ii) the Corporation against its obligation to indemnify such persons against such liabilities, and (iii) the Corporation for allegations related to securities claims. On June 1, 2000, the Corporation extended those policies to June 1, 2003 at annual prepaid premiums of $413,699, $118,800, $100,625, $44,550 and $60,720, respectively, for each of the above mentioned policies. On August 1, 2002 the Corporation purchased additional directors and officers liability insurance coverage from Corporate Officers Directors Assistance Company and Starr Excess Insurance Company. The additional coverage extends to June 1, 2003. The premiums for these policies are $250,000 and $150,000, respectively. These policies insure directors and officers of the Corporation and its subsidiaries against certain liabilities they may incur in the performance of their duties which are not indemnifiable under the bylaws of the Corporation.

Stock Options

Each of the executives listed in the Summary Compensation Table was eligible to receive two types of option grants during 2002: normal option grants and reload option grants. The first type of grant is a compensatory award normally made on an annual basis which is intended to reward each named executive based on the Corporation's future performance. Normal option grants customarily include the right to receive reload options.

A reload option is granted to an employee who exercises an option with already-owned shares. It replaces the opportunity for future appreciation that the employee would otherwise lose by exercising the original option, while encouraging the employee to increase the employee's share ownership. Reload option grants customarily include the right to receive additional reload options. Under the terms of the Corporation's current stock option and restricted stock plans, the Compensation and Management Development Committee has been delegated authority to terminate the issuance of reload options that otherwise may have been permitted under option agreements entered into under those plans.

The following table contains information with respect to the normal compensatory option grants and reload option grants made to each named executive during 2002 and the hypothetical value at the time of grant based on a variation of the Black-Scholes model (see footnote (3) below). The Corporation is not aware of any option pricing model which can provide a true assessment of the value of the options. Over their lives, the options could have a greater or a lesser value than that shown in the table, and under some circumstances they could have zero value.

Option Grants in 2002

Name	Normal and Reload Options Granted(1)	% of Total Options Granted to Employees In 2002(2)	Price	Expiration Date	Grant Date Present Value(3)
J. Steven Whisler	Normal 150,000	18.68	$40.605	7/2/12	$ 1,479,000
Timothy R. Snider	Normal 45,000	5.61	$40.605	7/2/12	$ 443,700
Ramiro G. Peru	Normal 35,000	4.36	$40.605	7/2/12	$ 345,100
Arthur R. Miele	Normal 21,400	2.67	$40.605	7/2/12	$ 211,004
S. David Colton	Normal 21,400	2.67	$40.605	7/2/12	$ 211,004

- (1) Normal options expire no later than the tenth anniversary of the date of grant, plus one day. If an employee retires on his normal retirement date, or retires early under any pension or retirement plan maintained by the Corporation or any subsidiary, becomes disabled, or dies, his exercisable options terminate upon the fifth anniversary of his retirement, disability or death or the original expiration date, if earlier. If an optionee's employment terminates for any reason other than retirement, disability or death, the employee's exercisable options terminate no later than one month following the termination of his employment.

Normal options become exercisable in three or four substantially equal annual installments beginning on the first anniversary of the date of grant or earlier as the Compensation and Management Development Committee in its discretion may determine. The Committee may also approve provisions making installments exercisable (a) upon the employee's retirement, (b) six months from the date an option is granted if it is the result of a previous exercise in which pre-owned shares were used in payment of the exercise, and (c) as the Committee deems appropriate in a change of control of the Corporation but not later than the date the employee ceases to be employed if the employee ceases to be employed within two years following the change of control.

Options customarily include the right to receive reload options in the event the optionee exercises an option with already-owned shares. Reload options contain the same expiration dates and other terms as the options they replace except that they have an exercise price per share equal to the fair market value of a common share on the date the reload option is granted and become exercisable in full six months after they are granted. Reload options customarily include the right to receive additional reload options.

- (2) Illustrates the total number of normal and reload options granted as a percent of the aggregate number of 2002 normal options (802,800) granted to all employees.
- (3) The hypothetical present value of the options at the date of grant was determined using a variation of the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The Black-Scholes model is a complicated mathematical formula which is widely used to value options traded on the stock exchanges. However, executive stock options differ from exchange-traded options in several key respects. Executive options are long-term, non-transferable and subject to vesting restrictions, whereas exchange-traded options are short-term and can be exercised or sold immediately in a liquid market. The model used here is adapted to estimate the present value of an executive option and considers a number of factors, including the grant price of the option, the volatility of the Corporation's common shares, the dividend rate, the term of the option, the time it is expected to be outstanding and interest rates. The Black-Scholes values were derived using as assumptions the following financial factors that existed at or about the time that the options were granted: volatility of .387, dividend yield of 3.04%, and an interest rate of 3.35%. In view of the Corporation's historic exercise experience and the inherent motivation to exercise options early in their terms because of the reload option feature, normal options were assumed to be outstanding for three years at time of exercise and reload options for one year. No downward adjustments were made to the resulting grant-date option values to account for potential forfeiture or non-transferability of the options in question. Because the Black-Scholes model was not developed for executive options and requires the use of assumptions primarily based on conditions in effect at the time of grant (and not over the term of the option), it provides only a theoretical estimate of the value of these options.

Reload option grants are part of the Corporation's overall program to increase the number of common shares owned by its executive officers and other key employees. Traditional option programs generally do not encourage optionees to exercise options prior to the end of their term or to hold the shares received upon such exercise. The Compensation and Management Development Committee adopted the reload option program, with shareholder approval, to encourage option exercises and stock retention by permitting an optionee to exercise an option with already-owned common shares and to be restored to the same economic opportunity available immediately prior to such exercise.

Under the reload program, an employee who exercises an option (the Original Option) with already-owned shares prior to the end of the option term will receive an additional option (the Reload Option) covering a number of shares equal to the number used to exercise the Original Option. The Reload Option will be exercisable, beginning six months after grant and continuing for the remaining term of the Original Option, at a price equal to the fair market value of the shares on the date the Original Option is exercised. As a result of the exercise of the Original Option with already-owned shares, the net number of common shares held by the employee will increase by the number of shares that has an aggregate market value equal to the spread on the option (the spread equals the aggregate market price of the option shares on the day of exercise less the aggregate exercise price). Thus, the number of shares covered by the Reload Option plus the number of additional shares received on the exercise of the Original Option will equal the number of shares covered by the Original Option. The program thereby serves to replace the opportunity for future appreciation that an optionee would otherwise lose by exercising an option using already-owned shares. In addition, by inducing option exercises and stock retention, the reload feature offers optionees the opportunity to receive dividends on a greater number of shares than would be the case without such a feature.

- (a) The Retirement Plan provides a member upon retirement at age 65 with a pension for life in a defined amount based upon final average monthly compensation and years of benefit service. Under the Retirement Plan, final average monthly compensation is generally the highest average monthly base compensation for the 36 consecutive month period during the most recent 120 months of employment plus the aggregate incentive compensation earned during the five consecutive calendar years occurring in the most recent ten consecutive calendar years which produce the highest average, divided by 60. Benefit service includes all periods of employment with the Corporation or its participating subsidiaries. Benefits under the Retirement Plan are subject to certain limitations under the Code. To the extent the application of those Code limitations results in a benefit amount less than the amount that otherwise would be paid under the Retirement Plan without the Code limitations, the difference is provided under the Supplemental Retirement Plan. The formula for determining benefits payable under the Retirement Plan takes into account estimated social security benefits payable. The amounts set forth in the table assume maximum social security benefits payable in 2002.
- (b) The expected credited years of benefit service at normal retirement for the Corporation's five current named executive officers as of December 31, 2002 are as follows: Mr. Whisler, 43 years; Mr. Snider, 45 years; Mr. Peru, 42 years; Mr. Miele, 38 years and Mr. Colton, 32 years. The years of service are based on normal retirement for all executive officers under the Retirement Plan and the applicable provisions of the Supplemental Retirement Plan.

SEVERANCE AND CHANGE OF CONTROL ARRANGEMENTS

Severance Agreements With Our Executives

The Corporation has severance agreements (Severance Agreements) with each of its five named executive officers under which the executive would receive a lump sum payment equal to his annual base salary in the event the Corporation terminates his employment, other than for cause or mandatory retirement, or the executive voluntarily terminates his employment because of material reductions in his salary or his position, duties and responsibilities. The terminated executive would also receive (i) outplacement services at a cost up to 15% of his base salary and (ii) the cost of continued coverage for a limited period under the Corporation's group health, life insurance and disability plans.

Change of Control Agreements With Our Executives

The Corporation also has agreements with such executives under which each executive would receive, in the event he ceases to be employed by the Corporation within two years following a change of control of the Corporation (for a reason other than death, disability, willful misconduct or, under certain circumstances, a voluntary termination of employment by the executive), a lump sum equal to (i) three times the executive's highest base salary during that year and the prior two years plus (ii) three times the executive's target bonus under the Annual Incentive Compensation Plan in the year in which the change of control occurs, less (iii) any severance payable under his Severance Agreement. The agreements require that the transaction triggering the change of control actually be consummated. If the payments trigger an excise tax under the Internal Revenue Code, the Corporation will provide the executive with a tax gross-up payment to reimburse the executive for any excise taxes, as well as the presumed income taxes on the gross-up. The Corporation will pay the cost for the terminated executive to receive continued coverage for a limited period of time under certain of the Corporation's insured group medical, dental, vision, life insurance, long-term disability plans, and for the cost of continuing executive physicals and financial counseling services for a similarly limited period. Except under certain circumstances, these change of control agreements currently expire on December 31, 2007.

Other Change of Control Provisions

Although normal compensatory options granted by the Corporation become exercisable in three or four substantially equal annual installments beginning on the first anniversary of the date of grant, they also become exercisable in certain change of control situations. Specifically, such options are exercisable (but not earlier than six months from the date of grant) for a period of 30 days beginning on the date the Corporation's common shares are purchased pursuant to a third party tender offer or the Corporation's shareholders approve a merger or similar transaction in which the Corporation will not survive as a publicly held corporation or, in the case of the five named executive officers and certain other employees, the date the employee ceases to be employed if he/she ceases to be employed within two years following a change of control.

The Supplemental Retirement Plan provides for the payment of unreduced benefits to employees who meet liberalized age and length of service requirements and whose employment is terminated by the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries within two years following a change of control of the Corporation. The Supplemental Retirement Plan also provides an additional 36 months of service credit to an executive who, due to his termination of employment within two years following a change of control of the Corporation, becomes entitled to receive payments under his change of control agreement with the Corporation. The Supplemental Savings Plan obligates the Corporation to transfer an amount equal to the deficiency in the assets of the Plan's trust fund, if any, prior to the day on which a change of control occurs.

COMPENSATION AND MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Committee

The Committee is composed solely of independent directors (currently five) who are not employees of the Corporation. It has periodically retained respected independent compensation consultants to advise and assist it in connection with various compensation matters.

Corporate Goals

The Corporation's goal is to be the leader in each of the domestic and international mining and manufacturing activities in which it competes while maximizing longer-term shareholder value.

The Compensation and Management Development Committee designs its executive compensation program to ensure the Corporation's ability to attract, retain and motivate the highest performing employees. The Committee believes it can align total compensation with shareholder interests and motivate senior managers participating in these programs by:

Emphasizing the relationship between pay and performance by rewarding managers who effect significant achievement with respect to key business strategies and specific operational objectives.

Increasing the relative amount of compensation at risk as management responsibilities increase.

Assuring that the elements of variable compensation are linked as directly as practicable to measurable financial, operational and other forms of performance.

Encouraging stock ownership by executives.

Linking pay for performance as closely as possible to success in maximizing the value of the Corporation's stock over the long term.

Elements of Executive Compensation

The executive officers are compensated by salaries, annual incentive awards and long-term incentive compensation in the form of stock options and restricted stock grants. Each element focuses on performance in a different but complementary way. Salaries focus on individual performance, competence and the Corporation's performance during the officer's tenure. Annual incentives relate to corporate, division and, where appropriate, unit and individual performance. Long-term incentive awards, mostly in the form of stock options, and, to a lesser extent in the form of restricted stock, create a long-term identity of interest with the shareholders based on the Corporation's performance and related growth of shareholder value.

The Committee believes that the Corporation competes for its executive talent primarily with similarly-sized industrial companies located in the United States. Accordingly, where possible, the Committee compares the compensation for the top five executives, at least annually, to the compensation paid to executives holding similar positions at 15 publicly held industrial corporations of an average size, measured by revenues and market capital, similar to that of the Corporation (referred to below as the "comparison group"). For other executives, comparisons to similar positions are based on a much larger group of companies of similar size to the Corporation measured by revenues. The Committee believes that the competitive data used is generally representative of the competitive level of compensation paid to executive officers in companies the size of Phelps Dodge. Thus, the companies used for comparison purposes in connection with the compensation paid to the Corporation's executive officers are somewhat different from the companies included in the peer group used in the performance graphs on pages 34 and 35 to compare shareholder returns.

Executive Salaries

Individual salaries for executive officers are established by the Committee to reflect the officer's performance and competence, existing general economic and industry conditions and the Corporation's performance during the executive officer's tenure. Generally, salary adjustments are targeted to move salaries to competitive levels over time for sustained and expected performance and competence. Annual Incentive Compensation Plan-eligible executives did not receive salary increases in 2002. Based on available information, the Committee believes salaries in 2002 for the executive officers were below the competitive levels when compared to employees in similar positions in the comparison group. The Committee determined that the individual executives named in the Summary Compensation Table have sustained excellent individual performance, and given the significant progress made on the Quest for Zero initiative despite challenging economic conditions, salaries for the named executives should be adjusted upward in 2003 to bring their salaries closer to competitive levels.

Annual Incentives

The Annual Incentive Compensation Plan (AICP) provides the executive officers and certain other officers and managers with compensation based on success in achieving annual corporate, division and, where appropriate, unit and individual goals. For each executive officer, a target award is determined approximating the 60th percentile of the annual incentive compensation paid by the comparison group to individuals holding comparable positions. Lower threshold awards and higher maximum awards are also established. Corporate goals are set using return on equity and net operating cash flow return on invested capital which are fundamental indicators of the Corporation's performance. In late 2001, the Corporation publicly announced its Quest for Zero enterprise performance system and a series of aggressive goals related thereto, including a goal of achieving by year-end 2003 an annualized operating income-improvement run-rate of $400 million. For each of the 2002-2004 plan years, the Committee determined to eliminate individual goals and implement a third measure, Quest for Zero savings, due to the critical nature of this initiative to the Corporation's short- and long-term success. While each business unit contributes to the Quest for Zero goals, the most important component of the cost-improvement program is the implied unit production cost of copper for Phelps Dodge Mining Company. As reported publicly, the Corporation achieved at year-end 2002 an annualized operating income-improvement run-rate of $250 million, and its implied unit cost of production was reduced 6 cents per pound, or 8 percent, compared with 2001—all primarily and directly attributable to the Quest for Zero system. In 2002, the Corporation's performance with respect to return on equity was below the threshold goals; with respect to net operating cash flow return on invested capital, performance was between the threshold and target goals; and with respect to Quest for Zero, performance was between the target and maximum goals. Based on these results the Committee approved AICP awards for 2002 above the targeted amounts for the listed executives.

Long-Term Incentive Compensation

The Committee has historically used stock options as the principal method of providing long-term incentive compensation primarily because employees benefit from options to the extent there are increases in the value of the Corporation's common shares. To further the identity of interest with the shareholders, the executive officers are expected to acquire and own significant numbers of the Corporation's shares.

The Committee has determined that to focus the executive's attention to an appropriate extent on the long-term growth of shareholder value, the targeted compensation levels with respect to the present value of stock options should be approximately midway between the 50th and 75th percentiles of the long-term incentive awards made to executives holding similar positions in the comparison group. Historically, adjustments have been made from these levels based on the performance, career potential, critical skills and prior grant history of the executive officer. For the 2002 equity grant, a combination both of stock options and restricted shares was awarded, intended to deliver the same approximate economic value as each of the 2000 and 2001 grants. This approach, recommended by outside compensation consultants, was taken to address retention of key executives, to moderate against the increased volatility in the stock price and adjustments made to the dividend, and to address the amount of shares available for grant. For the named executives, the majority of the total value delivered was in stock options in keeping with the Corporation's philosophy of increasing the compensation at risk at the higher levels of the organization.

Grants of Restricted Stock

The restricted stock awards which were awarded as part of the 2002 equity grant, vest 25% on the third anniversary, 25% on the fourth anniversary, and the remaining 50% on the fifth anniversary of the grant date. The vesting schedule was designed to enhance executive retention.

Stock Ownership Guidelines

To underscore the connection between the interests of management and stockholders, the Corporation established stock ownership targets for officers and management of the Corporation. The targets are expressed in terms of the value of the Corporation's common shares held by the executive as a multiple of salary grade midpoint. The targets range from one and one-half times salary midpoint up to five times salary midpoint for the CEO, then divided by the average stock price over the past 10 years. Four of the five named executives meet or exceed their respective stock ownership guideline. The executive who hasn't met the target ownership level only became subject to such in 2000, and has 5 years from the date he became subject to the ownership guidelines to reach the ownership target.

Tax Code Issues

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code generally places a $1 million per person limit on the deduction a publicly held corporation may take for compensation paid to its chief executive officer and its four other highest compensated covered employees, excluding for this purpose deferred compensation and, in general, compensation constituting performance-based compensation. In 1998, the Corporation obtained shareholder approval for the Phelps Dodge 1998 Stock Option and Restricted Stock Plan which continues to exclude the compensation from stock options from the $1 million deductibility limit. Other elements of the compensation payable to executive officers, such as salary, annual incentive compensation and restricted stock, are not excludable from such limit. As a result of the Corporation's performance in achieving above-target performance goals on its Quest for Zero program and the related incentive compensation award to

Mr. Whisler, his compensation subject to Section 162(m) exceeded one million dollars. This resulted in the loss of a Federal income tax deduction with respect to approximately $1,014,020 of his compensation.

CEO Compensation

Phelps Dodge bases the chief executive officer's compensation on the same philosophy and policies as for all executive officers, as discussed above. This compensation includes base salary, annual incentives and long-term incentives.

For 2002, Mr. Whisler earned $750,000 in base salary. His salary did not increase from 2001 due to the elimination of merit increases in 2002 to AICP-eligible executives. As reported publicly, the Corporation achieved at year-end 2002 an annualized operating income-improvement run-rate of $250 million, and its implied unit cost of production was reduced 6 cents per pound, or 8 percent, compared with 2001—all primarily and directly attributable to the Quest for Zero system. Mr. Whisler's commitment to the design, implementation and execution of the Quest for Zero enterprise performance system has been, and will continue to be, critical. The Committee awarded Mr. Whisler an incentive payment of $1,150,000 for 2002 performance in recognition of the significant progress on the Quest for Zero enterprise performance system and its importance to the Corporation's short- and long-term future. The combination of base salary and bonus places Mr. Whisler's total cash compensation at approximately the median of the peer group of companies used for compensation purposes and below median in the manufacturing industry for companies of similar size. In 2002, Mr. Whisler also received a grant of 150,000 stock options and 20,000 shares of restricted stock. The options will vest ratably over the next three years and the restricted stock will vest 25% on the third and fourth anniversaries and 50% on the fifth anniversary. The primary basis for the Committee to determine to grant such stock options and restricted stock was to provide a significant incentive for him to enhance long-term shareholder value. The specific basis for the Committee's determinations regarding Mr. Whisler's compensation in 2002 included his role in improving the Corporation's financial results in the short- and long-term, and to deliver competitive compensation for retention and motivation purposes.

Conclusion

The Committee will continue to evaluate the Corporation's compensation programs to best enable the Corporation to employ and motivate high caliber, dedicated people. Such employees, properly motivated, are believed to be key to achievement of the Corporation's goal to be the international leader in the mining and manufacturing activities in which it competes and the related enhancement of shareholder value over the long term.

The members of the Compensation and Management Development Committee express their appreciation of the leadership of their recently retired colleague, Paul Hazen, who served as Chairman of the Committee during 2002.

- (G) Regularly review with the independent accountants any audit problems or difficulties and management's response, including any difficulties encountered in the course of the audit work, any restrictions on the scope of activities or access to required information, and any significant disagreements with management. Such review may also include, as the Audit Committee deems appropriate: (i) any accounting adjustments that were noted or proposed by the independent accountants but were passed (as immaterial or otherwise); (ii) any communication between the audit team and the independent accounting firm's national office; (iii) any management or internal control letter issued or proposed to be issued by the independent accountants and the Corporation's response, if any, to such letter; (iv) any changes required in the planned scope of the internal audit; and (v) the internal audit department's functions, budget and staffing.
- (H) Periodically discuss with the independent accountants, if deemed appropriate, out of the presence of the management, the Corporation's internal controls, including their recommendations, if any, for improvements of the Corporation's internal controls and the implementation of such recommendations, the fullness and accuracy of the Corporation's financial statements and certain other matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards 61, as it may be modified or supplemented.
- (I) Set clear hiring policies for employees or former employees of the independent accountants and ensure that no person who, during the one-year period preceding the date of the initiation of the most recent audit, was employed by the independent accountant and, during such employment, participated in any capacity in the audit of the Corporation, is employed as the Corporation's chief executive officer, controller, chief financial officer and chief accounting officer.

Financial Reporting

2. CONSIDER FOR APPROVAL THE

PHELPS DODGE 2003 STOCK OPTION AND RESTRICTED STOCK PLAN

On February 5, 2003, the Board of Directors adopted the Phelps Dodge 2003 Stock Option and Restricted Stock Plan (the 2003 Plan), subject to approval by a majority of the Corporation s shareholders voting on the proposal at the 2003 annual meeting of shareholders. To simplify the administration of the Corporation s stock option and restricted stock plans, if the 2003 Plan is approved by shareholders, outstanding grants and awards under the Phelps Dodge 1998 Stock Option and Restricted Stock Plan (the 1998 Plan) and the Phelps Dodge 1993 Stock Option and Restricted Stock Plan (the 1993 Plan) will be incorporated into and governed by the terms of the 2003 Plan. The terms and conditions of any such outstanding grants and awards may be amended pursuant to the provisions of the 2003 Plan, as may be appropriate to conform with the 2003 Plan. The principal features of the 2003 Plan are summarized below, but such summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the 2003 Plan, which is attached as Exhibit A.

The 2003 Plan is substantially similar in its terms to the 1998 Plan with one significant exception.

Principal Difference from the 1998 Plan

Reload Options. Reload options are not permitted in the 2003 Plan. Additionally, upon approval of the 2003 Plan by the shareholders and consistent with both the authority previously delegated to the Compensation and Management Development Committee (the Committee) and the terms and conditions of the 1993 Plan and the 1998 Plan, the Committee intends to terminate the issuance of reload options (including the reload of reload options) that otherwise may have been permitted under the terms and conditions of existing option agreements entered into under the 1993 Plan and 1998 Plan.

General

Under the 2003 Plan, the Committee may grant to executives and other key employees of the Corporation and its subsidiaries without any payment therefor (i) incentive stock options (ISOs) and nonqualified stock options (NQOs) to purchase the Corporation s common shares at a per share exercise price equal to or greater than their fair market value on the day of grant and (ii) common shares which are subject to certain restrictions (Restricted Stock).

As of April 4, 2003, there were eight executive officers and approximately 189 key employees eligible to participate in the 2003 Plan. Participants are selected by the Committee based upon their past and potential future contribution to the long-term financial success of the Corporation. As of April 4, the fair market value of a common share was $32.50.

Shares Available for Issuance

The total number of common shares available for option grants and Restricted Stock awards under the 2003 Plan is the sum of (A) 3,500,000 (only 1,500,000 of which may be issued as restricted stock); and (B) the number of shares remaining available in accordance with the 1998 Plan. No option grants or Restricted Stock awards may be made under the 2003 Plan after March 31, 2013. As of April 4, 2003, 865,830 shares remained available for issuance under the 1998 Plan and, of this amount, up to 719,591 shares were available for Restricted Stock awards.

Upon the exercise of an option, payment may be made in cash (including, to the extent permitted by applicable law, an assignment of the right to receive cash proceeds on the sale of the shares through a program established with an authorized broker) or, in the discretion of the Committee, in common shares having a market value equal to such exercise price or in a combination of cash and common shares. Options expire no later than the tenth anniversary of the date of grant, plus, in the case of NQOs, one day. If the optionee dies, becomes disabled, retires on his or her normal retirement date or retires early pursuant to the early retirement provisions of a pension or retirement plan of the Corporation or one of its subsidiaries (a Retirement) his or her exercisable or unexercisable options, held for at least six months, terminate no later than the fifth anniversary of the death, disability or retirement.

Exercise of Options

Options generally become exercisable in three substantially equal installments beginning on the first anniversary of the date of grant. Any unexercisable options held by an employee who dies become exercisable upon the employee's death. The Committee may provide for early vesting of option installments, including without limitation the vesting of installments: (1) not later than an employee's normal or early retirement date, (2) not later than the date an employee ceases to be employed if he ceases to be employed within two years following a change of control of the Corporation (as defined in the 2003 Plan), and (3) in the event that either the Corporation's common shares are purchased pursuant to a third party tender offer or the Corporation's shareholders approve a merger or similar transaction which is ultimately consummated in which the Corporation will not survive as a publicly held corporation. If an employee is terminated for cause all of his or her options will immediately expire.

Restricted Stock Grants

Under the 2003 Plan, the Committee may award shares of Restricted Stock to executives and key employees without any payment therefor subject to certain restrictions. Shares of Restricted Stock are subject to restrictions on transfer and risk of forfeiture generally for a period of: (i) five, but not less than three, years from the date of the award in the case of an award of Restricted Stock that will vest, if at all, upon the passage of time and the performance of continuous service as an employee; (ii) one year, in the case of awards that will vest, if at all, upon the achievement of specified performance objectives; or (iii) the date of a change of control. Restricted Stock awards will also generally vest if the employee's employment terminated due to death, disability or retirement. Unless the Committee otherwise determines, if an executive or key employee terminates employment (other than due to death or disability or retirement) prior to the lapse of the transfer and forfeiture restrictions, his or her Restricted Stock will be forfeited.

Amendments

The Board of Directors may amend the 2003 Plan at any time, except that the approval of the holders of a majority of common shares voting on the amendment at the annual meeting would be required for any amendment: (i) increasing the total number of common shares that may be sold, issued or transferred under the 2003 Plan (except by adjustments to reflect stock or extraordinary cash dividends, stock splits or share combinations or recapitalizations of the Corporation); (ii) modifying provisions regarding eligibility; (iii) reducing the purchase price for common shares offered pursuant to options (except by adjustments to reflect stock or extraordinary cash dividends, stock splits, share combinations or recapitalizations); or (iv) extending the 2003 Plan's expiration date.

Federal Income Tax
Treatment of Options

No taxable income is recognized to the employee upon the grant of an NQO. Upon the exercise of an NQO, the employee generally recognizes ordinary income for Federal income tax purposes in an amount equal to the excess of (i) the fair market value of the common shares issued on the date of exercise over (ii) the exercise price for such common shares. The Corporation generally receives a deduction at the time of exercise in an amount equal to the income realized as ordinary income by the employee. Upon the sale of common shares acquired by exercise of an NQO, the employee will realize a long-term or short-term capital gain or loss depending upon his holding period for such stock. To qualify for long-term capital gain treatment, the common shares must be held for more than one year after exercise.

No taxable income is realized by the employee either upon the grant or exercise of an ISO. However, the difference between the option price and the fair market value of the stock on the day it becomes transferable or is no longer subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture must be recognized for alternative minimum tax purposes for the year in which the ISO is exercised. The regular tax is deferred until the common shares acquired upon the exercise of the ISO are sold, provided that the shares are held for the required holding period. In order to obtain this tax benefit, the employee must neither dispose of any such share within two years from the date of the respective option grant nor within one year after the transfer date of the share to the employee. Upon a subsequent sale or exchange of the common shares received upon exercise of an ISO, any profit will be a long-term capital gain and any loss will be a long-term capital loss. If the common shares acquired upon the exercise of an ISO are transferred before the expiration of either of the required holding periods, the employee is taxed at ordinary income tax rates in the year the common shares are sold. The amount subject to ordinary income tax will generally be the difference between the fair market value of the common shares at the date of exercise and the exercise price. No income tax deduction is available to the Corporation upon the exercise or sale of the common shares received upon exercise of an ISO, unless the employee incurs a disqualifying disposition because the employee does not meet the holding period requirements and realizes ordinary income upon any such sale.

VOTING ON THE NEW PLAN

An affirmative vote of a majority of the common shares present and voting on the 2003 Plan at the annual meeting of shareholders is required for adoption. Therefore, the effect of a broker non-vote is the same as an abstention.

The Board of Directors recommends a vote FOR adoption of the Phelps Dodge 2003 Stock Option and Restricted Stock Plan.

OTHER BUSINESS

The Board of Directors is not aware of any other matters to be presented at the annual meeting. If any other matter proper for action at the meeting should be presented, the holders of the accompanying proxy will vote the shares represented by the proxy on such matter in accordance with their best judgment. If any matter not proper for action at the meeting should be presented, the holders of the proxy will vote against consideration of the matter or the proposed action.

VOTING PROCEDURES

All shares represented by the accompanying proxy, if the proxy is duly executed and received by the Corporation at or prior to the annual meeting, will be voted at the meeting in accordance with any instructions specified on such proxy. Where no instruction is specified, the shares may be voted according to the printed instructions on the proxy.

It is the policy of the Corporation that, except under limited circumstances, each shareholder proxy card, ballot and voting tabulation that identifies any shareholder will be kept confidential and that the receipt and tabulation of such votes will be conducted by independent third parties, including the Corporation's transfer agent and its proxy solicitation firm, and not by employees of the Corporation.

The cost of soliciting proxies for the meeting will be borne by the Corporation. The Corporation has retained The Proxy Advisory Group of Strategic Stock Surveillance, LLC, 331 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10017, to assist in soliciting proxies for a fee estimated at $12,500 plus reasonable expenses. Strategic Stock Surveillance and some officers and other employees of the Corporation may solicit proxies in person and by telephone or otherwise. The Corporation may also reimburse brokers and others who are record holders of the Corporation's shares for their reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining voting instructions from beneficial owners of such shares.

meeting, the Corporation's proxy holders will have the right to exercise discretionary voting authority with respect to such proposal.

4.1 Number. The stock as to which Options and awards of Restricted Stock may be granted shall be Common Shares. When Options are exercised or Restricted Stock is awarded, the Corporation may either issue unissued Common Shares or transfer issued shares held in its treasury. Subject to adjustment as provided in Section 4.3 below, the total number of Common Shares (i) which may be sold to Employees under the Plan pursuant to Options and (ii) that may be transferred or issued as Restricted Stock pursuant to Section 6 shall not exceed the sum of (A) 3,500,000 Common Shares and (B) the number of Common Shares remaining available for issuance under the Phelps Dodge 1998 Stock Option and Restricted Stock Plan on the Effective Date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the total number of Common Shares that may be transferred or issued hereunder as awards of Restricted Stock pursuant to Section 6 shall not exceed 1,500,000 Common Shares, plus that number of the Common Shares referred to in subclause (B) of the immediately preceding sentence that, on the Effective Date, were available for awards of restricted stock under the Phelps Dodge 1998 Stock Option and Restricted Stock Plan. Any Option settled in cash shall reduce the number of Common Shares under the Plan by the number of shares that would have been issued had the Option been exercised for Common Shares.

4.2 Canceled, Terminated or Forfeited Awards. If, after the Effective Date, an Option granted hereunder or an Option granted under a Predecessor Plan which is outstanding on the date hereof expires, or is terminated, canceled or otherwise surrendered by a Participant prior to its exercise, or if shares of Restricted Stock are returned to the Corporation pursuant to the terms of the Plan or if shares of Restricted Stock awarded under a Predecessor Plan which are still restricted on the date hereof are returned to the Corporation prior to the time at which a Participant's rights become nonforfeitable, the Common Shares covered by such Option immediately prior to such expiration or other termination or the Common Shares affected by such return of Restricted Stock shall be available for future grants under the Plan.

4.3 Adjustment in Capitalization. The number and price of Common Shares covered by each Option, the maximum number of Common Shares that be awarded as Options under Section 3.1 and the total number of Common Shares that may be sold, issued or transferred under the Plan shall be proportionately adjusted to reflect, as deemed equitable and appropriate by the Committee, an Adjustment Event. To the extent deemed equitable and appropriate by the Committee, subject to any required action by stockholders, in any merger, consolidation, reorganization, liquidation, dissolution, or other similar transaction, any Option granted under the Plan shall pertain to the securities and other property to which a holder of the number of Common Shares covered by the Option would have been entitled to receive in connection with such event.

Any shares of stock (whether Common Shares, shares of stock into which Common Shares are converted or for which Common Shares are exchanged or shares of stock distributed with respect to Common Shares) or cash or other property received with respect to any award of Restricted Stock granted under the Plan as a result of any Adjustment Event, any distribution of property or any merger, consolidation, reorganization, liquidation, dissolution or other similar transaction shall, except as provided in Section 6.4 or as otherwise provided by the Committee at or after the date an award of Restricted Stock is made by the Committee, be subject to the same terms and conditions, including restrictions on transfer, as are applicable to such shares of Restricted Stock and any stock certificate(s) representing or evidencing any shares of stock so received shall be legended in substantially the same manner as provided in Section 6.5 hereof.

SECTION 5

STOCK OPTIONS

5.1 Grant of Options. The date of grant of an Option under the Plan will be the date on which the Option is awarded by the Committee or, if so determined by the Committee, the date on which occurs any event the occurrence of which is an express condition precedent to the grant of the Option. The aggregate Fair Market Value of the Common Shares with respect to which Incentive Stock Options are exercisable for the first time by a Participant during any calendar year under the Plan and any other stock option plan of the Corporation or any Subsidiary shall not exceed $100,000 or such other amount as may be subsequently specified by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Options shall be evidenced by instruments in such form or forms as the Committee may from time to time approve.

5.2 Option Price. The Option price per share shall be at or above the Fair Market Value of the optioned shares on the day the Option is granted (as determined under Section 5.1).

5.3 Payment. Upon exercise, the Option price shall be paid (i) in cash, including an assignment of the right to receive cash proceeds of the sale of Common Shares subject to the Option; (ii) in the discretion of the Committee, in already owned Common Shares of the Corporation having a Fair Market Value on the date of exercise equal to such Option price or in a combination of cash and Common Shares or (iii) in accordance with such procedures or in such other form as the Committee shall from time to time determine.

5.4 Term and Exercise of Options. Each Incentive Stock Option shall expire not later than the tenth anniversary of the date of its grant, and each Nonqualified Stock Option shall expire not later than the day after the tenth anniversary of the date of its grant. Options shall become exercisable in three or four substantially equal annual installments commencing on the first anniversary of the date of grant, as the Committee in its discretion shall determine, or at such other times and upon the occurrence of such other events or conditions as the Committee may determine at or after the grant of such Option. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Committee may include in any Option instrument, initially or by amendment at any time, a provision making any installment or installments exercisable at such earlier or later date, or upon the occurrence of such earlier or later event, as may be specified by such provision. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Committee may approve, pursuant to the foregoing sentence, provisions making installments exercisable (i) upon a Participant's Retirement (provided that, in the event that the Participant is retiring prior to his normal retirement date and such retirement is not determined by the Committee to be adverse to the Corporation, such acceleration shall be conditioned upon the execution by the Participant of a release in favor of the Corporation and its affiliates in a form acceptable to the Corporation), (ii) not later than the date the Participant ceases to be employed by the Corporation if he ceases to be so employed within two years following a Change of Control of the Corporation, and (iii) at such time and for such period as the Committee deems appropriate, in the event of a Change of Control. Except as may be provided in any provision approved by the Committee pursuant to this Section 5.4, after becoming exercisable each installment shall remain exercisable until expiration, termination or cancellation of the Option. An Option may be exercised from time to time, in whole or in part, up to the total number of Common Shares with respect to which it is then exercisable.

5.5 Termination of Employment. If the Participant ceases to be employed by the Corporation or a Subsidiary other than by reason of death, Disability, Retirement or the Participant's termination for Cause, all Options granted to him and exercisable on the date of his termination of employment shall terminate on the earlier of such Options' expiration or one month (or such greater period of time, not to exceed one year, determined by the Committee in its sole discretion) after the day his employment ends. If the Participant ceases to be employed on account of Disability or Retirement, all Options granted to him and exercisable on the date of his termination of employment due to Disability or his Retirement shall terminate on the earlier of such Options' expiration or the fifth anniversary of the day of such termination or Retirement. If the Participant's employment is terminated for Cause, all Options granted to such Participant which are then outstanding shall be forfeited. Except as otherwise determined by the Committee at or after grant of any Option, any installment which has not become exercisable prior to the time the Participant ceases to be employed by the Corporation or a Subsidiary other than by reason of death shall lapse and be thenceforth unexercisable. Whether authorized leave of absence or absence in military or governmental service may constitute employment for the purposes of the Plan shall be conclusively determined by the Committee.

5.6 Exercise upon Death of Participant. Each Participant having Nonqualified Stock Options may designate, on such forms as may be approved by the Corporation from time to time, a beneficiary or beneficiaries with respect to the Participant's Nonqualified Stock Options should the Participant die prior to the exercise of the Participant's Nonqualified Stock Options. To be effective, any beneficiary designation forms completed by a Participant must have been delivered to the Corporation. A Participant may change a beneficiary designation by executing and delivering to the Corporation a new beneficiary designation form. Upon receipt of such designation by the Corporation, such designation or change of designation shall be effective as of the date of the notice, regardless of whether the Participant is living at the time the notice is received by the Corporation. If the Participant dies while he is employed by the Corporation or a Subsidiary, his Options may be exercised, for the full number of Common Shares covered thereby for which such Options were not previously exercised, by his estate, personal representative or beneficiary who acquires the Options by beneficiary designation, will or by the applicable laws of descent and distribution, at any time prior to the earlier of the Options' expiration or the fifth anniversary of the Participant's death. Such Options shall terminate upon the earlier of such Options' expiration or the fifth anniversary of such Participant's death. If the Participant dies while he is no longer employed by the Corporation, his Options may be exercised, for the number of Common Shares as to which he could have exercised them on the date of his death, by his estate, personal representative or beneficiary who acquires the Options by beneficiary designation, will or by the applicable laws of descent and distribution, at any time prior to the termination date provided by Section 5.5.

RESTRICTED STOCK

6.1 Grant of Restricted Stock. Any award made hereunder of Restricted Stock shall be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan and to any other terms and conditions not inconsistent with the Plan (including, but not limited to, requiring the Employee to pay the Corporation an amount equal to the par value per share for each share of Restricted Stock awarded) as shall be prescribed by the Committee in its sole discretion. The Committee may require that, as a condition to any award of Restricted Stock under the Plan, the Employee shall have entered into an agreement with the Corporation setting forth the terms and conditions of such award and such other matters as the Committee, in its sole discretion, shall have determined. As determined by the Committee, the Corporation shall either (i) transfer or issue to each Participant to whom an award of Restricted Stock has been made the number of shares of Restricted Stock specified by the Committee or (ii) hold such shares of Restricted Stock for the benefit of the Participant for the Restricted Period.

6.2 Restrictions on Transferability. Shares of Restricted Stock may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged, hypothecated or otherwise encumbered by the Participant during the Restricted Period, except as hereinafter provided.

6.3 Rights as a Shareholder. Except for the restrictions set forth herein and unless otherwise determined by the Committee, the Participant shall have all the rights of a shareholder with respect to such shares of Restricted Stock, including, but not limited to, the right to vote and the right to receive dividends.

6.4 Lapse of Restricted Period. Unless the Committee shall otherwise determine at or after the date an award of Restricted Stock is made to the Participant by the Committee, the Restricted Period shall commence upon the date of grant and shall lapse with respect to the shares of Restricted Stock on the earlier of: (a) the third anniversary of the date of grant, in the case of an award of restricted stock that vests based on the passage of time and the performance of continuous service as an employee, (b) the first anniversary of the date of grant, in the case of a restricted stock award that vests based on the achievement of specified performance criteria or (c) the date of a Change of Control, unless sooner terminated as otherwise provided herein. The determination of whether the Participant has achieved such performance goals shall be made by the Committee in its sole discretion. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if a Participant incurs a tax liability in respect of an award of Restricted Stock prior to the time the Restricted Period would otherwise lapse hereunder (other than by reason of the election by the Participant under the Code to be taxed as the time of grant), the Restricted Period shall lapse on the date such tax liability arises with respect to the number of whole Common Shares having a Fair Market Value at such time no greater than the amount required to satisfy all tax withholding requirements applicable thereto (as determined in accordance with Section 9.3 hereof). Unless the Committee determines otherwise, the Corporation shall withhold such released Common Shares to satisfy such withholding obligations.

6.5 Legend. Each certificate issued to a Participant in respect of shares of Restricted Stock awarded under the Plan shall be registered in the name of the Participant and shall bear the following (or similar) legend:

The shares of stock represented by this certificate are subject to the terms and conditions contained in the Phelps Dodge 2003 Stock Option and Restricted Stock Plan and may not be sold, pledged, transferred, assigned, hypothecated, or otherwise encumbered in any manner until .

6.6 Death, Disability or Retirement. Unless the Committee shall otherwise determine at the date of grant, if a Participant ceases to be employed by the Corporation or any Subsidiary by reason of death, Disability or Retirement, the Restricted Period covering all shares of Restricted Stock transferred or issued to such Participant under the Plan shall immediately lapse.

6.7 Termination of Employment. Unless the Committee shall otherwise determine at or after the date of grant, if a Participant ceases to be employed by the Corporation or any Subsidiary for any reason other than those specified in Section 6.6 at any time prior to the date when the Restricted Period lapses, all shares of Restricted Stock owned by such Participant shall revert back to the Corporation upon the Participant's termination of employment. Whether authorized leave of absence or absence in military or government service may constitute employment for the purposes of the Plan shall be conclusively determined by the Committee.

6.8 Issuance of New Certificates. Upon the lapse of the Restricted Period with respect to any shares of Restricted Stock, such shares shall no longer be subject to the restrictions imposed under Section 6.2 and the Corporation shall issue or have issued new share certificates without the legend described in Section 6.5 in exchange for those previously issued.

SECTION 7

TERMINATION AND AMENDMENT OF PLAN

The Board may terminate or amend the Plan in any respect at any time, except that without the approval of the holders of a majority of Common Shares present and voting on the proposal at a meeting of shareholders, the total number of shares that may be sold, issued or transferred under the Plan may not be increased (except by adjustment pursuant to Section 4.3), the category of persons eligible to receive Options and shares of Restricted Stock may not be changed, the purchase price at which shares may be offered pursuant to Options may not be reduced (except by adjustment pursuant to Section 4.3) and the expiration date of the Plan may not be extended. No action of the Board or shareholders, however, may, without the consent of a Participant alter or impair his rights under any Option or award of Restricted Stock previously granted.

APPLICABILITY OF PLAN TO GRANTS UNDER PREDECESSOR PLANS

The provisions of the Plan relating to Options and Restricted Stock grants shall apply to, and govern, existing Option and restricted stock grants made under the Predecessor Plans as if such awards were granted hereunder (except that no such awards shall count against the share limit set forth in Section 4.1) and such Options and restricted stock grants shall, where appropriate, be deemed to have been amended to provide any additional rights, subject in the case of Options and restricted stock grants outstanding as of the date of adoption of this Plan by the Board, to the right of an affected Participant to consent to the application of such amendments to such grants as provided in Section 7.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

9.1 Nontransferability of Awards. Unless the Committee otherwise determines at or after grant to permit any award made hereunder to be transferable to the Immediate Family Members of a Participant, an award granted under the Plan may not be sold, transferred, pledged, assigned or otherwise alienated or hypothecated, other than in accordance with a beneficiary designation effective on the death of the Participant, by will or by the applicable laws of descent and distribution. All rights with respect to awards granted to a Participant under the Plan shall be exercisable during his lifetime only by such Participant.

9.2 Securities Law Compliance. Instruments evidencing Options or awards of Restricted Stock may contain such provisions as the Committee deems appropriate in respect of any securities laws and such other provisions, not inconsistent with the Plan, as the Committee deems advisable. Common Shares received pursuant to the Plan shall be transferable only if the proposed transfer will be in compliance with applicable securities laws.

9.3 Tax Withholding. The Corporation shall have the power to withhold, or require a Participant to remit to the Corporation promptly upon notification of the amount due, an amount sufficient to satisfy Federal, state and local withholding tax requirements on any award under the Plan, and the Corporation may defer payment of cash or issuance or delivery of Common Shares until such requirements are satisfied. Subject to any required withholding of Common Shares pursuant to Section 6.4, the Committee may, in its discretion, permit a Participant to elect, subject to such conditions as the Committee shall impose, (i) to have Common Shares otherwise issuable or deliverable under the Plan withheld by the Corporation or (ii) to deliver to the Corporation previously acquired shares of Stock, in each case, having a Fair Market Value sufficient to satisfy all or part of the minimum amount of the Participant's total Federal, state and local tax withholding obligation associated with the transaction.

9.4 Term of Plan. This Plan shall be effective as of the date of approval by the holders of the Common Shares at the 2003 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. This Plan shall expire on March 31, 2013 (except as to Options and Restricted Stock outstanding on that date), unless sooner terminated pursuant to Section 7 of the Plan.

9.5 Governing Law. The Plan, and all Agreements hereunder, shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.
