SUNTRUST DISAPPOINTED BY WACHOVIA'S REJECTION OF HIGHER OFFER

Will Proceed With Its Superior Proposal And Solicit Wachovia Shareholders
To Vote Against Low-Premium First Union Transaction

Initiating Litigation Against Wachovia Directors, Wachovia, and First Union

Atlanta, May 22, 2001 -- SunTrust Banks, Inc. (NYSE: STI) announced today that it is proceeding with its superior proposal to merge with Wachovia Corporation (NYSE: WB) and will continue with its plan to solicit Wachovia shareholders to vote against the low-premium transaction proposed by First Union Corporation (NYSE: FTU).

L. Phillip Humann, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of SunTrust, said, "It is difficult to understand how the Wachovia Board can conclude that our offer is not superior to First Union's transaction. The SunTrust proposal offers a higher current value, a simpler and better dividend, a stronger currency, and lower execution risk. Our proposal is also more favorable for Wachovia's employees and communities, especially those in North Carolina and South Carolina. We are particularly disappointed that the Wachovia Board made its decision without talking to us, as it was clearly permitted to do under its agreement with First Union. The fact that the First Union/Wachovia agreement has already been amended twice says a lot about the inferiority of the First Union proposal. Despite those amendments, the First Union/Wachovia transaction still provides lower value to Wachovia shareholders. Fortunately, the Wachovia shareholders will have the chance to express their view on which proposal they believe is better."

SunTrust is initiating litigation in state court in Georgia against members of the Wachovia Board, Wachovia and First Union challenging, among other things, the validity of the stock option that Wachovia granted to First Union because it contains a number of unprecedented and egregious features. SunTrust is also initiating litigation in federal court in Georgia against First Union and Wachovia claiming, among other things, that their public disclosures concerning their transaction are materially false and misleading in several important respects. SunTrust will file shortly the necessary regulatory applications in connection with its merger proposal.

On May 14, 2001, SunTrust submitted a merger proposal to Wachovia pursuant to which Wachovia shareholders would receive 1.081 shares of SunTrust common stock for each Wachovia share. In addition, SunTrust would increase its annual per share dividend to $2.22 so that Wachovia stockholders would receive on a pro forma equivalent basis the same $2.40 annual per share dividend they currently receive.

SUNTRUST FILES LITIGATION AGAINST WACHOVIA DIRECTORS, WACHOVIA, AND FIRST UNION IN CONNECTION WITH PROPOSED TRANSACTION

Atlanta, May 23, 2001 -- SunTrust Banks, Inc. (NYSE: STI) announced today that it has filed federal and state litigation against Wachovia Corporation (NYSE: WB) and First Union Corporation (NYSE: FTU) in connection with their proposed low-premium transaction.

SunTrust filed litigation in state court in Georgia against members of the Wachovia Board of Directors, Wachovia and First Union challenging the validity of the stock option that Wachovia granted to First Union. SunTrust said the option contains a number of unprecedented features that give the option a minimum value of $780 million in the event Wachovia consummates a merger with a third party - and a potential value materially in excess of $1 billion. In addition, because the option can be exercised with non-cash consideration, First Union could saddle Wachovia with roughly $2.5 billion of undesirable assets as payment for the option shares.

Edgar Filing: WACHOVIA CORP/ NC - Form 425

SunTrust said that the option, even at a $780 million value, represents an egregious break-up fee relative to the size of the First Union transaction, compared to what is usual and customary practice in merger and acquisition transactions. SunTrust said that the stock option serves no purpose other than to attempt to lock up the low-premium First Union transaction. SunTrust is also challenging a feature of Wachovia's merger agreement with First Union that would prevent Wachovia from terminating that agreement until January 16, 2002, even if Wachovia shareholders vote down the First Union transaction well before that date.

SunTrust also filed litigation in federal court in Georgia against First Union and Wachovia. SunTrust claims that certain of First Union's and Wachovia's public disclosures concerning their transaction are materially false and misleading in several important respects. In particular, they have misled the market into believing the option has a $780 million "cap" on its value when in fact the option was deliberately designed to have a minimum value of $780 million and potentially a substantially higher value.

"While we regret having to resort to litigation, we firmly believe that serious errors in business judgment were committed in connection with Wachovia's proposed transaction with First Union," said L. Phillip Humann, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of SunTrust. "We know the difference between deal protection mechanisms that are normal and customary - and lock-up devices that are clearly out of bounds. The lock-up option granted by Wachovia to First Union contains features that are unprecedented - and the $780 million minimum penalty that applies in the event Wachovia merges with a third party, at roughly 6% of First Union's deal value, is off the charts compared to typical merger termination fees."

Mr. Humann added, "Apart from the size of the penalty embedded in the lock-up option, we find it incredible that the board of directors of Wachovia could possibly put itself in the position of issuing more than $2.5 billion worth of its common stock to First Union in exchange for assets of unknown identity and as to which it has performed no due diligence. If the Wachovia Board truly understands how this option works, we question the rational business purpose behind granting a scorched earth option in order to lock-up a low-premium deal, the benefits of which are purely speculative. If the Wachovia Board didn't understand the workings of the option it granted First Union, then we suppose that would speak for itself."
